

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. The Secretary read the names placed in nomination for vacancies on the "Standing Committee," and for the "Missionary Committee and Trustees of the Diocesan Missions of Long Island."

The Rev. Mr. Fleming moved that in view of the fact that there was only one nomination for each of the vacancies in the "Missionary Committee and Trustees of the Diocesan Missions of Long Island" that the Secretary be instructed to cast one ballot for them. Carried unanimously.

The Secretary cast the ballot and the Bishop announced their election. The polls were declared open and the Convention proceeded to the election of members for the "Standing Committee."

The Rev. Dr. Jones read the report of the Social Service Committee:

The Second Day.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE OF THE DIOCESE OF LONG ISLAND.

The Committee was organized for its year's work at a meeting held at the Diocesan House, 170 Remsen Street, Brooklyn, on Wednesday, June 12, 1907, at 4 P. M. The Bishop is President ex-officio. The following officers were elected:

Chairman—The Rev. James Clarence Jones, Ph.D.

Secretary—The Rev. William Sheafe Chase.

Treasurer—Col. Edward Barr.

The following changes in the membership of the Committee were announced:

Mr. Asbury to take the place of Mr. Davis as a member of the Section on the Family.

Mr. Elliot in the place of the Rev. Mr. Sparks, in the Section on Vice.

Dr. Pardee to take the place of Mr. Henry Wessels, in the Section on Vice.

Two years ago your Committee was instrumental in placing a probation officer in the Children's Court, and in securing a contribution to pay part of the salary. In October last, the salary was $178 in arrears. Our Finance Committee was authorized to solicit contributions to meet this obligation. In this effort they were successful, and later the Board of Estimate of the City of New York was requested to make an appropriation of $1,200 a year for the permanent maintenance of such an officer. After some delay, the request was granted and our agent was appointed to the position and is still at work.

On June 12th, a letter was received from the District Attorney in which he expressed his appreciation of the action of the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island in the matter of race-track gambling. At a later meeting the following was adopted:

"Resolved, That the Social Service Committee endorses Governor Hughes' recommendation to the State Legislature concerning its duty to enact appropriate laws to prevent race-track gambling as required by Section IX of Article I in the Constitution of the State, and recommending the repeal of that provision in the Percy-Gray law whereby a different kind of penalty is imposed upon race-track gambling from that imposed on other kinds of gambling."

Another resolution was passed endorsing the bills at that time introduced by Senator Agnew and Assemblyman Hart, providing for the carrying out of the recommendations of the Governor concerning the laws against gambling. The campaign against this evil had then just begun. Since then, your Committee has taken every opportunity of sustaining the action taken by this Convention last year, and has sought to uphold the hands of the Governor and other officials in their attempt to wipe out this evil. We feel that our action in conjunction with similar action by other bodies has been influential in bringing the issue to a head.

The Industrial Section reported as follows:

We desire to call the attention of the members of the Convention to the report which the joint commission on the relations of capital and labor made to the last General Convention.

The report calls attention to the following items:

1. Child labor, saying that the labor of young children under factory conditions is a plain menace to child life.
2. The ignorance of clergy and laity in regard to the aim and spirit of labor organizations.
3. Social Service Committees are recommended with representation in a central labor body, to promote fraternal relations where distrust and ignorance usually prevail. The example of the Diocese of Long Island is recommended to other dioceses.

The report also calls attention to the work of the Rev. Mr. Stelzle, of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, and practically suggests the adoption of his plan in the work of our church in relation to the labor question. In furtherance of that plan the Convention has made the commission permanent and has authorized it to promote the co-ordination of the various organizations existing in the church in the interests of social questions, such as the C. A. I. L., the Christian Social Union and Social Service Committees, like ours. It also gave them power to deal with the problems arising from the social questions according to their discretion. In the near future, therefore, we may expect that this central body will call us into co-operation with similar committees in other dioceses, and will give us valuable suggestions as to how our work along lines of the labor problem especially may be enlarged and made more effective.

In this connection it is interesting to note the plans which the Diocese of New York is considering. It borrowed the outline of our organization as a Social Service Committee. Upon this as a foundation, it is erecting an organization to meet the labor problem which is worthy of watching and perhaps adopting later. Our weakness at present is that only one clergyman of our Committee and Diocese is the bridge of approach between organized labor and the Church. This one individual gets something from this contact with the leaders of the union, and he tries to hand on to the Committee what he receives and the Committee once a year try to hand it on to the Diocese. But it is becoming increasingly clear that one little bridge across the gulf which at present seems to separate the church and the rank and file of the working people will create very little sympathy where much is needed on both sides. New York therefore proposes to divide the Diocese into many labor sections and to have the church represented in every labor district where a clergyman will be received. In this way many bridges will be thrown across the gulf. In one of our former reports we suggested that clergymen of their own accord seek access to the unions in their own localities. So far as we have heard, no one followed out this suggestion. The plan of the New York Social Service Committee proposes to arrange to have this done in every section of the diocese. With such organizations in every diocese where the labor problem is acute, under the supervision and direction of a central commission of the church, much good might be accomplished for Church and Labor.

The Section on Sunday Observance represented us at the hearing upon the Mooney-Thompson Bill, which permitted baseball business on Sunday, when held before the Mayor on June 12th, and which resulted in a veto of the bill by the Mayor. The same section also reported that an attempt had been made to remove the words "Christ" and "Christmas" from the Christmas exercises in the Public School, and that the Board of Education had declared that it had not authorized any such order.

At our meeting on the afternoon of April 22d, the Committee voted to recommend again to this Convention the importance of the proposal that the State provide a system of direct nomination of party candidates. A much needed political reform which has been successfully adopted in Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin. It was decided to recommend the members of this Convention to use their influence to secure the adoption of some such system in the State of New York.

At the same meeting, it was resolved to commend to this Convention the general provisions of Assembly Bill No. 2186, introduced on April 9, 1908, providing that, "a person who, as owner, manager, director, agent, or in any other capacity, prepares, advertises, gives, presents, or participates in any obscene, indecent, immoral or impure play, theatrical exhibition, show or entertainment, manifestly tending to the corruption of the morals of youth, and every owner, lessee of any garden, building or other room, place or structure, who leases or lets the same for the purpose of any such exhibition, or who assents to the use of the same for any such purpose, if it be so used, is guilty of a misdemeanor." And further providing that, "Any person who shall expose, display, post up, exhibit, paint, print, or mark, or place, or cause to be placed any placard, poster, bill or picture, in or on any building, bill-board, wall or fence or on any street, or in or upon any public place, manifestly tending to the corruption of the morals of youth, or which shall be of lewd, indecent, immoral, immodest, vulgar or suggestive character, calculated to debauch the public, or shock the sense of decency or propriety is guilty of a misdemeanor."

The Bishop of the Diocese referred to this Committee a letter from Mr. M. Clay Preston, Secretary and Superintendent of the Brooklyn Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, in which it was stated that it has been well known for a long time to all persons identified with the rescue work of delinquent and immoral girls, that, owing to the lack of adequate institutions for the care of this class of children many of them are sent back to their homes, or returned to the evil environments from which they had been rescued, and all because institutions are not provided for their care. At the present time, there is only one such institution, other than Roman Catholic, in Greater New York, viz: the Protestant Episcopal House of Mercy, which is under the management of Sister Gertrude. It is doing splendid work, but can only meet a small portion of the demands made upon it. Mr. Preston avers that there is a special need in the Borough of Brooklyn for an institution that would provide the proper reformatory treatment for girls of this class, and that care should be taken to provide homes for the different stages of delinquency. The letter closes with the following question: "Is this condition not a sufficiently grave one to merit your interest and to bring the matter to the attention of those who may be interested in the saving of the children?"

The Second Day.

It was determined to recommend to this Convention the adoption of the following:

"Resolved, That a special committee of two clergymen and two laymen be appointed to investigate the unfortunate conditions concerning the lack of proper institutions for the intelligent treatment of delinquent girls under sixteen years of age referred to the Bishop of this Diocese by the Brooklyn Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, on April 21, 1908, and this Committee be instructed to report to the next Convention. And that, in the meantime, the Committee be empowered to raise funds for and take such action as may seem necessary concerning special cases which may be referred to the Diocesan authorities during the coming year.

SECTION OF REPORT PROPOSED BY THE REV. MR. CHASE-

Very great progress has been made during the past year in the attempt of the Committee in accordance with the expressed desires of the Actor's Society of America and of the Brooklyn Central Labor Union to secure the enforcement of the Sunday laws.

On May 10, 1907, and on October 12, 1907, Supreme Court Justice Kelly rendered decisions declaring that Sunday moving picture shows were illegal under 263 of the Penal Code. Supreme Court Justice — upon a rehearing agreed with him. On November 12th moving picture and all theatrical shows were declared by Supreme Court Aspinall to be contrary to 263 of the Penal Code.

The November Grand Jury had special detectives sent to all the Sunday shows, and upon a report of their investigations and conference with Deputy Commissioner O'Keefe, directed him to enforce the laws against Sunday shows.

The Second Day.

Judge Dike instructed the December Grand Jury of Kings County at the laws clearly forbade Sunday shows.

On December 3d Judge O'Gorman of the Supreme Court rendered decision upon the petition of the Corporation Counsel under 1481 of the City Charter that the license of the Hammerstein Victoria Theatre be revoked in which he ruled that all performances in theatres or other places of public amusements on Sunday were prohibited.

Following Judge O'Gorman's decision, an ordinance was proposed by Alderman Doull, repealing 1481 of the City Charter, and permitting vocal and instrumental concerts and recitations. One of the most largely attended hearings ever given in City Hall was held before the Aldermanic Committee on Law and Legislation. The Committee were convinced of the danger that the Doull ordinance would not be enforced and reported against it and proposed a substitute permitting Sunday concerts in such a way that the managers would have had to obey the law. By a party vote, the report of the Committee was rejected and the Doull Ordinance was adopted, and later signed by the Mayor, who refused to grant a hearing. The Doull Ordinance is being disobeyed, and regular performances with theatrical costumes and sketches which are dramatic performances forbidden by the Doull Ordinance and the Penal Code, are permitted by the police. As the Doull Ordinance permits an unnecessary business on Sunday, which is forbidden by the Penal Code of the State, various bills were presented at Albany, attempting to give State authority to the Sunday concert and Sunday vaudeville, as well legalizing Sunday baseball business, and permitting the Jews not only to labor on Sunday as the law permits, but also to buy and sell, and open their stores. But 1 of these proposed bills allowing Sunday business were killed in Committee.

After Judge O'Gorman's decision, a large number of moving picture shows applied to the Supreme Court for injunctions to restrain the police from closing their Sunday performances, on the ground that Section 263 referred to outdoor and not to indoor shows.

Justice Davis on January 22, 1908, granted a temporary injunction and said that he, with Mr. Justice Greenbaum, thought the Section only referred to outdoor shows, but asked that the matter be referred to the Appellate Division.

On May 8, 1908, the Appellate Division denied all of these injunctions, and expressed a very strong opinion that a Court of Equity had no power to grant an injunction restraining the police from enforcing the law as they understood it, but gave no decision as to the legality of Sunday moving picture shows.

Judge Foote on March 17, 1908, denied an application to restrain the police from closing Sunday moving picture shows in Cook Opera House. He took under consideration Judge Davis' and Judge Gr baum's opinion that Section 263 of the Penal Code forbade only outdoor shows and decided that it could not be correct, but that all of entertainment and public show business are forbidden on Sunday

The Rev. Dr. Jones, for the Committee on Social Service offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a special committee of two clergymen and two lay be appointed to investigate the unfortunate conditions concerning lack of proper institutions for the intelligent treatment of delinquent girls under sixteen years of age, referred to the Bishop of the Diocese by the Brooklyn Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Children, that the Committee be instructed to report to the next Convention.

Carried.

Resolved, That in the meantime this Committee be empowered to collect funds and take such action as may seem necessary concerning special cases which may be referred to the Diocesan authorities during the coming year.

He then moved that the Secretary of the Convention be directed to communicate with the Secretaries of the other Dioceses in this State to see whether there be objection to taking steps for such a change in the law, and report back to the next Convention.

This motion was lost.

The Rev. Dr. Alsop for Committee on Canons reported:

The Committee on Canons to whom was referred the proposition of Rev. Mr. Waller that inasmuch as there are three different definitions of the word "Communicant," therefore the Committee be instructed to insert in the Preliminary Canon a definition of the word "Communicant"—respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration and recommend that any such definition be deferred until the General Church has completed its legislation on the subject, now in the hands of a joint Committee. They offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

Carried.

The Rev. Dr. Alsop for Committee on Canons reported as follows:

In regard to the amendment to Section 1 of Article III of the Constitution, offered by the Rev. Dr. Jones, the Committee reports, that in its judgment the proposed amendment to the Constitution is inexpedient for the reason that the Constitution already generally declares who shall be members of the Convention, namely, the bishops, all ministers canonically resident in the diocese, and not exceeding three lay delegates from the Cathedral and each church or congregation in union with the church in the diocese.

That the qualifications for lay delegates is defined by Sub-division 4 of Canon 2, and that any change in such qualifications should be provided for by amendment to the Canon, rather than by change in the Constitution. Therefore, be it Resolved, That the Committee on Canons be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

This motion was lost.

The Rev. Dr. Alsop for Committee on Canons reported on changes in Canon 10, Section X, proposed by the Rev. Mr. Baer, and moved that the proposed changes be made.

Carried.

The Rev. Mr. Wright presented the Report of Trustees of Fund for Families of Deceased Clergymen.

Report

OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE FUND FOR THE FAMILIES OF DECEASED CLERGYMEN OF THE PROTESTANT EPIS-COPAL CHURCH OF THE DIOCESE OF LONG ISLAND.

The Trustees of the Fund for the Families of Deceased Clergymen of the Diocese of Long Island respectfully report:

That during the current year one family has been added to the beneficiaries of this fund. While our expenditures have thus increased our

The Second Day.

Income has greatly diminished. This year we received $1,095.76, whereas last year we received $1,678.95, besides the $458.98 from the funds for Clergymen's Families, Widows and Orphans. This smaller revenue is insufficient to meet our annual disbursements as they now stand, and unless our income increases we shall be obliged to begin to deplete our already very scanty surplus.

While the Trustees believe that this decrease in the offerings is largely the result of an industrial depression which is probably only temporary, yet, in view of the ever-increasing demands of an ecclesiastical organization which is continually becoming more complex, we cannot but feel anxious lest the necessities and distress of the bereaved families of our deceased clergy should be too much forgotten. There are seventy-eight (78) congregations which contributed nothing to this fund in spite of the law making such contribution a canonical requirement. Attention is called to the custom of dividing a collection and giving only a half or a third of it to this fund. The Trustees do not believe that this satisfies the provisions of a canon which requires not a part of a collection but a collection to be made for this fund. It is very urgently recommended that during the ensuing year those parishes which have not contributed in the past will make an offering for this fund, and that those parishes which did contribute last year will make an effort next year to increase their donations.

FREDERICK A. WRIGHT, Secretary.

The report of the treasurer of the fund is appended.

T. G. JACKSON, Secretary.

It being the hour of noon, the Bishop requested the Convention to join in prayer for Missions.

The Rev. Dr. Jones again offered his resolution to amend Article III, Section 1, of the Constitution.

The Second Day.

Resolved, That Article III, Section 1, of the Constitution be amended, as follows:

"Between the words 'of' and 'lay' insert the words 'baptized and confirmed'; also between the words 'delegates' and 'not,' insert the words 'who are actual communicants,' so that the section shall read:

"Section 1. The Convention shall be composed of the Bishop, the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, and of all ministers canonically resident in the Diocese and of all baptized and confirmed lay delegates who are actual communicants, not exceeding three in number from the Cathedral and each Church or congregation admitted into union with the Church in this Diocese."

Seconded by Mr. Melish.

Mr. E. D. Litchfield proposed the following amendment which was accepted by the Rev. Dr. Jones:

Provided, further, that no layman who has not already been received as a member of the Convention of this Diocese shall be eligible unless he has been baptized, confirmed and is a regular communicant of this Church.

This motion as amended was lost.

At 1 P. M. Convention adjourned for luncheon at Garden City Hotel to re-assemble at 2.30 P. M.

SECOND DAY—AFTERNOON.

The President called Convention to order at 2.40 P. M.

The Report of the American Church Building Fund was presented by the Rev. Mr. Baer.

The Diocesan Committee present herewith their report for the past year. One parish completed its apportionment and thirteen parishes contributed. This Diocese has founded three memorial named funds and has the bequest of Colonel Martin.

The permanent fund now amounts to $444,621.37, including The Winner $50,000, or $394,621.37 active capital. The Winner matter now being process of adjustment.

1. This Fund is permanent, and will continue doing its work.
2. The object is necessary to Church extension, and to the establishment of religious influences in sparsely settled portions of the land.
3. The plan is no experiment. In England the Church Building Society has done splendid work. And our own Commission can show a record of twenty-six years of faithful and efficient service.
4. The business affairs of the Commission are managed by experienced business men, elected by the Commission at large, and having the confidence of the entire community.

The Second Day.

The Rev. Mr. Baer presented report of Sunday School Commission of the Diocese.

The Sunday School Commission beg to report that a meeting of Clergy and Superintendents was held in October, with most profitable discussion; that a meeting for Sunday School workers was held in January at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Brooklyn; that there has been distributed the report of the Committee of the General Convention on Sunday school work. At the time of the discussion of "Christmas in the public schools," letters were sent to the Clergy requesting them, if convenient, to hold a festival religious service for the children in anticipation of Christmas Day, that the religious idea might be emphasized, and this was done in many cases. We report a growing interest in the subject of teacher training, which will undoubtedly add greatly to the efficiency of this work.

CHARLES H. FULLER, Secretary.

The Rev. Mr. Hester presented report of the Clergymen's Pension and Retiring Fund.

Report

OF THE CLERGYMEN'S PENSION AND RETIRING FUND.

This Fund is authorized by Canon 11 of the Diocese of Long Island, and incorporated under the Laws of the State of New York. Its object is to provide pensions for clergymen of the Diocese who have attained to the age of sixty-five years. The recipients of its bounty are not to be subjected to any questioning or examination as to financial status. Whatever grants are made under its provisions are not to be considered doles of charity or as favors to be sought, but as rights conferred and payments made in recognition of faithful service. The pension system needs no justification. It is in full and effective operation in many different spheres where time and laudable service is appreciated and rewarded. The national, State and municipal governments are not neglectful of those who serve them well. The Carnegie Foundation provides for aged professors in educational institutions. Fraternal organizations are careful to save their members from poverty and want in their latter days. The old horse of the City's Fire Department is fed at public expense when no longer able to work. The old clergyman, unable by reason of meager stipend to lay by anything to insure him comfort and support when physical weakness or infirmity incapacitates him or the duties of his sacred office, is too often turned out or left alone to struggle and starve for the bare necessities of existence. Such discrimination against him spells injustice and ingratitude, and may be averted by increase of this Fund. Gratifying progress has been made in this direction. May, 1907, a total of $704.99 was reported. At the close of the second year of its existence the Fund amounts to $1,300. There has been no expenditure or expense chargeable against it since its origin. The Treasurer, Mr. Fred. T. Sherman, is ever ready to acknowledge offerings, and with the Trustees trusts that those disposed to aid worthy objects will remember this Fund by gifts, bequests and commendation.

The Second Day.

The Trustees desire to put on record their regret at the loss of the services of the Rev. Henry T. Scudder, who fathered and steered their undertaking through its initiatory stages, occasioned by his removal from the Diocese to accept a call as Rector of Tarrytown, N. Y.

The Second Day.

The Rev. Dr. Alsop (for Mr. Henry E. Pierrepont, Treasurer of the fund for this Diocese) presented the report of the Men's Work Offering for this Diocese. It was ordered placed on file.

Mr. P. Litchfield moved that the Committee on Incorporation Admission of Churches report on St. Luke's, Easthampton. Carried.

The Rev. Mr. Norris reported for Committee that the papers were correct, but that thirty days' notice required by the canons had not been fulfilled by the parish.

The Rev. Dr. Rogers moved that the application for admission of St. Luke's Church, Easthampton, be laid on the table. Carried.

The Rev. Dr. Jackson presented the Report of the Church Charity Foundation and other Benevolent Institutions.

Report

THE COMMITTEE ON THE CHURCH CHARITY FOUNDATION AND OTHER BENEVOLENT INSTITUTIONS.

1908.—The several Institutions have been visited for the purpose of report. The conditions found were gratifying so far as the amount and quality of the work done is concerned; but this work should be made more effective to the several executives by a more general and enthusiastic financial support.

We suggest, as a stimulus to greater enthusiasm and better support, that the members of the Convention make at least one visit each year to these Institutions and thus become better acquainted with the workings of the same. It would be time well spent, as these being Diocesan Institutions, we should take a hearty individual interest in their well being.

In one case there is special cause for anxiety, that of the "House of St. Giles the Cripple."

"House of St. Giles the Cripple."—This most useful work of caring for the crippled children is still going on, and must be continued in spite of the serious problem to be solved.

The long-time home at 417-419 Clinton Street has been closed: its buildings condemned by the city authorities. Fortunately the order to close came at a time when all the children could be taken to the summer home at Garden City.

This, however, can only be a temporary arrangement, the house being entirely unsuited for winter occupancy. The best plan under the conditions present is the selling of the entire property on Clinton Street, purchasing a suitable lot and building a home, elsewhere in the city.

We understand that an offer of fourteen thousand ($14,000) dollars for the Clinton Street property has been made. There are mortgages to the amount of eleven thousand ($11,000) dollars against it, leaving an equity of only three thousand ($3,000) dollars, which would mean that nothing would be realized, as a loan of three thousand ($3,000) dollars must be paid.

Here is surely a great opportunity! Who will meet it? The Trustees must depend upon some friend to come to the rescue. After the many years of sacrifice in time and energy and support given this hospital by its originators, we earnestly trust its work shall not be allowed to suffer, but that the Diocese as a whole will rally to its aid, and build it a new home, where its work can be as efficiently carried on in the future as it has been in the past.

There are 67 inmates, and during the past year 12 have been discharged as improved; three as not improved; two as cured, and one on account of having reached the age limit.

Mr. George Wistar Kirke, who has given many years of tireless and unselfish work in the interest of St. Giles, has resigned the Treasurer-ship, and the Rev. Paul F. Swett has been elected in his stead.

The Sheltering Arms Nursery.—In its splendid works of love and mercy, is one that at once impresses the visitor to do something toward the betterment of those poor, helpless children, who silently yet strongly appeal to us by reason of their utter dependence upon others.

It is most gratifying to note the progress, made from year to year, in this well-managed institution, although it is not kept before the public by a continual round of appeals.

The Nursery has, during the past year, admitted 103, discharged 80, five have died, and there are now 76 inmates.

The physicians report the general health as good. An infirmary and outfit complete has been added. Thanks are due one of the Trustees, who generously donated six thousand ($6,000) dollars for this purpose.

The Endowment Fund amounts to about fifty-two thousand four hundred and fifty ($52,450.00) dollars. The receipts for the year seven thousand three hundred and eighty-nine ($7,389.44) dollars and forty-four cents, with the balance on hand make a total of nine thousand two hundred and sixteen ($9,216.03) dollars and three cents. The gross expenditure was seven thousand three hundred and seventy-three ($7,373.03) dollars and three cents, leaving a working balance of one thousand eight hundred and forty-three ($1,843.00) dollars.

The Board of Lady Managers have every reason to be satisfied with the results of the past year's work, while the care of the Institution by the matron and her assistants is worthy of the highest commendation.

St. Phebe's Mission has prospered in its settlement work, co-operating with the Sheltering Arms Nursery, the Bureau of Charities, the Society for Improving the Condition of the Poor, the Young Women's Christian Association, and many hospitals.

The successful work done by its multifarious departments proves its object. Owing to changing the date of ending of the fiscal year from April 1st to October 1st this report covers a period of eighteen months, during which time some 25,645 persons have attended the various classes and 858 neighborhood calls have been made.

A small Endowment Fund provides for a third of the yearly expenses; amounts to about four thousand five hundred ($4,500.00) dollars, the balance is met by voluntary contributions from churches and individuals. The total receipts amounted to eight thousand five hundred and fifty ($8,550.71) dollars and seventy-one cents, and the expenditure to eight thousand four hundred and ten ($8,410.02) dollars and two cents, leaving surplus on October 1, 1907, of one hundred and forty ($140.69) dollars and sixty-nine cents.

The Church Charity Foundation, embracing St. John's Hospital, the Orphan Home, the Home for the Aged, the Home for the Blind, the Sisters' House and Nurses' Cottages, has, during the past year, continued its work with unabated zeal, although its income has diminished and many extra and heavy expenses been laid upon it.

The donations from churches is too large a percentage below those of the same period of the previous report, due in part, we think, to the financial depression.

The earnings of the Hospital have also been less, while the necessary expenses have increased; the advance in price of the staple articles of food demanding a larger outlay; also extensive repairs to the buildings. These repairs were made under compulsion of the inspectors, and many more should be done at once in the Home for the Aged and in the Orphanage, for which necessary repairs at least fifteen hundred ($1,500) dollars are required.

In addition to the repairs ordered by the inspectors, others, together with certain improvements, have been accomplished, involving an outlay of some one thousand five hundred ($1,500) dollars more. This provided for interior repairs to the Hospital, a new piazza, a new ambulance, and in addition to and the remodeling of the barn. These additional repairs have been paid for, however, by special donations.

In spite of the diminished income and increased expenditure, the work of the Foundation has been carried on with remarkable ability.

In the Orphanage the number of inmates has greatly increased, and with this an increase of expenses, yet the income is also larger—the city paying in part for those sent by it to the Home.

We are pleased to be able to report that the Endowment Fund has, during the past year, been increased by the sum of nineteen thousand two hundred and fifteen ($19,215.00) dollars, making the total of this Fund three hundred and sixty-four thousand, nine hundred and fourteen ($364,914.15) dollars and fifteen cents, earning a yearly income of sixteen thousand eight hundred and eighty-two ($16,882.43) dollars and forty-three cents. The total receipts for the year were sixty-seven thousand six hundred and eighty-four ($67,684.92) dollars and ninety-two cents. The total expenditures were sixty-eight thousand five hundred and twenty-one ($68,521.99) dollars and ninety-nine cents, leaving a deficit for the period of eight hundred and thirty-seven ($837.07) dollars and seven cents. But with the good balance from last year of one thousand three hundred and twenty ($1,320.03) dollars and three cents, the financial year closed with a surplus of four hundred and eighty-two ($482.96) dollars and ninety-six cents.

But gifts many and large are now needed to meet present increasing expenses, and we have faith that the friends of the Foundation and the churches of the Diocese will come to its support and enable it to continue its work with the same characteristic energy that has marked the progress of this Institution under the devotion and painstaking care of its present Superintendent.

DEED No. 28.—June 24, 1905, from Frederick Burgess to Diocesan Missions of Long Island for a parcel of land in Lynbrook, Town of Hempstead, County of Nassau, N. Y., on northerly side of Merrick Road.

DEED No. 29.—April 23, 1906, from Hamilton W. Pearsall and Amanda Pearsall, his wife, also another deed, same date, covering same property from Hamilton W. Pearsall and John T. Davison as executors of the last will and testament of Henry Pearsall, deceased, to the Diocesan Missions of Long Island, for a 50x130 foot lot on westerly side of Earl Avenue, in Lynbrook, Town of Hempstead, County of Nassau, N. Y.

BILL OF SALE No 30.—September 27, 1906, for a building in Sagaponack, Suffolk County, N. Y., for St. Ann's Church, Bridgehampton.

DEED No. 31.—July 2, 1907, from William E. Ronk and M. Emma Ronk, his wife, to Diocesan Missions of Long Island, for corner lot Seventeenth Avenue and 75th Street, Brooklyn, Kings County, N. Y.

Since the last report three pieces of property have been transferred to the Corporation, as above.

At the last Convention you passed a resolution voting $1,000.00 toward the support of the Diocesan Mission House, at 170 Remsen Street, Brooklyn.

Mr. Orr, your treasurer, said you had passed the resolution but had provided no way of raising the funds.

It is hardly necessary to say that the Diocese should try and, above all things, provide for the support of this House. It is the Bishop's office; it is the office of the Archdeacons, and it provides an office for every society in the Diocese; in fact, it provides an office for every member of the Church in the Diocese.

The Bishop has donated $1,500.00 from the income of the Maurice Fund and it needs just about $1,000.00 more to keep its running expenses paid promptly.

Until you provide for the support of this House it is impossible to establish our credit, but if the various Archdeaconries, in their desire to promote the advancement of the Church on bond and mortgages, as they generally do, make any mistakes and the property is run in debt the credit of Diocesan Missions is at once assailed, and the unfortunate position of

The Second Day.

Diocesan Missions is, that it not only has not enough means to pay its running expenses but has absolutely no means to defend its credit.

The State government collects an inheritance tax to help support it, and I suggest that the Missionary Committee levy a tax of one per cent. per annum on all monies raised by churches for missionary work, the same to be placed in a Permanent Fund which can be loaned to the various Archdeaonries to aid any particular chapel or mission station in distress, provided the title to the property of said mission is vested in the Corporation of Diocesan Missions. It being understood that such loan is to be repaid so that the principal of such Permanent Fund shall not be impaired. It would seem simply good business sense if you require the Corporation of Diocesan Missions to sign bond and mortgages and endorse notes and sign contracts that you should insure its credit, and the best way I know of is to gradually place it in a position by furnishing it with means to defend its credit whenever it is assailed or whenever it is in need.

The Noon-day Prayer Meetings alone should entitle the House to support, but when you find it the headquarters of nearly every church work in the Diocese it certainly should be supported, and I cordially invite anyone to send me donations.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES W. EATON, Treasurer.

I herewith present a report of the work of this House during the past year, of which I keep a daily record: Number of visitors, 2,490; meetings, 167; ministers supplied for church services, 159; funerals, 2; marriages, 1 (in the House, by Archdeacon Bryan). Noon-day prayers have been said daily except Sunday, with an attendance of 1,070. The following have officiated: The Bishop, 24 times; Archdeacon Russell, 3; the Rev. E. J. Burlingham, 64; Mr. Harrold, 105; other days by visiting clergy. The House continues to grow in favor with both clergy and laity, and I have daily calls for information in regard to the various churches and their work, the charitable institutions, and numerous other organizations of the Church.

Our Church publications and books of reference on file in the library are consulted daily by those interested. During the past month Mrs. Rosman has placed in the hall near the library a handsome bronze tablet with the following inscription: "The Library of John Gaul Rosman, M.D. Presented to the Diocesan House, 1903."

The condition of the House is good and the service the past year satisfactory.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT HARROLD.

The Second Day.

Mr. J. W. Eaton moved that $1,000 be appropriated annually for the expenses of the Diocesan House from the Diocesan Fund. Carried.

Mr. Eaton offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That $6,500.00 be raised in the four Archdeaconsries of the Diocese for the needs of Diocesan Missions during the ensuing year. Carried.

The Rev. William Holden presented the report of the Arch-deaconry of Suffolk.

ARCHDEACONRY OF SUFFOLK COUNTY.

Amagansett.—St. Thomas' Church. A meeting of the congregation worshipping in the Chapel at Amagansett, was held in the Chapel, August 27, 1906, to consider the project of building a new church, on the church property in Amagansett. The venerable Archdeacon Holden presided; the Rev. H. Lilienthal in charge of the services for August, acted as secretary. There were about twenty-five of the congregation present. The question then to be decided was:

1. The building of a new church.
2. The purchase of the present chapel and its removal to the church property.

The outcome of the meeting resulted in a determination to build a new church. Pledges were taken amounting to $495.00. A committee consisting of Messrs. Garmony, Marvin and Storey to act with the Arch-deacon and Rev. H. Lilienthal were appointed.

The summer of 1907 finds us the possessor of a church costing $4,500.00 held by the Diocesan Missions of Long Island, and having a mortgage of $1,400.00. Too much cannot be said of the faithful, earnest work of the committee, and congregation in creating this beautiful home-like church, for their summer Home of Worship. During the past summer the Rev. O. F. R. Treder, rector of St. Luke's Parish, Easthampton, with his associate, the Rev. S. C. Fish, cared for the services during July and September, while Rev. H. Lilienthal ministered during August. reports total number of services, 28; attendance, 1,222; offerings at services, $243.78. Dr. Warrin, Treasurer of Building Committee reports $4,511.41. We hope to clear up the remaining amount of mortgage the coming year.

Bridgehampton.—St. Ann's Church. Rev. O. F. R. Treder in charge, assisted by Rev. Samuel C. Fish, deacon-resident, who reports:

I was appointed by the Bishop of the Diocese to assist the Rev. Oscar F. R. Treder at Easthampton and in the surrounding missions.

The Second Day.

and began my duties June 10, 1907. The following is a report of my work from that date until May 10, 1908.

Assisted Rector at Holy Communion, 69 times; Sunday School, 61 times; other services, 221 times (outside the parish, 9 times); Sunday services, 219 times; holy days, 87 times; week days, 45 times—total, 351. Baptisms, 10; presented for Confirmation, 3; burials, 1.

I have taken duties in connection with my work in Easthampton, Bridgehampton, Amagansett, East Side, and Freetown. Since February 15, 1908, I have resided in Bridgehampton and specialized more particularly in the work of the Mission at this place.

During the latter part of the autumn of 1907 I secured the refusal of a very valuable property in the heart of the village of Bridgehampton, consisting of a corner lot with a frontage of about 250 feet on the main street, and a depth of about 183 feet on a side lane and having on it a large three-story dwelling (formerly a hotel) entirely furnished, and also a fair barn. The price asked was $7,000.00.

After having secured the Bishop's consent I appealed for funds through the medium of the parish paper and other ways, and secured the sum of $1,174.00. Soon after the first of the year the Bishop signed a contract, by the terms of which we were to pay $1,000.00 as binding the contract and have full possession of the property pending the examination of the title, etc., with the understanding that the balance ($6,000.00) was to be paid by a mortgage at five per cent. payable semi-annually on the taking of the title. The property is now in our possession and is being used for church purposes, etc., although the title has not as yet been transferred. At the instigation of the Bishop the Title Guarantee and Trust Company has been engaged to insure the title, and so soon as they do so the deed will be taken by the Diocesan Missions of Long Island.

I have been instrumental in starting a men's club in Bridgehampton, and for club rooms I have rented the lower floor of the house for an annual rental of $275.00. I have also rented the rear of the house to the janitor of the club at an annual rental of $96.00.

A number of improvements have been made on the house, largely through those who have helped in the starting of the club; and in addition to the well equipped club rooms we have a winter chapel and rooms for the Associate. The two lower floors of the house have also been improved by the installing of a steam heating plant and gas.

Our Men's Club now numbers 90, and it has become a valuable institution in the community.

Within the Bridgehampton Mission there are 19 families, 51 baptized persons, 24 communicants, and a Sunday School of 12 scholars. This is a very scattered community and there may be more Church people in the vicinity, but these numbers represent the condition so far as I have been able to find out.

Bellport.—Christ Church. Rev. Irving McElroy reports: We are just beginning improvements in the church which will cost $250.00, and are considering the purchase of a rectory. The congregation and offerings during the past year have been the largest in our history, and thanks to the Board of Missions, we have been able to meet all expenses without sending out appeals. I have finished five years' resident work here; passed through the bad times, and now look forward to a decided progress. Baptisms, 3; confirmed, 6; burials, 6.

Centre Moriches.—St. John's Church. Since September last Mr. A. Broadhurst, Lay Reader, from General Seminary, has ministered at Centre Moriches, and reports a new interest awakened in the church's welfare. We expect a priest to be in charge of this work shortly, and have no doubt but that it will result in even larger growth.

Yaphank.—St. Andrew's Church. Mr. A. Broadhurst, Lay Reader, from General Seminary, has cared for this field also, and reports eight baptisms, five adults and three children; an enlarged Sunday School, a class in preparation for Confirmation; services well attended and the Holy Communion administered four times. As this work is united with Centre Moriches the appointment of a priest in charge will strengthen the work.

Brentwood, Central Islip, Ronkonkoma, East Hauppauge.—Rev. R. M. Edwards, priest in charge, reports: The statistics of work in my field are the least pleasing part—three infant baptisms at Ronkonkoma, four at Central Islip; two marriages; ten burials (seven of them being at the hospital).

Writing of St. Boniface, East Hauppauge, he notes: "I am greatly encouraged by the attendance of young men." At Brentwood our winter congregations have been the largest ever. Central Islip has improved spiritually, the congregations average well, the men are coming oftener. The Lenten attendance has been larger, the children of the Sunday School have attended the special Lenten services, some have never missed. For five years we have never missed the three hours' Agony service on Good Friday, but this year was marked for the large and devout congregation which stayed through the entire service.

Mattituck.—Rev. W. A. Wasson, Riverhead, reports: The Mission at Mattituck is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances. In the winter the attendance at the services is small. In the summer it is very good. Mattituck is growing only in one direction, namely, as a summer resort. The year round population has not increased at all during the six years that I have been in charge of the Church. There is nothing that we can do except to hold the field for the future. During the past year four persons were baptized; four confirmed.

Port Jefferson.—Christ Church. Rev J. Morris Coerr, priest in charge. During the past year ten children and seven adults were baptized; two persons confirmed; three marriages solemnized; one person buried. The Bishop visited Christ Church All Saints' Day, blessed memorial gifts and the new sanctuary, and administered Holy Confirmation to two adults. The congregation at 10.30 A. M. has doubled in number since All Saints', when I began to have the Eucharistic service at that hour. Collections have been taken for the several purposes required by the canons of the Church and Diocese. Good Friday, from 12 to 3, places of business in the village closed at my suggestion, and the attendance at the three Hours filled the church. A Boys' Club has been started and carried on with indifferent success at a cost of about $100.00, subscribed by individual members of the congregation. All the property is in good repair.

Setauket.—Caroline Church. Rev. Dan Marvin, rector, reports: "In some respects the past year has been worthy of note in the history of our venerable parish. As the first of these I may mention the unusual number of baptisms—eighteen—all being children; the number of burials, 12. One of these, Martin V. B. Nevins, was, for twenty-three years, a member of our vestry, first as a vestryman and afterward as junior warden, and in past years was often a delegate to the Archdeaconry as well as to Diocesan Convention. A class of four candidates was confirmed by our bishop in July last, and I have solemnized two marriages. It was my privilege, during the first week of July, 1907, to celebrate my twentieth anniversary as rector of Caroline Church. To our beloved bishop, our faithful archdeacon, and the clerical and lay brethren who gathered at that celebration and spoke such kind and appreciative words, I extend my most hearty thanks."

It is impossible to close this report from the field without expressing to the reader the hope that they will try and realize this home field of labor and give it their support.

two Parish Missionary Committees, and have been in the Diocesan House every Friday to meet more readily any one wishing to see me in regard to the work of the Archdeaconry.

From October until nearly March the Archdeaconry was without an Archdeacon, the necessary changes and administration being fulfilled by the Bishop and the Executive Committee or by individual members of the committee acting or taking charge of certain missions without a leader by request of the Bishop. I should like to record here the great service of the Rev. Mr. Webb in the hard work and much time he gave during this vacancy from his busy parish, to finish and equip the Mission of Steinway with electric lights and new heating system, and for the oversight of that mission and North Corona. I hope that his example of nearest rector of an Archdeaconry Mission, giving his services so freely and his judgment to what are the needs and problems of that missionary work just without his own parish, will inspire other men to do the same, and that our parishes and rectors will feel a very intimate and close responsibility to the nearest mission, and give some time and service, especially when those missions have no priest in charge to further the work and services of the Church in their outlying district or parish bounds. The Archdeaconry Missions need more than ever the help of laymen and of priests, who coming from long-established parishes can give without experiment, splendid help in Sunday School work or other ways, to lay a right foundation to some new missionary endeavor, and strengthen by their enthusiasm and presence, the few Church people who are so striving to establish and maintain the Church in their community.

I know of no better proof of the great work of the late Archdeacon, Canon Bryan, and what he did for the Missionary work of the Archdeaconry, than that the work has gone so wonderfully without his presence and his personality, that the men and Missions have alone kept on with the same high endeavor and enthusiasm as when he gave so much of his time and work, to their particular oversight. It has been a hard and trying year in almost every parish; to the Missions, particularly, have come the problem of finances restricted and curtailed, and it shows how splendidly they have been organized and with what faith and enthusiasm and at what self sacrifice they are being maintained by the faithful priest in charge and by the people of the Missions.

Certainly it is for us to see that we fall not backward, that we may meet promptly our pledges for stipends and for salaries. It is hard to get good men for the Missions, at the small salary we can guarantee. So many places without rectors, with living expenses on the increase, rent and houses in the new districts, where our Missions are, high and costly, with many personal calls on the clergy, for every entertainment, show and church supper, with almost all the charitable relief to be met from his own pocket, we ought not to demand from our Missionaries, all the self-sacrifices without working more heartily and effectively, for larger stipends and increased funds.

This coming year will see many changes in the Archdeaconry we have only in a measure begun to realize how quickly these counties are filling up with people, coming to establish homes, coming for the better air and light, from crowded cities, and asking first of all for Church and Sunday School. We must be ready to give them what they ask. Where we are first established there are no other Missions, no several struggling, differing denominations of sudden beginnings and oftentimes tragic endings, without strength or unity, to persevere.

With the security and confidence of our organization with the certainty of the careful administration of all its finances, of the means to hold the land and buildings for the purpose of its giving, our very smallest Missions from their inception, win the confidence of all, make the true center of the Church Life, in which all are ready to unite and join in one purpose and enthusiastic support.

I ask you but to notice the change in the country about us, since last Convention. The large farms with infrequent homes and houses have given place already to villages and towns and from Jamaica to this Cathedral is now almost one continuous city. The Williamsburg Bridge, the subway service, the Belmont tube and the tunnels, the third rail system, and improvements to the Elevated are ready to take care of the multitudes of the home seekers who are leaving the congested centres of New York and Brooklyn, for the healthful surroundings which are ready for them in the various parts of the Archdeaconry. We should have some large funds now in hand, some generous gifts of wise hearted people to secure when land is reasonable and free from speculation the free foundations of future parishes where will come a multitude eager and willing to hear the voice of God, eager to confess the faith of Christ.

The progress of the fifteen Missions of the Archdeaconry for the past year has been almost everywhere a steady and distinct step forward.

The small Summer services, begun anew under the Archdeaconry at Arverne-by-the-Sea has developed under the splendid work and self-sacrificing enthusiasm of the Rev. Mr. Brown, of St. Timothy's, Brooklyn, into a large Winter congregation with strong Sunday School and a complete parish organization all self-supporting without aid from the Archdeaconry. This Mission hopes shortly to have entire possession and title to the land and building of the old Union Chapel, which now they use, and the Church of St. Paul of Tarsus will then become legally, as it is in fact, a strong Mission of the Archdeaconry through the persistent purpose and hard work of the priest in charge.

The Second Day.

The Mission of Grace Church, North Corona, hopes shortly to purchase a building site, and has already five hundred dollars in the treasury towards the erection of a Church or Parish House. Its Sunday School and congregation have grown way beyond its present building, and it has more than fulfilled the wisdom of its inception.

The Summer Chapel at Long Beach was destroyed early in the season by fire, but the indefatigable energy of the Rev. Mr. Creveling turned but to another direction, and he has begun an afternoon work and Mission at Rosedale, which shows every prospect of continuous permanency, while the work at Lynbrook shows steady and very real progress.

The Mission at Brooklyn Manor under Dr. Bunn, has completed a new Parish House, and they hope before the next meeting of the Archdeaconry to redecorate and consecrate their present Church.

The many changes about Steinway and Long Island City, the coming of a large foreign element, the new terminal and railroad yards and bridges have made many changes among the old residents and attendants in the parish of Ravenswood and the Missions of Dutch Kills and Steinway, but it is a temporary and necessary condition and the completion of the bridge will bring it, it is hoped, a new congregation and many families for these Missions and a better permanence to those who are already there.

The colored work progresses steadily and well in Jamaica, Hempstead and Smithville South. Its proper function to care and minister to the colored people within our borders quietly and with dignity has been fulfilled, but because of its quiet methods many parishes seem to forget its needs and that its support must be by special collections and subscriptions designated to this particular use.

The older Missions, All Saints', Morris Park; St. Michael's, Seaford; St. Paul's, Roosevelt, are all showing growth and progress as evinced by their own reports to this Convention.

The work of the Archdeaconry could easily take one's whole efforts and it is hard to make sufficient time from many parish duties to adequately accomplish the many increasing demands of the fifteen Missions. The Archdeacon hopes for consideration in this regard and for the help and assistance of all the rectors in this the work of all. It is the uncertainty of just what help we may count upon that makes the calling of new men and the pledge of their support the greatest difficulty, and I trust we shall know early in this year just what financial aid and increased offerings we can expect from every parish in the Archdeaconry.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY MESIER,
Archdeacon.

The Rev. J. H. Sattig presented the report of the General Theological Seminary.

ReportOF THE COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

The Committee appointed at the last Convention of the Diocese reports that this institution continues to be the largest institution devoted solely to theological education in the Anglican communion.

The class which entered the seminary last fall was larger by ten than the class of the previous year.

The total number of students enrolled at the time of the publication of the last catalogue was 115, of which number six came from the Diocese of Long Island.

The students are divided in the following classes:

Fellows	5
Graduate Students	6
Senior Class	34

The Rev. Spencer S. Roche, D.D., presented the report of the Committee on Christian Education.

Report

TO THE CONVENTION OF THE DIOCESE OF LONG ISLAND, ON CHRISTIAN EDUCATION.

May 19, 1908.

The Committee on Christian Education would respectfully call the attention of this body to the report made to the late General Convention by the Joint Commission on Christian Education. One difficulty found in many of the Church Schools under view of the Commission, we may honestly feel we have overcome in our Long Island institutions—defective training in religion. Says the report:

"In some institutions instruction in the Catechism and Church doctrine is so dull that the pupils get little if anything that is valuable from it, and lose interest in the subject; while in others the teaching is vague and unsystematic."

That the religious training is good in our schools is shown by the character and ability and devotion of those teachers having this special matter in charge; and that what is imparted by the Chaplain and teachers is duly improved by the pupils, is evidenced by their Christian and charitable work. Would emphasize neither the academic at the expense of the religious, nor the spiritual at the expense of the scholastic, but in all our schools we are combining culture and Christianity to turn out young men and young women with the ripest education of the day, with the ethical standards of the Gospel, and with love and loyalty to their Church.

St. Catharine's Hall, 301 Washington Avenue, Brooklyn, is the oldest Church School for young ladies in the Diocese of Long Island. The Bishop is patron, and Rev. William S. Watson, rector of St. Michael's Church, is Chaplain and lecturer. The seminary includes primary, preparatory and academic departments, and in addition carries students through special courses. The location for a city school is beautiful and convenient.

It is possible to maintain this school more economically than those in Garden City, and board and tuition may be had from $450.00 per annum.

Without the splendid collection of books which St. Mary's possesses, St. Catharine's has utilized the "Traveling Library," and an admirable collection of pictures, continuing also the visits of pupils to great museums and art centers to illustrate studies in literature, history, science and art. Instruction has been given in household science, including sewing, embroidery, dressmaking, house sanitation, marketing and cooking, the pupils being so trained in this department as to furnish a tea, preparing and serving all the refreshments to the instructors and scholars and recent graduates who attend as guests.

Philanthropic interest has had the advantage of addresses from women engaged in Settlement work, and has materialized in Thanksgiving dinners for forty persons, a Christmas tree for fifty children, a sale for the benefit of St. Augustine's, Raleigh, and also one for the Alumnæ Scholarship Fund. Two have taken post-graduate courses.

St. Catharine's, in all its activities, records its belief "that high ideals in education and life, sincere and honest work contributing to the realization of those ideals, are not only worth while, but imperative."

The total attendance at St. Paul's School, Garden City, has been seventy—forty-eight boarders and twenty-two day pupils. The teaching staff numbers ten, the head master, Walter Randall Marsh, B.A., Chaplain and eight masters. The school equipment has been maintained in its usual fine condition, a billiard table and pool table, procured by subscriptions from the masters and students, adding to the charm of recreation hours. The library has been recatalogued and the use of the books by the students has increased.

The Chaplain, with members of St. Paul's Club, has held service at the Mission Stations at Franklin Square in Mineola, and at the Nassau County Jail and the hospital. Two hours a week are given to instruction in sacred studies. During Advent the school raised upwards of $47.00 for Diocesan Missions; at Easter the offering exceeded $100.00. By the end of the year the sum of $100.00 will have been contributed to the Mineola Mission. Eight boys were confirmed in the Cathedral on Easter Sunday.

The admirable gymnasium has been used, as have been the athletic grounds and all the equipment, in such a way as to help the weak boy who needs exercise, rather than the proficient athlete who needs restraint. The school has done well in the athletic competitions with other schools—while exercising care so as not to give undue importance to this side of school life.

At the coming Commencement it is expected that twelve will graduate—three going to Yale, two to the University of Pennsylvania, two to Harvard, one to Cornell, one to the Western University of Pennsylvania, and the rest entering business.

St. Mary's School, at Garden City, has had fifty-one boarders and fifty-eight day pupils enrolled. The faculty numbers one resident and three visiting teachers, besides two musical directors in New York. There are in addition a secretary, two matrons and a physician, the whole under the direction of Miss Annie S. Gibson as principal. It is a matter of deep regret to the Committee that a serious illness rendered necessary relieving Miss Gibson for three months of all care of the school. During her absence, affairs have been admirably attended to by Miss Coleman, the head teacher. We record thankfully Miss Gibson's improvement.

There are now five thousand volumes in the library, valuable books of reference being added each year.

Seven pupils are to graduate in June.

At St. Mary's, too, athletics are in a flourishing condition and in charge of a competent resident teacher. Every pupil is obliged to take part in the daily exercise, great interest being shown in the games and the contests at the annual Field Day, which falls this year on May 23d.

The missionary spirit has been fostered, both money and clothing being given for various purposes. Not less than $118.46 has been gathered and forwarded. Miss Wood, from China, and Deaconess Goodwin, gave interesting talks on missionary work, and St. Mary's Chapter of the Church Students' Missionary Association has been formed, under the title of The Stewart Memorial Chapter. Six young ladies were confirmed by the Bishop on Monday in Holy Week, three being boarders and three day pupils.

Your Comittee would submit that, to strengthen these schools is to leaven the life of our colleges and universities. The late General Convention was informed that at Columbia we have a Churchman's Association, at Harvard the Pi Beta Society, at Yale the Berkeley Association, at California University the Guilds of St. John and of St. Anne. All facts show that where secondary schools, such as our Diocesan institutions, have impressed on their graduates strong, churchly character, those students become at colleges, centers of the most blessed influence. What the academy is to the university, the university is to the national life. We appeal to you to establish by your commendation and your patronage these three schools, and the colleges will send out into every high calling men and women with full knowledge and trained minds and also with spirits intent on "casting down every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ."

The Rev. Spencer S. Roche, D.D., offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee of two be appointed by the Chair to represent in this Diocese the interests of the General Clergy Relief Fund, which is provided for by Canon 53 of the General Constitution and Canons.

Carried.

The Bishop announced the appointment on this Committee of the Rev. Spencer S. Roche, D.D., Mr. J. Sherlock Davis.

The Secretary read the following communication from J. P. Boyle, Corresponding Secretary of the Central Labor Union:

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 19, 1908.

Secretary of the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island, Protestant Episcopal Church, Garden City, N. Y.:

REV. DEAR SIR: The Central Labor Union of Brooklyn, representing 70,000 and more wage workers of Long Island, ask your assistance at this time. We feel that "the most grave and momentous crisis ever faced by the wage workers of our country is now upon us." We appeal in our hour of need to your convention, representing as you do a large portion of the fair-minded and justice-loving people of this section, and ask you to take such action as may seem to you wise and proper.

As you doubtless have read in the newspapers the Sherman Anti-Trust Law has been interpreted by the Supreme Court of the United States to apply to labor unions. Under this decision every normal, peaceful and helpful activity of the workers, whether exercised individually or in association, may be construed as "a conspiracy" or a combination in restraint of trade and commerce and punished by fine and imprisonment or both, and damages may be inflicted to the extent of each individual's possessions. This decision strips us of our industrial rights and threatens our liberties.

Therefore the organized workers of our county are one in asking of Congress an immediate amendment of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, to this effect:

"That nothing in the said act (Sherman Anti-Trust Law) or in this act is intended nor shall any provisions thereof hereafter be enforced so as to apply to organizations or associations not for profit and without capital and stock, nor to the members of such organizations or associations."

The Second Day.

"That nothing in the said act (Sherman Anti-Trust Law) or in this act is intended nor shall any provision thereof hereafter be enforced so as to apply to any arrangements, agreements or combinations among persons engaged in agriculture or horticulture made with a view of enhancing the price of their own agricultural or horticultural products."

We do not know what the policy of your convention may be in reference to matters of national legislation, but we ask you in your own way to help us arouse and inform public opinion as to the need and importance of the cause of labor. The labor union is not the labor question; if every labor union in existence was wiped out the labor question would still be present. But we believe that fair-minded students of the question will agree with the workers themselves that unionism has brought nearer a solution of the industrial problem. God help us if the day should ever come when the right to organize and the right to protest are denied the workingman. The record of trades unionism speaks for itself, and while it has many opponents it has had and has many defenders, among them a goodly proportion of the great men of our land, some of whom have passed away, while others still live, raising their voices and contributing their support in the promulgation of its doctrines.

Mr. Justice Holmes, in dissenting from the majority decision of the Supreme Court in a recent labor case of vast importance, said: "I could not pronounce it unwarranted if Congress should decide that to foster a strong union was for the best interests, not only of the men, but of the railroads and the country at large."

Trade Unionism, in seeking to establish the "Brotherhood of Man," is a mighty factor in perpetuating the belief in the "Fatherhood of God."

Hoping for the success of your Convention and asking for the consideration for this matter that its importance warrants, I am

Yours very truly,

J. P. Boyle, Corresponding Secretary.

Upon motion of the Rev. Mr. Melish this communication was referred to the Social Service Committee.

Hon. Asa B. Gardner moved as a substitute that it be received and placed on file.

Upon vote the substitute was lost and the original motion carried.

Rev. Mr. Melish moved that $500 be appropriated to pay the expenses of the delegates to the General Convention at Richmond.

The motion was lost.

The Second Day.

The Rev. Ralph L. Brydges for Committee on Moral and Religious Instruction in Public Schools presented the following report:

REPORT.

The Committee on Moral and Religious Instruction in Public Schools beg to report that since last May favorable action has been taken in regard to this movement by the teachers of Great Britain and this country. The President of the Teachers' Union of Great Britain, in his annual address said of this movement: "There is none larger and none which will compare with it in far-reaching results for all education, whether in our own time or in time to come." At the Convention of the National Education Association, in Los Angeles, a special committee was appointed, backed up by a generous appropriation, to investigate this important subject of moral training in the public schools. There has also been formed an unusually strong Advisory Council, in which such men as Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts, Dr. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton, and President Hyde, of Bowdoin College, have a place. It is also planned to incorporate this work and to put it on a substantial and enduring foundation. The result of the investigations carried on by the International Committee in several of the European countries will be published shortly. The work of the International Committee has been brought before the Diocese of New York by Dr. W. R. Huntington, rector of Grace Church. Your Committee, therefore, beg to report progress, asks for continuance, and would submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Convention extend to the International Committee on Moral Training Inquiry, in its efforts to promote moral training and the development of good citizenship through the agency of the public schools, its hearty support and co-operation, and that the secretary be instructed to send a copy of this resolution to the honorary secretary of the International Committee.

Mr. Henry G. Homer presented the report of the Central Committee of Men's Clubs of Brooklyn.

The Central Committee of Men's Parish Clubs of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Brooklyn, N. Y.

This Committee is composed of three delegates from each of the Men's Clubs connected with it, as well as the clergy of the parish sending them. It meets monthly from October to May inclusive, and its purpose is the attaining, by co-operation, ends and objects not within the scope of the individual clubs—e. g., to assist, when requested by the rectors of the parishes, in forming new clubs. Some of this work it has done. It is not a legislative body and consequently has no power to act further than in an advisory capacity, its aim being, by an interchange of ideas and methods, to further the work of the clubs affiliated with it. It does this by means of reports from each set of delegates at every meeting.

Our officers make annual visits to every club connected with the committee and approach such clubs as are not represented on our committee.

The organization dates from June 19, 1906, when delegates met from the clubs connected with four parishes—St. Mary's, Calvary, Church of the Redeemer and St. John's. At present representation is had from nineteen parish clubs, as follows:

St. Mary's, Calvary, Church of the Redeemer, St. John's, Good Shepherd, St. Peter's, Christ Church (E. D.), St. Matthew's, Messiah, St. John's (Fort Hamilton), St. James', Church of the Ascension (Greenpoint), St. Clement's, St. George's, St. Ann's, Holy Spirit, St. Timothy's, St. Thomas', Transfiguration.

We have held two union services for men, with special preachers, one on February 3, 1907, at St. John's Church, the other, on October 27, 1907, at the Church of the Messiah. Both were largely attended.

We are, by invitation of the rector of St. Ann's, represented by three of our members on the Board of Managers of the School of Practice or Church Workers, organized by him.

With a view to enlarging our sphere of usefulness and to bring the members of the various clubs into closer personal touch, we held, on May 1, 1908, in the Parish House of the Church of the Good Shepherd, a special meeting for all the members of the various clubs, the Bishop of the Diocese presiding.

At the close of each season a dinner is given by the members of the committee. The first season this was held at the University Club, and some sixty clergy and delegates were present. That at the close of this season was held in St. Mary's Parish House, and we had with us some seventy-five clergy and delegates. The Bishop of the Diocese, the Rev. Drs. Dowling, Jones and others, made forceful and helpful addresses.

The committee desires to thank the Bishop and this Convention for this opportunity of letting their work be known, and they hope that by bringing it to the attention of churchmen, every parish may have, in the near future, an organization of some kind, distinctively for its laymen and connected with our central body. Whether these separate parish organizations engage in work institutional in its character; whether their efforts are on strictly parish lines, and they strive to be helpful in interesting the men of their neighborhoods in our Church and its services; whether they merely meet together to promote good fellowship among the men of the parish until such time as some special work presents itself, matters not; we feel that this movement, now well started and sanctioned both by our Bishop and many of the clergy, and bringing at present some twelve hundred earnest-minded churchmen, most of them young men, into close touch with each other, has a potent force which can be productive of great good in the future, both for growth and service.

During the past Lent, the Committee divided the sixteen churches, represented at that time into four districts, and arranged with the various rectors to have a service at one Church in each district for four Friday evenings, urging the men of the three other parishes to attend these special services.

The officers are: Chairman, Herbert W. Groser, Church of Good Shepherd; Vice-Chairman, E. K. Jones, Calvary Church, Secretary-Treasurer, Howard W. Weekes, St. Mary's Church.

The Rev. Mr. Lilienthal offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Convention, recognizing the vast benefits conferred on this Diocese by its first Bishop, Abram Newkirk Littlejohn, pledges itself to erect at no distant day in this Cathedral, over which his soul agonized for years, a fitting pulpit as a worthy monument to his learning, devotion, courage and genius.

Resolved, That the parishes of the Diocese be asked to co-operate with the existing Committee on the Littlejohn Memorial, such Committee now consisting of the Standing Committee and the Cathedral Chapter.

Resolved, That it is the urgent desire of this Convention that some contribution should be made by each parish to the end that Long Island may stand clear of any accusation of forgetfulness or ingratitude regarding its first Bishop.

Carried.

The Rev. Dr. Swentzel presented a report on the Bishop Littlejohn Memorial Fund.

The committee on providing a suitable memorial of the late Bishop Littlejohn beg leave to report that they have finally determined to expend the funds in hand for the purchase of a pulpit, the same to be placed in this Cathedral if the Chapter of the Cathedral shall consent.

H. C. SWENTZEL, Chairman.

Mr. Barr moved that the thanks of the Convention be extended to the Secretaries.

Carried.

The Rev. Mr. Ward moved that 1,000 copies of the sermon

APPENDIX A

THE BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS TO THE CONVENTION

Delivered May 19, 1908.

Brethren of the Clergy and Laity:

It is a great privilege, which the Bishop has once a year, to address the representatives of the Diocese assembled in convention, and his chief difficulty must always be to choose from among the many topics which seems almost to demand consideration. Little time, then, should be spent in unnecessary or irrelevant introductions.

DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

The subject near to the Bishop's heart and absorbing much of his time and engrossing his thoughts is Diocesan Missions, and now after six years of service, I should like to review the field and give, in a sense, an account of my stewardship. The difference between a mission and a parish is in organization and not in character. Some parishes are far more missionary than some missions. The object of a mission is to bring the gospel to those who otherwise would not hear it, and oftentimes by strengthening some old parish and throwing life into its services and heart into its rector and people you can do a missionary work far exceeding anything you may accomplish in some new field. My own policy—if so humble a person as a bishop can be permitted to speak of his policies—was indicated in a little speech which I made at the Archdeaconry of Queens and Nassau meeting at Flushing the week following my consecration, a speech which has probably long since been forgotten, but in which I quoted a saying of the great German thinker, Goethe, and applied it to missions: "Sowing is not so hard as reaping." This metaphor taken out of the life of the husbandman has a deep suggestion for the Church. It is comparatively easy to sow. But the tilling and the weeding, the pruning and the harvesting, are far harder and tax more the farmer's strength. So there is an exhilaration about starting new missionary work. The corner-stone is easier to place than the keystone. The fostering of missions until they become self-supporting parishes, the care, the diplomacy, the patience, the gentleness and yet firmness with human beings, who sometimes seem to show their most unengaging qualities of bitterness and jealousy in the very church work where you would expect the opposite, all these things are hard. but only by doing them can we rejoice over the barns filled with the rich harvest of the Lord. "Sowing is not so hard as reaping." This has been my idea all along. Strengthen the things that remain. Foster, not force, the work. Building on what we have, doing so much as the gifts of the Diocese warrant, we could well trust to God to give the increase. That was my faith. Let us then look at our three separate fields.

First, the Archdeaconry of Suffolk. It is pleasant right at the beginning to testify to the sound judgment and faithfulness with which the Archdeacon, a busy Rector, has administered the affairs of this Archdeaconry. I had only been Bishop a few weeks when Easthampton was called to my attention as a place where a far more aggressive work could be undertaken, and with this in view I took charge and made myself personally liable for the services for a season. My great desire was to see something more than a summer chapel established in that old and beautiful town. I was really not allowed to bear any of the burden. From that time on the church people of Easthampton have come nobly to the front and taken the initiative in all the work. Regular services throughout the year were soon instituted, a resident clergyman was appointed as Priest-in charge, more land was purchased at a high price, and to-day the work itself speaks with no uncertain voice and testifies to the liberality and loyalty of the congregation. St. Luke's, Easthampton, which to-day should apply for union in the convention, has become an incorporated parish, with a rector and an assistant who together look out for a very large region and care for the missions at Amagansett, at Freetown and Bridgehampton. The mission at Bridgehampton was made possible a year ago by the gift of land from a generous churchwoman whose family has long been resident in that township. Here services throughout the year have already been established. No one who is unfamiliar with the County of Suffolk can tell what all this means in the religious life of the community. I recognize the advantage of having chapels where the well-to-do church families who come to enjoy the cool breezes and the happy out-door life in these attractive old villages of Long Island may go to worship after the beautiful forms of the Prayer Book, and my heart aches oftentimes when I see some of these church people on Sunday turn away from these privileges to spend the Lord's day in utter frivolity and forgetfulness of Christ. But when all is said and done, these summer churches tell very little in their effect on the residents of the place. If a few of the young people are attracted for a few weeks by the beauty and spiritual reality of the services, at the end of that time they must either go back to sectarian forms of worship or else lapse into indifference; and the teaching power of the Church is weakened unless it can be carried on through the whole ritual year. In Bellport, in Port Jefferson, and in the centre of the Island at Central Islip and Ronkonkoma and Brentwood we maintain work all the year. The parish at Shelter Island, which was at first conducted as a mission, has revived its old charter and takes its place as an incorporated parish, which under its present Rector has well stood the test and justified its independence. At Southampton and Fisher's Island I had hoped in my first enthusiasm to begin a similar work to that at Easthampton, but the peculiar organization of these parishes, formed under what is known as the Free Church Act, has modified somewhat the Bishop's influence; and yet I have by no means given up the hope that at no distant day these congregations will welcome a movement in the direction of regular services maintained throughout the year.

In the Archdeaconry of Queens and Nassau, I found when I entered upon my office, a strong missionary spirit and many well-organized missions. The cathedral had eleven, one of which, Epiphany, Ozone Park, has since become a parish. The Archdeaconry had a similar number. Canon Bryan was the Archdeacon, and with earnestness, faithfulness and ability he gave this large field full supervision, the financial interests being cared for by the able Treasurer. This Archdeaconry, while of course there is almost an unlimited amount of expansion to be carried out to meet the rapidly increasing population, has already occupied many of the commanding places and can look forward with confidence to the harvest under the blessing of God. Some mistakes have, perhaps, been made in premature building and in overloading the missions with financial obligations, but it is not always easy for bishop or archdeacon to gauge accurately the ability of the people, who are often eager to acquire handsome property and to pledge steady support. Since I became Bishop new work has been practically established at Roosevelt, Corona, Belle Harbor, Lynbrook, Arverne, Creedmoor, Jamaica, Smithville South and Hempstead, the last three being missions for the negro population.

On the resignation of Canon Bryan to take charge of the important work in the Panama Canal Zone under the Board of Missions, it was, after due deliberation, decided to elect as archdeacon one of the rectors in the Archdeaconry. The Rev. Henry Mesier, Rector of St. John's Church, Far Rockaway, was chosen, and has already shown the advantage of selecting one thoroughly familiar with the field and imbued with the missionary spirit. Much of the time of the Archdeacon had been hitherto taken up in preaching at the larger churches on Sundays to solicit funds. But I believe that the only sure way to secure revenue for Diocesan Missions is through the clergy themselves, and that the parishes and missions should not depend upon an archdeacon's visit, but should, as far as possible, guarantee each a definite amount for church extension and then contribute the offering at the time of the Bishop's visitation as an additional gift for this important object. The Queens and Nassau Archdeaconry has adopted this method, and I believe that the Archdeacon, thus relieved from the necessity of appeals, will be able, without neglecting in any way his parish which must have the first claim on his time, to give true and careful oversight to all the missionary stations. It is pleasant to add that the clergy have heartily and generously agreed to this plan and recognized their own responsibility in bringing the claims of the missionary work of the Diocese before their people.

We now reach the last of our fields, and in some respects the most important, the Archdeaconry of Brooklyn. When I came to Brooklyn ten years ago there was little zeal for missionary work. The Southern Archdeaconry through the comparatively large offerings of Grace Church, Brooklyn Heights, which has always throughout its history been a disinterested giver to all Diocesan work, was never without funds to meet its obligations. But until three years ago only one mission was started by the two archdeaconries of Brooklyn, the Church of the Nativity, Vanderveer Park, which in a mistaken solicitude about the title to its little property was immediately made into an incorporated parish. This vicious method of creating missions resulted necessarily in choosing men for the important posts of wardens and vestrymen who had had little training in church ways and were poorly equipped for the responsibilities of their new and untried office. St. Philip's, Dyker Heights, was also founded, but as it was never helped by the archdeaconry it could hardly be counted as a mission. St. Philip's Chapel for colored people was also begun and carried on by one generous woman whose heart is always deeply stirred by the pathetic appeal of the black race.

When I became Bishop in 1902 my first desire was to establish some Diocesan centre in Brooklyn and through the large-minded liberality of Wilhelmus Mynderse, the house 170 Remsen Street, which belonged to the Diocese was beautifully remodelled and made suitable for the work of the Bishop. This same thoughtful churchman, seeing the need of a corporation fitted to hold the title of missionary property secured by a special act of the Legislature the incorporation of "The Diocesan Missions of Long Island," and the convention deeded to it the property on Remsen Street. On Epiphany, 1903, I was privileged to open this house, which has been a great boon to the whole Diocese, but, especially, to the churchmen of Brooklyn.

At the time I became Bishop, the Northern Archdeaconry was at a low ebb. The Archdeacon had resigned, the clergy were discouraged or indifferent, and, worse than all in its significance, the stipends of the missionaries were deeply in arrears. The Rev. St. Clair Hester was persuaded to take the office of Archdeacon, and in a short time, through the assistance of a finance committee, he was able to put the finances into better shape and save the Diocese from what was little less than a scandal. But it was believed that more rapid progress could be made if the two archdeaconries could be consolidated and administered as one, with one missionary to superintend the work. With this object in view, Holy Trinity Parish, Brooklyn, three years ago, offered the sum of $3,500 per year for three years towards an archdeacon's salary and expenses. It was not thought wise to alter at that time the charter of the Diocesan Missions, which necessitated the membership on its board of two archdeacons from Brooklyn, but to make a canon which should be tentative and which could lead to a subsequent change of the charter if the new method of missionary work should become permanent. This is the reason for the increase of titles which have been the occasion of harmless if not very thoughtful merriment.

At that time it seemed wise to me that the nomination of such a paid officer, who was to administer the mission under the Bishop, should rest with the Ecclesiastical authority. Accordingly I nominated the Rev. James Townsend Russell, the Rector of St. Thomas' Church, Brooklyn, and he was elected by the two archdeaconries. An enumeration of the missions which he started would show the zeal with which he entered upon his task. But his own illness more than a year ago and subsequent serious illness in his family necessitated his absence. This could hardly have been possible if he had not already secured the assistance of the Rev. Edward J. Burlingham, who came into the Diocese at solicitation, and who in his absence cared for the missions with indefatigable zeal and with tactfulness and patience. It is a privilege to me, now that his work is finished, to testify to the wisdom with which he met a most difficult situation and rendered to Archdeaconry services which I shall remember with gratitude.

I have thus completed a review of the missionary field; for such history, however tedious it may be, seems to be necessary at this time. I want now to add one strong word to the clergy on their ordination vows. At the ordination of deacons, the last question is: "Will you reverently obey your Bishop and your chief ministers who, according to the canons of the Church, have the charge and government over you; following with glad mind and will their godly admonitions?" In the ordination of priests this vow is repeated with the added clause, "and submitting yourselves to their godly judgments." The canons of the Church are thus appealed to as the laws by which the clergyman is to direct his life, and I think it is well for us sometimes to pause and go through a little self-examination as to how we are fulfilling our duty. In the most solemn moment of his life, when he kneels before God's altar to devote himself mind and soul and body to his Master's service, the man makes this deep-reaching vow of obedience, and our whole ecclesiastical system is built up on the truthfulness and sincerity of the clergy, the officers of the Church; and history has shown that that reliance has not been in vain.

Still it may sometimes happen that the memory of those vows is faded or the knowledge of the canons has become defective, and then the Diocesan machinery will get out of order because of such unintentional disobedience. Men move into a Diocese and it is their duty to get copies of the canons or to give them a moment's thought. I would venture the statement that not one-half of the clergy would be found to possess the latest copies of the General Canons which went into effect on January 1st of this year. The Church is Episcopal in its organization, and it will be strong or weak according to the obedience or disobedience of its clergy. We all therefore take the Bishop's privilege of naming over some of the duties which our Diocesan Canons prescribe.

In Canon 10, the missionary canon, we read, "It shall be the duty of each clergyman, unless prevented by grave and reasonable cause, to attend the regular meetings of the Archdeaconry and to report all missionary work done in his cure." And yet what does it mean that no inconsiderable number of the clergy, as I think the Archdeaconry records will show, seldom, if ever, attend the meetings and that some absent themselves for causes which would be considered insufficient for breaking a dinner engagement or neglecting a social duty? These dates are known or can be known long before, and what interest or life can be thrown into Archdeaconry work if the clergy appear thus lukewarm in their attendance or neglect to appoint interested laymen as delegates or decline to make the collections asked for by the bishop?

Again Canon 11 says plainly: "It shall be the duty of every congregation in this Diocese to make an annual collection to be paid to the Trustees of the Fund for the relief of Families of Deceased Clergymen," and yet, though appeal after appeal has gone out during the past two years for this noble object, I fear that to-morrow when the report is made, we shall find that one-third of the parishes and missions have sent in no response. The duty rests with the clergy to make the appeal and offer the opportunity to give to the people.

Again, the Church Charity Foundation of Long Island, according to Canon 13 is recognized as a Diocesan Institution for which provision is recommended to be made so that each congregation in the Diocese may make an annual contribution thereto. Each year at Quinquagesima the Bishop issues an appeal on the strength of this canon, an appeal which has oftentimes generous and hearty response. But, I fear, in some quarters it has no reply.

Again, Canon 8 says: "It shall be the duty of every rector or minister having charge of a parish or congregation in this Diocese to cause an annual collection or contribution to be made in aid of the Episcopal Fund for the support of the Episcopate." This collection should be taken, and the assessments on the parishes and mission should be promptly paid if the Diocesan integrity is to be maintained.

It is hardly possible that most of us have not failed sometimes in strict canonical obedience through forgetfulness or carelessness or ignorance. But I believe that it is a wholesome thing for us sometimes to pause in the midst of our busy lives and search into our own conduct to see if, in our care for the details, we are not forgetting the whole and drifting into a narrow parochialism which must impoverish and dry up the streams of spiritual power. I appeal, then, to-day for a true, deep interest on the part of clergy and laity in the missionary work of the Diocese. Facing, as we do, the most complex affairs in Brooklyn, with the immediate prospect of an immense increase in population, both there and in the counties of Queens and Nassau, it is a time for united action and for generous cordial support of those who by the canons of the Church have been placed in positions of grave responsibility. Good, true work has already been done by those who are deeply interested in the missionary work. Let us go patiently on strengthening what we have, so that God in His own good time may give the Harvest.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION OF 1907.

During the Convention year an impressive meeting of the General Convention was held in Richmond, Virginia, a meeting which showed in a marked way the marvellous growth of this Church and gave renewed evidence of the influence which it is destined to exert over the more intelligent classes of our countrymen. Still in one respect there was, I think, just cause for apprehension. The House of Deputies has become altogether too unwieldy a body for true and careful legislating. No better argument for the Provincial System or for some other form of relief could be made than that which is realized by the sight of the House of clerical and lay deputies, with its members crowded five and six in a pew, looking more like a mass meeting of voters than a deliberative body, and swayed backward and forward by the platform eloquence of speakers who seem to know how to touch the popular note. In such an assemblage it is difficult to obtain a hearing, and many of the most thoughtful members never speak.

I desire to mention two measures which originated in the House of Deputies, one of which must be made known to the Dioceses and passed by the next General Convention, as it is a Preamble to the Constitution, and the other of which has already become a law and is now known throughout the Church as a change in Canon 19.

The Preamble is a change in the Constitution. It is a radical departure and I think that while it was affirmed with good majorities in both houses, there is hope that it will not, in its present form, be finally accepted. Its radical character is shown in this clause: "holding the Catholic creeds; to wit, the Apostles' Creed and the Nicene Creed to be a sufficient statement of the Christian Faith." That can mean nothing less than that the Catechism, the thirty-nine articles, the deep and touching statements of the Atonement in the Communion Office are unnecessary and unauthoritative, and that this great American Church, whose liturgy has hitherto served to teach its people the will and the purpose of God and the road to salvation, is to be limited in its appeal to authority to the two creeds, which were formed in early ages more to guard the Church from false doctrine than to make a full statement of the mysteries of God. The gist of the Preamble is in that word "sufficient." Sufficient for what? For Salvation? Perhaps less will suffice. I would not limit God's saving power nor affirm that self-sacrifice and love, as seen oftentimes in those who have no knowledge of the creeds, may not lead the way to Heaven. But when this great American Church says that the creeds are a sufficient statement of faith, that is that they are all we have a mission to preach as necessary for an intelligent and faithful following of Christ, then indeed we shall have reason to pause and tremble. There is in this age in certain quarters an impatience with Christian doctrine and dogma, and an idea that if these could be done away then unity would come. But all that is fallacious. No unity can be had without its base being laid deep down on Christian doctrine, and no church will be loved which does not teach its children like a true mother with authority and wisdom. If our liturgy and our articles and our catechism need alteration, by all means let us amend them, but let us not impoverish our Church by eliminating its profound statements of truth. We can apply to them the prayer of the poet:

"Forgive them where they fail in truth
And in Thy wisdom make them wise."

I commend this subject to all of you who are leaders of thought to the Church in this age of perplexity. The Prayer Book does not uphold this theory that the creeds are a sufficient statement of the Christian Faith. On the contrary, in the Baptismal Office the Priest is bidden to instruct the god-parents to teach the child the "Creed, the Lord's Prayer and the Ten Commandments and all other things which a Christian ought to know and believe to his soul's health." It is unity we seek, but unity will not be advanced by the sacrifice of any essential truth, and we must be cautious lest we carelessly or ignorantly undermine the walls of the Church of Christ.

The amendment to Canon 19, as it was first proposed in the House of Deputies, was distinctly an "open pulpit," giving to the clergy the right to invite any whom they considered Christian men to preach in their churches. In committee it was amended by necessitating the approval of the Bishop. In this form it came to the House of Bishops. Their subsequent action can only be understood by remembering that this canon came to them as approved by an almost unanimous vote. Only eight Dioceses voted against it in the clerical and three in the lay order. It seemed to many of us as if the very ground were shaking beneath our feet. Could it be that this American Church, which had in the past sacrificed everything for its apostolic descent was now to deny all its history? Seabury and White and Provoost and Madison had braved the dangers of the sea, and yet greater danger of persecution and unpopularity on their return, to bring to the American Church the true succession of the Episcopate. Could it be that this gift was now to be set at naught by the General Convention?

It was not so intended. The men who advocated the change had in mind the delusive hope of promoting church unity by this concession to the ministers of the Denominations. They made a distinction which was unreal between the prophetic and the priestly functions, a distinction which is not recognized in the ordination of priests. There the power is given to them to administer the sacraments and to preach. "Take thou authority to preach the Word of God and to minister the Holy Sacraments in the congregation where thou shall be lawfully appointed thereunto." If the ministers of other religious bodies are to preach or speak in the churches it must be only by such delegated and reflected power as is often given to laymen. I yield to no one in my respect and honor for the men who are preaching the gospel outside of our communion. I recognize the greatness of their work and am honored oftentimes, when occasion arises and when the cause is a common one of protecting morality or defending our mutual faith, to stand beside them or follow their leadership; but this Church of ours has something, which they have not, the descent from the Apostles, or what we call the Apostolic succession, which gives its validity to our orders and sacraments and imparts its stability to our doctrine. As Bishop Lightfoot says at the end of his great and extremely conservative essay on the Christian ministry, "If the facts do not allow us to unchurch other Christian communities differently organized, they do at least justify our jealous adhesion to a polity derived from this source." Nor do I believe that this Church of ours will lose by this loyalty to its principles. We stand to-day in America for the highest ideal of Christian unity, unity which is by no means mere good fellowship, but is founded on the sacred and true traditions of Christianity. I know not when unity will come to the divided Christendom, but when God in His own time shall bring it about, I believe that this Church will be the meeting ground of all those who seek the Apostles' doctrine and fellowship.

The great Roman Catholic Church, which has recently had its centennial in New York, is going through at the present time upheavals of thought which must soon, I fear, produce revolution. The Greek Church shows signs of waking up to its responsibility and claiming its freedom from state control. And the best representatives of Protestantism are watching with sympathy and reverence our orderly ways and loyalty to Apostolic truth and are looking to this Church as one which holds the allegiance of its people through its own allegiance to the Gospel faith in the God-man, Christ Jesus. It is no time to throw away all this advantage in the mere following of a sentiment, when any day we may find that American Christianity will unite on the worship and doctrine of the Prayer Book.

But, perhaps, some one would ask, "Why do you, as Bishop, holding such views, consent to any action under Canon 19 in this Diocese? My answer must be that the bishop's function is only to interpret the canon. The canon has been amended and passed by the General Convention. It has thus become the law of the Church. Arbitrarily to set it aside as of no force or obligation in the Diocese of Long Island would seem to me to be action far exceeding the powers committed to me at my ordination. But the canon does give to each bishop the duty of deciding when and how it shall be applied.

Accordingly, I desire to lay down certain principles which shall be my guide and which will, I trust, appeal to clergy and laity alike as reasonable and as giving a wholesome understanding of the whole question.

First. The "Christian men not ministers of this Church" who speak under this canon in our churches must do so as laymen. They must not wear the official dress of a clergyman. They must not take part by officiating in the service as ministers or reading prayers or benediction.

Second. Those who speak under this canon must confine themselves to such topics as are not distinctively doctrinal or controversial. They must understand that they are not commissioned to deliver any message which should in any way controvert the Church's teaching.

Third. The occasion must be a special one. The regular Sunday services are not to be regarded as special. The occasion must be such as can be reasonably called special, either on account of the time when the service is held or the object for which the congregation is assembled.

Fourth. The permission must be asked of the Bishop before the invitation is extended. The Bishop must never be placed in the embarrassing position of one who must go against his better judgment or else run the risk of wounding the feelings of men whom he respects and honors.

The great prominence given to this alteration of Canon 19 in certain quarters has seemed to me to justify this explanation of my own position. There has been much misunderstanding about the canon which was amended by the House of Bishops and the General Convention with the desire to put a stop to certain irregularities which had crept into the Church and which seemed to defy condemnation. The wording of the canon has no ambiguity in one sense at any rate, and no sophistry can conceal the fact that on the bishop, and on him alone, must rest the responsibility for all these special services in his Diocese. The canon, as it exists, is, I believe, constitutional. Unless we were to take the ground that under no circumstances should Christian men, not ministers of this Church, speak in our churches, I do not see how any canon could be better framed. But no principle either of polity or theology has been disregarded by its provisions which are intended to meet exceptional requirements.

But, while there seems therefore no reason for debating in regard to this question, yet the five Constitutional Amendments which have been proposed come to us now officially from the Secretary of the General Convention. They are: first, the introduction of the Preamble which I have already discussed; second, an amendment to Article I providing for the future election of a Presiding Bishop; third, an alteration of Article II allowing for the election of suffragan Bishops; fourth, an amendment to Article IX permitting the General Convention to provide by canon for the trial of a Presbyterian or Deacon; and fifth, an addition to Article X by which verbal alterations may be made in the Book of Common Prayer when translated into foreign languages. These are all deep and far-reaching changes which may well occupy the mind and heart of clergy and laity who are leaders of thought in the Church. With the limited time at our disposal it would not be well to discuss them at this Convention.

If any action were taken, the wisest thing might be to refer them to a sufficiently large committee who could report at a subsequent Convention if any recommendation seemed to them desirable. But the subjects themselves are well worthy of our own deep and careful consideration.

The New York State Legislature has during the past year greatly improved the State law of marriage by providing marriage licenses. This should prevent secret marriages and should be a check on hasty and thoughtless assumption of the nuptial vows. The deep responsibility must, however, continue to rest on the clergy to use every effort to see that the unions which they solemnize and bless are in accordance with the will of God.

To our great regret the Legislature has not yet passed the law against the vicious custom of gambling on the race tracks. The Governor of the State has had the sympathy of the Church in this struggle for righteousness. "The bull-fight," said Lord Lytton while he was ambassador to Spain, "is preferable to the race-course. If more cruel it is certainly less ignoble." That is the testimony of many. It is the bookmakers and the gamblers who debauch the conscience and ruin the souls of men, and we cannot rejoice too heartily that at last this demoralizing institution of the race-track seems to be doomed.

I have thus finished my review of the work of the Church during the past year. May I be permitted one personal word? For six years I have been presiding officer in this Diocese. A public man must trust to time to justify his acts. Newspapers and satirists and private critics enjoy their day and have their hour. As representing large interests and responsibility, I have had to do some things which were unpopular. But I can find no better words now to express my thoughts than those with which I closed my address in this Cathedral six years ago: "Whether men give their allegiance to me or not is, comparatively speaking, of small consequence, but it is of supreme moment to me that I never use my authority save in the cause of justice and truth. I pray God that the clergy of this Diocese may find in me one who will stand by them officially when their reputation is slandered or their position imperiled, and that the laity will grow to respect me as one whom they can count on in every honorable and judicious action."

Obituaries.

It is my duty to name some of those who during the Convention year passed into Paradise. Four Bishops are among the number, the late Rev. Leighton Coleman, D.D., for nineteen years the able Bishop of New York; the Right Rev. George Worthington, S.T.D., for twenty-three years Bishop of Nebraska, a man whose steadfastness of purpose and sincerity of affection made men love and trust him; the Right Rev. Henry Ches Saterlee, D.D., who for twelve years held the responsible position of Bishop of Washington and did lasting service for the Church, and the late Rev. Ellison Capers, D.D., who was Bishop of South Carolina for twenty-one years, honored for his life, his character and his work.

The Rev. Henry Betts Cornwell, D.D., was ordained by Bishop Lithgow in 1871 and was Rector Emeritus of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Brooklyn. He died at Newburgh, N. Y., January 10, 1908.

The Rev. David T. Quinby was ordained to the priesthood by Bishop Leighton, June 10, 1900, and was Curate in the Church of the Messiah, Brooklyn. Owing to an accident, his health shortly after his ordination failed and he died January 13, 1908.

Among laymen Dr. John Ordronaux was conspicuous for his learning and devotion to the Church, to several of whose charities he left large bequests.

Two women who were well known in the Diocese have died. Miss Margaret J. Maurice, one of the surviving sisters of James Maurice, whose great benefactions to this Diocese are well known, died in November, 1907.

Sister Caroline, who was for many years principal of St. Catharine's Hall, Brooklyn, and St. Catharine's-in-the-Mountains, was a member of the Sisters of St. John the Evangelist.

"We thank God for the good examples of all His Saints who have finished their course and now rest from their labors."

In the past year, a skylight, at the cost of $100, was placed in the roof of the sanctuary, by our anonymous, but most generous friend, who donated the organ in the year previous. The additional light has proved of immense advantage in the points of convenience, beauty and economy. The people of St. Augustine's Church are, indeed, grateful to that modest friend who himself discovered the need, suggested the skylight, and paid for the same.

This church community worships in a rented room at the corner of Belmont Avenue and Elton Street. This mission work was begun in July, 1907. Previous to that time many of the people had never heard of this Church. The promise of a progressive, and ultimately successful work in this new field is very evident. The welcome reception extended to the venture of ours has been, by far, more earnest and genuine than had been expected. The Rector is indebted to many friends for various kinds of assistance, and particularly so to Mr. Walter D. McClane, a student in the General Theological Seminary, for his earnest labors and hearty co-operation in the maintenance of the work.

Since September 1, 1907, St. Lydia's Mission has been without a permanent id, the services having been taken charge of by the rector, curate and lay ders of St. Ann's-on-the-Heights, with the exception of a celebrant for the ly Communion on the morning of the first Sunday in each month, furnished the Archdeaconry of Brooklyn. This has been a serious handicap to the wth of St. Lydia's, for it is certain that systematic visiting would have n of great benefit.

The Mission is entirely self-supporting, and has been so since June, 1907, which time the monthly allowance of $12.50 for rent received from the chdeaconry ceased, but it has not yet reached the stage of being able to pay priest.

On December 1, 1907, St. Lydia's took on itself the additional burden of : interest on a mortgage of $5,000 on the building purchased for its use, and ll meet the first semi-annual payment on June 1.

There is not one dollar of floating debt, it having always been the policy of e Committee on Ways and Means not to make any purchases or have any rk done until the money was in sight to pay for the same.

The difference between our income this year and last is due to the fact that our new Parish House was built and paid for last year. Our offerings ordinarily this year have been larger than ever before, but on the account of new flats going up next door to the Church and the dilapidation of the Church we have had to make many repairs this year. We began our work last fall with a deficit of over $500, which was incurred in furnishing our little Parish House. We have paid our way and ended the year with a deficit of $320. Had it not been for the crisis I feel sure we would have cleared up the deficit. There seems to be perfect harmony among my people. The services are well attended and the future never looked brighter.

During the past conventional year the outside of the Church has been repainted and a number of repairs and improvements made upon and within the structure. A concrete walk to the main and to the choir room door has been constructed. A Meneely bell in memory of Edward Burling Briggs, D.D.S., placed in the belfry. It was dedicated and rung for the first time on Christmas morning. It is a gift from Mrs. E. B. Briggs. The financial developments reasonably accords with the purses of the people. A nucleus toward liquidation of the mortgage is in existence and is held in trust by Mr. P. Jennings. If the mortgage was out of the way the Mission could rely on the Archdeaconry appropriation and apply for a Parish charter. The spiritual growth is steady and healthy. The annual Confirmation service will be held May 22d.

The outlook is brighter than ever. The prospect of receiving a rectory most encouraging. Alterations and improvements in the church to cost $250, are under way. The church has a stronger position in the community than ever before. The attendance at services and the offerings have been during the past year, the largest known. Fifteen have been confirmed in two years, and that so few have been baptized is simply because there are so few to be found unbaptized. The Priest in charge has completed five years of resident work, and has well grounded hopes for the work to come.

1. To increase the number of women and children interested in Missions.

The Women's Board of the Church Charity Foundation, organized in 1902, is composed of the former Board of Associates and the co-workers of the different Houses, viz.: The Home for the Aged, The Orphan House, St. John's Hospital, and the Home for the Blind.

The object of the Board is to solicit contributions of money, material, and produce in behalf of the Church Charity Foundation, and to further the interest of the same.

The work is carried on through the House and other Committees each of which has its own Chairman, appointed by the President of the Board.

The regular meetings of the Women's Board are held on the Wednesday in each month from October to June, at 11 o'clock, in Home for the Aged, 464 Herkimer Street.

The Executive Committee meets at 10 o'clock on the same day.

The Rectors of the Diocese are expected to appoint women to represent their respective parishes on the Women's Board.

The Chairmen of Committees must be communicants of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

All women in sympathy with the work are eligible as members, names being presented and voted upon by the Board. Present membership about 200. Dues are $3 a year.

The Church Club

OF THE

This Club was incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, with the approval and commendation of Bishop Littlejohn, on the 17th of March, 1894, having in view the following objects: "To furnish members thereof facilities for social intercourse, for literary and historical study of the history and doctrines of the Church and to maintain a library and such club rooms as shall be required."

Regular monthly meetings are held in the Church club rooms, at 170 Remsen Street, on the fourth Monday of each month (except June, July, August and September), at which addresses are made by prominent speakers, and social exercises, with light refreshments, complete the evening's entertainment.

The Club numbers about 175 members, representing forty parishes of the Diocese, and it is hoped that a still larger number will soon avail themselves of this truly central Diocesan organization—a neutral meeting ground for the laymen of all parishes.

The annual dinner and reception to the Bishop will be held in October, and distinguished gentlemen are to address the Club during the coming year.

At the annual election in March there is an address upon some phase of the Reformation. During the year the following speakers have addressed the club:

Rev. William Sheafe Chase, "The Enforcement of Law and Order."

Mr. Sereno S. Pratt, "The Nation and the Gamblers."

Rev. J. Howard Melish, "Social Religion."

Hon. Charles M. Chadwick, "Trade Schools."

Rev. W. H. Van Allen, "The Protestant Reformation."

Extract from the Laws of New York

RELATING TO

CHAPTER XLII OF THE GENERAL LAWS.

The Religious Corporations Laws.

ARTICLE I. Provisions Applicable to Religious Corporations Gen-

1. SALE, MORTGAGE AND LEASE OF REAL PROPERTY OF RELIGIOUS CORPORATIONS.—A religious corporation shall not sell or mortgage any real property without applying for and obtaining leave of the court pursuant to the provisions of the code of civil procedure. The vestry of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal Church shall not vote any resolution or proposition for the sale, mortgage or lease of its property unless the rector of said church, if it then has a rector, is present, and shall not make application to the court for leave to mortgage any of its real property, which has been consecrated or is used for regular religious services by the congregation of such church or which is used for a rectory or parsonage, without the consent of the vestry and standing committee of the Diocese to which such church belongs; but in case the See be vacant, or the Bishop be absent or unable to act, the consent of the standing committee with their certificate of the absence of the See or of the absence or disability of the Bishop shall suffice. The trustees of an incorporated Roman Catholic Church shall not make application to the court for leave to mortgage, lease or sell any of its real property without the consent of the Archbishop or Bishop of the Diocese to which such church belongs, or in case of their absence or inability to act, without the consent of the Vicar-General or Administrator of the Diocese. The petition of the trustees of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal Church or Roman Catholic Church shall, in addition to the matters required by the code of civil procedure to be set forth therein, set forth that this section has also been complied with. But lots, plots, or burial permits in a cemetery owned by a religious corporation may be sold without applying for or obtaining leave of the court. No cemetery lands of a religious corporation shall be mortgaged while used for cemetery purposes.

ARTICLE II. Special provisions for the Incorporation and Government of Protestant Episcopal Parishes or Churches:

SECTION 30. The meeting for incorporation.

31. The certificate of incorporation.
32. Corporate Trustees; Vestry; power and duties thereof.
33. Annual Elections of incorporated Protestant Episcopal parishes.
34. Changing the number of vestrymen of Protestant Episcopal parishes hereafter incorporated.
35. Changing date of annual election, number and terms of office of vestrymen and terms of churchwardens of Protestant Episcopal Churches heretofore incorporated.
36. Changing the qualifications of voters and the qualifications of wardens and vestrymen.

§ 30. THE MEETING FOR INCORPORATION.—Notice of a meeting for the purpose of incorporating an unincorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or congregation, and of electing the first churchwardens and vestrymen thereof, shall specify the object, time and place of such meeting, and shall be made public for at least two weeks prior to such meeting, either by open reading of such notice in time of divine service, at the usual place of worship of such parish or congregation, or by posting the same conspicuously on the outer door of such place of worship.

Only men of full age who have been regular attendants at the worship of such parish or congregation and contributors to the support thereof for one year next prior to such meeting, or since the establishment of such parish or congregation, shall be qualified to vote at such meeting.

The presence of at least six persons qualified to vote thereat shall be necessary to constitute a quorum at such meeting. The action of the meeting upon any matter or question shall be decided by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon, a quorum being present.

The officiating minister, or, if there be none, or he shall be necessarily absent, any other person qualified to vote at the meeting, who is called to the chair, shall preside thereat. Such presiding officer shall receive the votes, be the judge of the qualifications of the voters, and declare the result of the votes cast at such meeting.

The polls of the meeting shall remain open for one hour or longer in the discretion of the presiding officer, or, if required, by a vote of a majority of the voters present.

The meeting shall decide whether such unincorporated parish or congregation shall become incorporated. If such decision be in favor of incorporation, such meeting shall decide upon the name of the proposed corporation; what secular day of the week, beginning with the first day in Advent, shall be the date of the regular annual election; whether the vestrymen thereof shall be three, six or nine; and shall elect from the persons qualified to be voters thereat, who have been baptized, one-third of the number of vestrymen so decided upon to hold office until the first annual election to be held thereafter, one-third of such number to hold office until one year after such annual election, and one-third of such number to hold office until two years after such annual election; and shall elect from such qualified voters who are communicants in the Protestant Episcopal Church, two persons to be churchwardens thereof, one to hold office until such annual election, and one to hold office until one year after such annual election.

31. THE CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION.—If such meeting shall decide in favor of incorporation and comply with the next preceding section, the presiding officer of such meeting and at least two other persons present and voting thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate of incorporation setting forth:

- 1. The fact of the calling and holding of such meeting;
- 2. The name of the corporation as decided upon thereat;
- 3. The county, and the town, city or village, in which its principal place of worship is, or is intended to be, located;
- 4. The day of the week, commencing with the first Sunday in Advent; which the annual election shall be held;
- 5. The number of vestrymen decided upon at such meeting;
- 6. The names of the vestrymen elected at such meeting and the term of office of each;
- 7. The names of the churchwardens elected at such meeting and the term of office of each.

On filing such certificate in the office of the clerk of the county, so provided therein, the churchwardens and vestrymen so elected and their successors in office, together with the rector, when there is one, shall form a vestry, and shall be the trustees of such church or congregation; and they and their successors shall thereupon, by virtue of this act, be a body corporate by the name or title expressed in such certificate, and shall have power, from time to time, to adopt by-laws for its governance.* Such corporation shall be an incorporated church, and may be termed an incorporated parish.

32. CORPORATE TRUSTEES; VESTRY; POWERS AND DUTIES THEREOF.—Churchwardens and vestrymen of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church, together with the rector thereof, if any, shall be the trustees of the corporation and shall also constitute the vestry of the parish.

No meeting of the vestry or trustees of any incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church shall be held unless either all the members thereof are present, or three days' notice thereof shall be given to each member thereof, by the rector in writing either personally or by mail, or, if there be no rector or he is incapable of acting by one of the churchwardens; except that twenty-four hours' notice of the first meeting of the vestry or trustees after an annual election, shall be sufficient; provided such meeting be held within three days after the election.

To constitute a quorum of the vestry or board of trustees there must be present either:

1. The rector, at least one of the churchwardens, and a majority of vestrymen; or,
2. The rector, both churchwardens and one less than a majority of vestrymen; or,
3. If the rector be absent from the Diocese and shall have been so absent for over four calendar months, or if the meeting be called by the rector and he be absent therefrom, or be incapable of acting, one churchwarden and a majority of the vestrymen, or both churchwardens and one less than a majority of the vestrymen.

But if there be a rector of the parish, no measure shall be taken, in his absence, in any case, for effecting the sale or disposition of the real property of the corporation, nor for the sale or disposition of the capital or principal of the personal property of the corporation, nor shall any act be done which shall impair the rights of such rector.

The presiding officer of the vestry or trustees shall be the rector, or if there be none, or he be absent, the churchwarden who shall be called to the chair by a majority of the votes, if both the churchwardens be present; or the churchwarden present, if but one be present.

At each meeting of the vestry or trustees each member thereof shall be entitled to one vote.

The vestry shall have power to fill a vacancy occurring in the office of a churchwarden or vestryman by death, resignation or otherwise than by expiration of term, until the next annual election, at which, if such vacancy would continue thereafter, it shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term.

If vacancies exist in the offices of the churchwardens or vestrymen in such number that a quorum of the vestry or board of trustees is not in office at any time, the rector shall forthwith call a special election for the filling of such vacancies. If there be no rector, the churchwarden longest in office shall call such special election. Notice of such special election shall be read by the rector, or if there be none, or he be absent, by the officiating minister or by one of the churchwardens, on the Sunday preceding such election, in the time of divine service. If for any the usual place of worship of the parish be not open for divine on such Sunday, such notice shall be posted conspicuously on the door of the place of worship for one week next preceding the election. Such notice shall conform to that required for an annual election. The provisions of section thirty-three of this chapter, relating to election shall apply to such special election, except as inconsistent therewith. Such vacancies shall be filled at such election for the remainder of unexpired terms.

The vestry may, subject to the canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, and of the Diocese in which the parish or church is situated, by a majority vote, elect a rector to fill a vacancy existing in the rectorship of the parish, and may fix the salary or compensation of the rector.

3. ANNUAL ELECTIONS OF INCORPORATED PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCHES.—The annual election of a Protestant Episcopal parish, heretofore incorporated, shall be held on the secular day in the week commencing with the first Sunday in Advent, designated in its certificate of incorporation. The annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church heretofore incorporated shall be held on the day or such annual election, by or in pursuance of law, or if no such day be so fixed, then on the Monday next after the first Sunday in January.

Notice of such annual election shall be read by the rector of the parish, or, if there be none, or he be absent, by the officiating minister or churchwarden thereof, on each of the two Sundays next preceding the election, in the time of divine service, or if, for any reason, the usual place of worship of the parish be not open for the divine service, such notice shall be posted conspicuously on the outer door of the place of worship for two weeks next preceding the election.

Each notice shall specify the place, day and hour of holding the election, the name and term of office of each churchwarden and vestryman whose term of office shall then expire, or whose office shall then be vacated for any cause, and the office for which each such officer is to be elected. The meeting for such annual election shall be held immediately after morning service.

The presiding officer of such meeting shall be the rector thereof, if he be one, or if there be none, or he be absent, one of the churchwardens elected for the purpose by a majority of the duly qualified voters, or if no churchwarden be present, a vestryman elected in like manner. Such presiding officer shall be the judge of the qualifications of voters; shall receive the votes cast; and shall declare the result of the votes cast at such election. The presiding officer of such meeting shall enter the proceedings of the meeting in the book of the minutes.

of the vestry, sign his name thereto, and offer the same to as many qualified voters present as he shall think fit, to be also signed by them.

Only men of full age belonging to the parish, who have been regular attendants at its worship and contributors to its support for at least twelve months prior to such election, or since the establishment of such parish, shall be qualified voters at any such election. The action of the meeting upon any matter or question shall be decided by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. The polls of the election shall continue open for one hour, and longer in the discretion of the presiding officer, or, if required, by a vote of a majority of the qualified voters present and voting.

The churchwardens and vestrymen shall be elected by ballot from persons qualified to vote at such election, and no person shall be eligible for election as churchwarden, unless he be also a communicant in the Protestant Episcopal Church, nor be eligible for election as vestryman, unless he shall have been baptized.

At each annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish hereafter incorporated, one churchwarden shall be elected to hold office for two years; and one-third of the total number of the vestrymen of the parish shall be elected to hold office for three years. At each annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church heretofore incorporated, two churchwardens and the total number of its vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for one year thereafter, unless the terms of office of but one churchwarden or of but one-third of its vestrymen shall then expire in which case one churchwarden shall be elected to hold office for two years, and one-third of the total number of its vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for three years. Each churchwarden and vestrymen shall hold office after the expiration of his term until his successor shall be chosen.

§ 34. CHANGING THE NUMBER OF VESTRYMEN OF PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL PARISHES HEREAFTER INCORPORATED.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish hereafter incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the number of vestrymen of such parish be changed to either three, six or nine vestrymen, notice of such recommendation shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof, and at least two qualified voters present thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry, the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election, that the meeting had ratified the same, and the number of vestrymen so decided on. Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded, and such change in the number of vestrymen shall take effect at the time of the next annual election thereafter.

If the number of vestrymen be thereby increased, then, in addition to the number of vestrymen to be elected at such next annual election, one-third of such increased number of vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for one year thereafter; one-third of such increased number shall be elected to hold office for two years thereafter, and one-third of such increased number shall be elected to hold office for three years thereafter.

If the number of vestrymen by such change be reduced, such reduction shall not affect the term of office of any vestryman duly elected, and at such next annual election, and at each annual election thereafter, one-third of such reduced number of vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for three years.

§ 35. CHANGING DATE OF ANNUAL ELECTION, NUMBER AND TERMS OF OFFICE OF VESTRYMEN AND TERMS OF OFFICE OF CHURCHWARDENS IN PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCHES HERETOFORE INCORPORATED.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish, heretofore incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the date of the annual election be changed to a secular day in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, or that the number of vestrymen be changed to three, six or nine, and that the terms of office of the churchwardens be changed so that one warden shall be elected annually, notice of such recommendation or recommendations shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation or recommendations be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof and at least two qualified voters present thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry; the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election; that such meeting had ratified the same; the date determined upon for the annual election of the parish; the number of vestrymen so decided on; and the fact that the meeting determined to thereafter elect churchwardens, so that the term of one warden shall expire annually.

Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded. If the meeting determine to change the date of the annual election, the next annual election shall be held on the day in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, determined on by such meeting, and the terms of the vestrymen and churchwardens which, pursuant to law, would expire at the next annual election shall expire, and their successors shall be elected on such day.

If the meeting determine to change the number of vestrymen and manner of electing wardens and vestrymen, there shall be elected at the first annual election thereafter, one-third of the number of vestrymen so determined on, to hold office for three years; one-third thereof to hold office for two years; and one-third thereof to hold office for one year; and one churchwarden to hold office for one year, and one to hold for two years; and thereafter at the annual election there shall be elected one-third of the number of vestrymen determined on at such meeting and one churchwarden.

§ 36. CHANGING THE QUALIFICATIONS OF VOTERS AND THE QUALIFICATIONS OF WARDENS AND VESTRYMEN.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish, heretofore incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the qualifications of voters and the qualifications of wardens and vestrymen be changed to conform in both cases to the requirement of section thirty-three of this statute, notice of such recommendation or recommendations shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation or recommendations be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof and at least two qualified voters present thereat shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry, the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election, and that the meeting had ratified the same.

Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded.

Only men of full age belonging to the parish, who have been regular attendants at its worship and contributors to its support for at least twelve months prior to such election, or since the establishment of such parish, shall be qualified voters at any such election. The action of the meeting upon any matter or question shall be decided by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. The polls of the election shall continue open for one hour, and longer in the discretion of the presiding officer, or, if required, by a vote of a majority of the qualified voters present and voting.

The churchwardens and vestrymen shall be elected by ballot from persons qualified to vote at such election, and no person shall be eligible for election as churchwarden, unless he be also a communicant in the Protestant Episcopal Church, nor be eligible for election as vestryman, unless he shall have been baptized.

At each annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish hereafter incorporated, one churchwarden shall be elected to hold office for two years; and one-third of the total number of the vestrymen of the parish shall be elected to hold office for three years. At each annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church heretofore incorporated, two churchwardens and the total number of its vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for one year thereafter, unless the terms of office of but one churchwarden or of but one-third of its vestrymen shall then expire in which case one churchwarden shall be elected to hold office for two years, and one-third of the total number of its vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for three years. Each churchwarden and vestrymen shall hold office after the expiration of his term until his successor shall be chosen.

§ 34. CHANGING THE NUMBER OF VESTRYMEN OF PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL PARISHES HEREAFTER INCORPORATED.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish hereafter incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the number of vestrymen of such parish be changed to either three, six or nine vestrymen, notice of such recommendation shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof, and at least two qualified voters present thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry, the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election, that the meeting had ratified the same; and the number of vestrymen so decided on. Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded, and such change in the number of vestrymen shall take effect at the time of the next annual election thereafter.

If the number of vestrymen be thereby increased, then, in addition to the number of vestrymen to be elected at such next annual election, one-third of such increased number of vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for one year thereafter; one-third of such increased number shall be elected to hold office for two years thereafter, and one-third of such increased number shall be elected to hold office for three years thereafter.

If the number of vestrymen by such change be reduced, such reduction shall not affect the term of office of any vestryman duly elected, and at such next annual election, and at each annual election thereafter, one-third of such reduced number of vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for three years.

§ 35. CHANGING DATE OF ANNUAL ELECTION, NUMBER AND TERMS OF OFFICE OF VESTRYMEN AND TERMS OF OFFICE OF CHURCHWARDENS IN PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCHES HERETOFORE INCORPORATED.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish, heretofore incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the date of the annual election be changed to a secular day in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, or that the number of vestrymen be changed to three, six or nine, and that the terms of office of the churchwardens be changed so that one warden shall be elected annually, notice of such recommendation or recommendations shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation or recommendations be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof and at least two qualified voters present thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry; the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election; that such meeting had ratified the same; the date determined upon for the annual election of the parish; the number of vestrymen so decided on; and the fact that the meeting determined to thereafter elect churchwardens, so that the term of one warden shall expire annually.

Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded. If the meeting determine to change the date of the annual election, the next annual election shall be held on the day in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, determined on by such meeting, and the terms of the vestrymen and churchwardens which, pursuant to law, would expire at the next annual election shall expire, and their successors shall be elected on such day.

If the meeting determine to change the number of vestrymen and manner of electing wardens and vestrymen, there shall be elected at the first annual election thereafter, one-third of the number of vestrymen so determined on, to hold office for three years; one-third thereof to hold office for two years; and one-third thereof to hold office for one year;

and one churchwarden to hold office for one year, and one to hold for two years; and thereafter at the annual election there shall be elected one-third of the number of vestrymen determined on at such meeting and one churchwarden.

§ 36. CHANGING THE QUALIFICATIONS OF VOTERS AND THE QUALIFICATIONS OF WARDENS AND VESTRYMEN.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish, heretofore incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the qualifications of voters and the qualifications of wardens and vestrymen be changed to conform in both cases to the requirement of section thirty-three of this statute, notice of such recommendation or recommendations shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation or recommendations be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof and at least two qualified voters present thereat shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry, the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election, and that the meeting had ratified the same.

Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded.

ACCEPTED BY THE CITY.

SEC. V.—The Treasurer.

[1.] At every stated Convention there shall be chosen by ballot a Treasurer, who shall remain in office until the next stated Convention, and until a successor is appointed. It shall be his duty to receive all moneys collected under the authority of the Convention, and to disburse them by the same authority; and where no disbursement has been ordered by the Convention, under the direction of the Standing Committee.

[2.] His accounts shall be rendered annually to the Convention, and shall be examined by a Committee appointed by it.

[3.] In case of a vacancy in the office of Treasurer, it shall be supplied by the Standing Committee; and the person appointed by such Committee shall continue to act until an appointment is made by the Convention.

SEC. VI.—Of Elections.

Elections by ballot, when required by the Canons, may be dispensed with by a unanimous vote of the Convention; and when the election is by ballot, a majority of the votes in each order, upon concurrent ballot, shall be necessary to a valid election.

SEC. VII.—Of the Admission of a Church into Union, and of Maintaining such Union.

[1.] To entitle a Church to admission into union with the Church in this Diocese, the Vestry or Trustees respectively shall submit to the Convention or to a Committee appointed by it, the Certificate or Act of Incorporation or a copy thereof, certified by the officer whose duty it is, or may be, to record or file certificates of incorporation of Religious Societies.

[2.] There shall also be submitted a certificate of the Ecclesiastical Authority, that the incorporation of such Church was approved before such act of incorporation, and that such Church is duly and satisfactorily established.

[3.] Satisfactory testimony, by certificate of the Rector or Churchwarden, or the principal officer of a Board of Trustees, or otherwise, shall also be given, that not less than twenty-five persons of legal age, members of such Church, have habitually, for at least six months preceding such application, attended divine service in such Church or Congregation.

[4.] The application for admission shall be in writing and shall be accompanied with a copy of a resolution adopted by the Vestry, Congregation or Trustees respectively, that such Church agrees to abide by and conform to the Constitution, Canons, Rules and Orders in force within this Diocese. Such copy shall be certified by the Secretary or Clerk, and be authenticated by the seal of the Corporation. This application, with the documents required as above, shall be sent to the Secretary of the Convention, that they may be communicated to the Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches at least thirty days before the meeting of the Convention.

[5.] The Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches shall make their report on the application to the Convention with their recommendations thereon immediately after the Secretary has been elected. The report shall be acted upon before the adjournment of the Convention. If the Convention by a majority vote shall grant the application, the Church or Congregation shall be declared by the President to have been duly received into union with the Church in this Diocese.

[6.] Whenever any Church in union shall neglect, for three years in succession, to make a parochial report (no missionary report being made in its behalf), or shall not, during the same period, have employed a Clergyman as its Parish Minister, nor requested of the Ecclesiastical Authority the services of a Missionary, such Church shall be regarded as having forfeited its connection with the Convention, and shall no longer have a right to send Delegates to the same. The Bishop shall report such Church to the Convention in his annual address, stating whether, in his judgment, after legal advice of the Lay Assessor of the Ecclesiastical Court and the Church Advocate, such Church has or has not for any cause become extinct in fact.

[7.] Such Church, however, upon proof satisfactory to the Ecclesiastical Authority that it has continued its corporate existence, may be readmitted upon an application to the Convention, accompanied with a report of its conditions, and on such terms as shall appear just; such readmission to take place from and after the rising of the Convention consenting to it.

[8.] Whenever any Church shall be thus reported as extinct by the death or removal of its members, or by ceasing to act in its corporate capacity and to keep up the services of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Convention shall declare the same to be extinct, and may instruct the Trustees of the Estate belonging to the Diocese of Long Island, to apply to the proper authorities for an order and decree of the dissolution of the same.

Of the Standing Committee.

Whereas, by Article IV. of the Constitution, it is required that there shall be a Standing Committee, to be appointed by the Convention in each Diocese, whose rights and duties, except as provided in The Constitution and The Canons may be prescribed by the Canons of the respective Diocese; therefore it is, in addition to The Constitution and The Canons, declared and prescribed as follows:

[1.] There shall be a Standing Committee to consist of four of the Clergy and four of the Laity elected by the Convention and divided into four classes, so that one of the Clergy and one of the Laity shall go out of office annually, and the two vacancies thus made shall be filled by an election by ballot and by the concurrent vote of the members of each order at every stated meeting of the Convention, of one of each order to serve for four years.

[2.] Vacancies in said Committee, occurring by death or otherwise, shall be supplied by the concurrent vote of the Clerical and Lay members of the Committee until the meeting of the next Convention, when they shall be filled by an election by ballot.

In all other cases they shall act as one body, without distinction of orders, except when otherwise directed by the Canons of the General Convention.

SEC. II.—The Bishop of the Diocese and the Standing Committee are the Trustees of the Estate belonging to the Diocese of Long Island; and they and their successors in office are hereby elected and constituted by the said title, Trustees, under the Act, Chapter 110 of the Laws of the State of New York, passed April 11, 1876, which is hereby adopted, with all powers conferred by said Act.

Until otherwise ordered, the said Trustees are restrained from the exercise of such powers, properties and trusts as are committed to the officers and committees of this Convention, already appointed and existing.

SEC. III.—In case of a vacancy in the Episcopate, or of the inability or disability of the Bishop, the powers and duties to be performed by him, in matters of discipline, shall be performed by the Standing Committee, except in those cases where such powers and duties are or may be specially delegated to or enjoined upon the Clerical members of such Committee, in which case they shall be exercised by such Clerical members alone; provided, that no sentence shall be pronounced on a Clergyman but by a Bishop.

CANON 6.

Of Deputies to the General Convention.

SECTION I.—The Convention shall, at each regular annual meeting next preceding a stated meeting of the General Convention, elect, by the concurrent ballot of the Clerical and Lay members, four Clergymen and four Laymen as deputies to the General Convention from this Diocese. It shall, also, in like manner, elect four Clergymen and four Laymen as provisional deputies, to act in the cases hereafter mentioned. Such deputies and provisional deputies shall hold their respective stations until successors are appointed, and shall be deputies or provisional deputies for any General Convention which may be held during their continuance in office.

SEC. II.—Upon any vacancy occurring, by resignation, removal from the Diocese, death, or otherwise, among the deputies, or provisional deputies, between the stated times of election, the vacancy shall be supplied by any Convention during which or prior to which such vacancy shall occur.

SEC. III.—It shall be the duty of the deputies-elect to signify to the Bishop, at least ten days before the meeting of the General Convention, their acceptance of the appointment, and their intention to discharge its duties, in default of which, the Bishop shall designate, from the list of provisional deputies, so many as may be necessary to insure, as far as practicable, a full representation of the Diocese. The Bishop shall, in like manner, designate from the same list of provisional deputies, one or more, as the case may be, to supply any deficiency in the representation of the Diocese, which may in any way occur. The person or persons so designated, being furnished with a certificate of appointment, shall have all the power and authority of deputies duly elected by the Convention.

CANON 7.

Of the Registrar and Historiographer.

SECTION I.—The journals, files, papers, reports and other documents, which, under the Canons or otherwise, shall become the property of this Convention, shall be committed to the keeping of a Presbyter to be elected by it, and who shall be known as the Registrar and Historiographer of the Diocese of Long Island.

SEC. II.—It shall be his duty to procure all such journals, files, papers, reports, copies of charters and acts of incorporation of Churches and other documents, which may be of value in the history of this Diocese, to arrange, label, file, index and otherwise put in order, and provide for the safe keeping of the same, and all such others as may hereafter come into his possession, in some safe and accessible place of deposit, and to hold the same, under such regulations and restrictions as this Convention may from time to time provide.

SEC. III.—It shall be his duty, also, to secure a proper and sufficient Book of Record, and enter therein a record of the consecration of all the Bishops of this Diocese, designating accurately the time and place of the same, with the names of the consecrating Bishops, and of others present and assisting; to record a list of all the Presbyters and Deacons, and the dates of their connection with this Diocese, and copies, of the charters and acts of incorporation of Churches in the same, with such additional facts as may be worthy of safe keeping in the archives of this Diocese.

Of the Episcopal Fund.

SECTION I.—[1.] The Fund for the support of the Episcopate in this Diocese now provided, together with what may hereafter be contributed or acquired, and any accumulation from the investment thereof, shall be intrusted to the Trustees of the Fund for the support of the Episcopate.

[2.] Such Trustees shall be five in number, and shall be appointed by and hold their offices during the pleasure of the Convention, which shall fill up such vacancies. Vacancies, however, occurring during a recess of the Convention, may be filled by the remaining Trustees, to be reported to and approved by the Convention.

SEC. II.—[1.] It shall be the duty of every Rector or Minister having charge of a Parish or Congregation in this Diocese, to cause an annual collection or contribution to be made in aid of the Fund for the support of the Episcopate, and in case of a vacant Parish, the duty shall devolve upon the Wardens and Vestrymen.

[2.] The amount received shall be paid to the Treasurer of the said Trustees, and shall be reported by them to the next Convention, at a stated meeting, and shall be entered on its Journal.

[3.] The moneys thus raised shall be kept by the Trustees in a regular course of accumulation without diminution, until by such accumulation it shall amount to at least one hundred thousand dollars, or until the Convention shall otherwise direct.

[4.] The interest or income of the Fund shall be subject to the order of the Convention.

SEC. III.—[1.] All moneys belonging to such Fund shall be loaned by the said Trustees upon security of real estate, or invested in stock of the United States, or of the State of New York, or of the City of New York, or any Railroad Bonds, approved by the unanimous vote of the Trustees. All securities, when practicable, shall be taken in the corporate name. The Trustees may, from time to time, change such investments.

[2.] A statement exhibiting the condition of the said Fund and securities, together with all receipts and disbursements, shall be reported to the Convention at every stated meeting thereof, signed by the Trustees, or a majority of them.

CANON 9.

Of the Diocesan Fund.

SECTION I.—Whereas, it is indispensable to provide a fund for defraying the necessary expenses of the Convention, it is therefore required of every Congregation in this Diocese to pay to the Treasurer of the Con-tion, on or before the day of its annual meeting, a contribution of not less than 1 per cent. on the amount of salary of its Clergyman, which fund shall be appropriated in part by a Committee of the Convention to said expenses.

SEC. II.—And whereas, by Section V. of Canon 46, of The Canons, is made the duty of the several Diocesan Conventions to forward to the Treasurer of the General Convention, at each meeting of the same, one dollar for each Minister within the Diocese, for the purpose of paying the contingent expenses of the said Convention; therefore it shall be the duty of the Committee upon the Diocesan Fund to retain annually, out of the moneys received by them, one dollar for each Clergyman in this Diocese. The amount thus retained shall be paid by the Treasurer of the Convention to the Treasurer of the General Convention, at each meeting of the same.

CANON 10.

Of the Missionary Operations of the Diocese.

SECTION I.—The corporation organized by Special Act of the Legislature in 1902 under the name of "The Diocesan Missions of Long Island" is hereby recognized as a Diocesan institution, for which provision is commended to be made. It shall present at each annual Convention a report of its financial condition, showing its receipts and expenditures of money for the preceding year, and all property received or accepted by it in trust, or otherwise, and giving an account of all work done by it.

SEC. II.—The Diocese shall be divided into four districts to be called Archdeaconries," as follows, viz.:

[1.] The Northern Archdeaconry of the Borough of Brooklyn, including all that part of Kings County lying north of a line running from the river up the middle of Montague Street, to Fulton, to Flatbush Avenue, to Atlantic Avenue, to Franklin Avenue, south to Flatbush Avenue, to Jamaica Bay.

[2.] The Southern Archdeaconry of the Borough of Brooklyn, including all that part of the city and suburbs lying south of said line.

[3.] The Archdeaconry of Queens and Nassau, comprising Queens County and Nassau County.

[4.] The Archdeaconry of Suffolk, comprising Suffolk County.

SEC. III.—Each Archdeaconry shall be composed of the Clergy resident within its limits, together with three Laymen from each Parish, appointed annually by the Rector, or Minister-in-charge, or in his absence by the Vestry, to serve until the sitting of the next Convention, and one Lay Delegate from each Chapel or Mission Station not represented in the Convention and having fifteen or more regular communicants, to be appointed by the Minister of said Chapel from among its Laity.

For the purposes of this Canon, Clergymen shall be considered to be resident in that Archdeaconry where their work is located. But this Canon shall not be construed so as to exclude from membership Clergymen resident within the limits of the Archdeaconry and canonically resident in the Diocese, who are officers of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and those engaged as professors or instructors of youth in any College, Academy or General Seminary of learning duly incorporated.

At its first regular meeting, and every fourth year thereafter, each Archdeaconry, as constituted above, shall nominate to the Bishop for his approval or rejection a Clergyman to fill the office of Archdeacon, whose duty shall be, in the absence of the Bishop, to preside at all meetings and to perform the other functions of the office as hereinafter provided. His term of office shall be for four years from the time of his appointment, and until his successor shall be nominated and approved. In case the office should become vacant by death or resignation, a special meeting of the Archdeaconry shall be convened by the Bishop, and the said Archdeaconry shall proceed at once to the filling of the office in the manner provided above.

SEC. IV.—The Convention shall annually elect one Layman from each of said Archdeaconries, as a Trustee of "The Diocesan Missions of Long Island," and shall further elect, as Trustees of that corporation, two Clergymen and two Laymen at large. The persons so elected as Trustees of the Diocesan Missions of Long Island shall, together with the Trustees of the corporation, who hold office ex officio, constitute the Missionary Committee of the Diocese, of which Committee the Bishop shall, ex officio, be the head.

SEC. V.—The Missionary Committee thus constituted and created shall have the management of missionary operations of the Diocese and the control of the funds raised for Missionaries.

It shall have for its officers the corresponding officers of "The Diocesan Missions of Long Island."

It shall receive annually from the several Archdeaconries full reports of their work, and with the aid of said reports it shall make a full annual report to the Diocesan Convention, giving an account of all the work done by it and moneys raised and expended by it within the limits of the Diocese. It shall meet as soon as convenient after the adjournment of the Diocesan Convention, at which meeting, after completing its organization, it shall designate the amounts derived from each Archdeaconry, and allot the amount to be expended in each Archdeaconry, and shall at once notify the secretaries of the several Archdeaconries of its action; such designation and allotment to be based in a general way upon the reports of the previous year. Its fiscal year shall end at the meeting of the Missionary Committee next preceding the Diocesan Convention, said meeting to be not less than five days before such Convention.

SEC. VI.—It shall be the duty of the Archdeacon to take the oversight of the missionary work in the Archdeaconry—with the exception of Cathedral and Parochial Chapels. He shall confer with the Bishop as to plans and details, and with the Clergy within the limits of whose parishes missionary work may be proposed or is being conducted. He shall survey the ground, and propose, as occasion offers, plans of operations, and in case such plans be adopted by the Archdeaconry, awaken, as far as opportunity can be found, an interest therein on the part of the congregations. Each Archdeaconry shall annually present a report of the condition and progress of the missionary work within its limits to the Missionary Committee of the Diocese, in time for said Committee to make its report to the Convention. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer of each Archdeaconry to receive contributions from the parishes and to forward the same to the Treasury of the Missionary Committee of the Diocese, and to keep and account for the money of the Archdeaconry, paying out any such sums as he shall be authorized to pay by a regular meeting.

SEC. VII.—Each Archdeaconry shall, in open meeting, under the advice of the Bishop, and with the consent of the Clergy within the limit of whose parishes missionary work may be proposed, conduct the missionary work within its own limits; shall have control and distribution of the money allotted to it by the Missionary Committee, in aid of mission stations and feeble parishes; shall apportion for collection among its parishes and missions the sums from time to time so allotted; and may, at its discretion, with the approval of the Bishop, undertake special missionary work within its limits, and raise funds for such purposes; provided it shall first have met the assessments made upon it by the Missionary Committee.

SEC. VIII.—Each Archdeaconry shall hold, at least twice annually, stated meetings for the transaction of its business, and no apportionments or appropriations shall be made except at those meetings. The time and place of such meetings shall be fixed by the vote or by-laws of each Archdeaconry.

It shall be the duty of each Clergyman, unless prevented by grave and reasonable causes, to attend the regular meetings of the Archdeaconry, and to report all missionary work done in his cure. The party so applying shall accompany his application with the interrogatories proposed to be propounded to the witness. The Lay Assessor shall then appoint a Commissioner, and fix a time and place to settle the interrogatories before him, at which time and place the other party shall, if he desires, present cross-interrogatories; and further interrogatories may be added with the approbation of the Lay Assessor, and a reasonable time allowed for that purpose, if the Lay Assessor shall deem it necessary or proper. If his last place of abode cannot be ascertained, a publication of a copy in a public newspaper, printed at the seat of government of the State or Territory in which he last resided, shall be sufficient.

VIII.—The Court, having fully heard the allegations and proofs of the parties, and deliberately considered the same after the parties have withdrawn, the Lay Assessor shall deliver an opinion in writing of the law and facts of the case, in matters not strictly theological. The Clerical members of the Court shall then declare respectively whether, in their opinion, the accused is guilty or not guilty of each particular charge and specification contained in the presentment, in the order in which they are set forth; and the accused shall be considered as not guilty of every charge and specification of which he shall not be pronounced guilty by a unanimous vote of the Clerical members of the Court.

In case of a vacancy in the Episcopate, the Standing Committee shall call in the Bishop of some other Diocese, who shall be requested, and is hereby authorized, to act therein, and proceed in the same manner as the Bishop of this Diocese would be authorized to do.

SEC. II.—The Bishop, having received the judgment of the Court, it shall be his duty to inform the accused of the sentence thereof and call upon him to show reason, if any, why the judgment should not be sustained. He may receive from him any statement in mitigation of sentence.

SEC. III.—The Bishop having reviewed and adjudged upon the case, shall proceed to pronounce such sentence as may be proper, not exceeding in severity that recommended by the Court. Such sentence shall be pronounced in the presence of any three Presbyters of the Diocese, after notice to the party of the time and place appointed therefor, and publicly in a Church, or privately, as the Bishop shall determine.

SEC. IV.—A copy of a sentence of suspension shall be sent to the accused, and another to the Vestry or Vestries of the Church or Churches with which he may be canonically connected and such other publicity may be given to it as the Bishop may think expedient.

CANON 22.

Of Differences between Ministers and Congregations.

[2.] The parties may agree upon a written statement of facts, and submit the same. If not agreed upon, the application must contain a statement setting forth in substance the ground or grounds on which the interference is sought. A copy of such papers shall be served upon the other party with ten days' notice of the intention to present them. An answer in writing shall be made and delivered.

[3.] When a statement is agreed upon, or no answer is made, or the case shall clearly appear to require no further inquiry as to facts, the Ecclesiastical Authority shall pass upon the same, and if a dissolution of the pastoral relation be deemed necessary, may recommend to such Pastor or Minister to relinquish his titles, on such conditions as shall appear reasonable.

[4.] Whenever further inquiry shall be deemed expedient, or if, when an answer is filed, either party shall demand it, the Ecclesiastical Authority, being a Bishop, shall transmit the papers to the Standing Committee, for action upon the same.

SEC. II.—[1.] The Standing Committee in such case, as well as when the application is to said Committee as the Ecclesiastical Authority, shall thereupon designate three of its members, one of whom shall be a Layman, to inquire into the facts and take evidence thereon. Ten days' notice of time and place where such inquiry is to be held shall be given to each party. The testimony so taken shall be reported to the Standing Committee, who, after considering the same, shall recommend to the Bishop such action as they deem proper to be taken in the premises.

[2.] The Bishop, if he approves the recommendation of the Standing Committee, shall declare a final judgment in accordance therewith, giving ten days' notice to each party of the time and place of announcing the same.

SEC. III.—[1.] If the final judgment in any case be a recommendation that the pastoral relations be dissolved, and that titles be relinquished by the Minister, and he shall refuse to comply with the same within thirty days after the decision shall be made known to him, the Bishop may proceed to declare the canonical dissolution of all connection between the parties.

[2.] And if the Vestry or Congregation refuse or neglect to comply with their part with such decision or judgment, the Church shall be prohibited from a representation in the Diocesan Convention until they submit to the same.

V. If the President ex-officio is not present at the opening of the Convention, the Secretary shall call the Convention to order, when the Senior Minister present, being entitled to a seat, shall take the chair; and in such case, immediately after the organization of the Convention, a President shall be elected by ballot from among the Presbyters.

VI. Before the rising of the Convention, the minutes of the last day's proceedings shall be read and approved.

VII. The Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church; Clergymen belonging in this Diocese, but not entitled to seats in this Convention; Clergymen of other Dioceses, Professors and Students of Theology in the Protestant Episcopal Church, and all persons holding any office or position under the Convention, if not members, shall be admitted to the sittings of the Convention.

VIII. The hours of each day's session shall be from 9 A. M. to 12.30 P. M., and from 1.30 P. M. to 5 P. M., and when ordered by the Convention from 7 to 10 P. M.

IX. The mode of conducting the stated Elections by ballot shall be as follows:

Immediately after nominations are closed on the first day, the Secretary shall prepare all ballots for the several offices and committees to be elected, containing the names of all persons nominated therefor, in alphabetical order, and stating the number of names to be voted for such office or committee, which ballots shall be on the Secretary's desk, for distribution at the opening of the Convention on the second day.

Voters shall prepare their ballots by striking out the names of those whom they do not vote, leaving uncanceled not more than the number to be elected by the ballot voted.

Nothing herein shall prevent the voting of any ballot that may be presented.

No ballot shall be counted by the Inspectors which contains more names uncanceled than the number required to fill the office or committee for which the ballot is cast.

X. No Motion shall be considered as before the Convention unless seconded, and, when required, reduced to writing.

XI. When a question is before the Convention, no Motion, except as hereinafter provided, shall be received, but to lay it on the table, to postpone it indefinitely, to postpone it to a certain time, to commit it or to amend it; which motions shall have precedence in the order named. But a motion to strike out the word "Resolved" shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be equivalent to a rejection of the Resolution.

XII. All Amendments shall be considered in the order in which they are received. When a proposed amendment is under consideration, a motion to amend the same may be made; no after amendment to such Amendment shall be in order.

XIII. A Motion to lay on the table shall be decided without debate.

XIV. A Motion to adjourn shall always be in order, when no member is speaking, and shall be decided without debate. A motion to fix the hour or day to which the Convention shall adjourn takes precedence of a Motion to adjourn, and shall be decided without debate.

XV. The mover may withdraw a motion or Resolution at any time before decision or Amendment, in which case it shall not be entered upon the Minutes.

XVI. If a Question under debate contain several distinct propositions, the same shall be divided, at the request of any member, and a vote taken separately.

XVII. No member may speak more than twice on the same Question without leave of the Convention, nor more than once in any case until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

XVIII. Every member present shall vote whenever a Question is put, unless excused by the Convention on account of his being personally interested in the result, or for other cause.

XIX. The Votes shall be taken by Ayes and Noes, and by Orders, whenever called for by five members.

Rules of Order.

XX. In taking the Vote by Orders, it shall be the right of any member of a Delegation, who may dissent from the vote of the majority of the Delegation, to have the fact of his dissent recorded on the Minutes.

XXI. A Question being decided, shall not be reconsidered during the same session, without the consent of two-thirds of the members present, or without the Motion for that purpose being made by one of the majority on the first decision. No Question shall be reconsidered more than once.

XXII. All Special Committees shall be appointed by the President, unless otherwise ordered.

XXIII. The Reports of all Committees shall be in writing, and shall be received, of course, without motion for acceptance. They shall be entered on the Minutes, unless otherwise ordered. If recommending or requiring any action or expression of opinion by the Convention, they shall be accompanied by a Resolution or Resolutions for its consideration.

XXIV. When a member is called to order by the President or another member, he shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain. All Questions of order shall be determined in the first instance by the President; but any member may appeal from any decision of the chair; and on such appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the Convention.

XXV. All Questions relating to priority of business shall be decided without debate.

XXVI. The prescribed Order of Business shall not be departed from, or shall any Rule of Order be suspended, unless by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

XXVII. The majority of a Quorum shall always be required to elect any officer.

The First Day.

The Rev. John Henri Sattig presented the Report of the Committee on the General Theological Seminary and offered the resolutions appended thereto:

Report

OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

The Committee on the General Theological Seminary take pleasure in reporting that the oft-proposed change in the method of governing the Seminary is about to be realized. Steps are now being taken to reduce the Board of Trustees from an unwieldy body of over one hundred members, to a small, compact working Board, and that a joint Committee to go about this reform was appointed at the last General Convention 1907. To facilitate this improvement it has been suggested that the aid of the several dioceses be invoked, and therefore we make the following statement and offer the following recommendation:

The relation of this Diocese to the Seminary is provided for in Article III of the Constitution of the General Theological Seminary, which provides that "the Board of Trustees shall be constituted as follows: 'Every Bishop of the Church, and the Dean of the Seminary, shall be entitled to be a member of the Board. There shall also be fifty other Trustees, twenty-five of whom shall be appointed by certain Dioceses on the basis of their former contributions to the Seminary, as follows: New York, ten; Western New York, one; Long Island, two; Albany, one; Central New York, one; New Jersey, one; Newark, one; Massachusetts, one; Pennsylvania, three; Maryland, one; North Carolina, one; South Carolina, two; and the remaining twenty-five shall be chosen by the House of Deputies at each stated General Convention.'" As sixty-six of the Bishops of the Church have, in accordance with the Constitution, signified their willingness to serve as Trustees, the Board of Trustees of the General Theological Seminary now numbers one hundred and seventeen members—manifestly an unwieldy body. Moreover, as the usual attendance at an annual meeting is between thirty and forty, it must be, to a great extent, an uninformed body.

This Constitution of the Board has long been unsatisfactory to those who have felt an interest in the Seminary, and, now that the conflicting interests which compelled the compromise expressed in the above Article have long been forgotten, a reduction in the numbers of the Board has recently been proposed, and at the last General Convention a joint committee was appointed having the reorganization of the Board of Trustees of the Seminary as one of its ultimate objects.

The First Day.

To this reorganization the primary obstacle is the right given by the Constitution to various dioceses to elect Trustees to represent them on the basis of former contributions to the Seminary. It is proposed by your Committee that, to aid the greatly needed reorganization of the Board of Trustees of the General Theological Seminary, and in order to clear the way for the work of the Joint Committee of the General Convention, the Diocese of Long Island, by vote of this Convention, surrenders its right to elect Trustees of the General Theological Seminary; that this Committee on the General Theological Seminary be authorized by the Convention to confer with other dioceses that have a similar right to elect Trustees, with a view to their surrender of that right; and, further, that your Committee be authorized to confer with the Joint Committee of the General Convention, as to the course of action by this Diocese best calculated to further its work for the benefit of the Seminary.

Your Committee, therefore, begs leave to offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island hereby declares its willingness and intention to surrender its right, granted by Article III of the Constitution of the General Theological Seminary, to elect annually two Trustees of the said Seminary, provided that the other dioceses having similar rights under the said Constitution agree to make a like surrender.

Resolved, That the Committee on the General Theological Seminary be empowered and instructed to confer with the other dioceses having the right to elect Trustees of the General Theological Seminary, with a view to the surrender of all such privileges by the dioceses to which they are given by the Constitution of the Seminary, and to report the result of such conference to the next annual meeting of this Convention.

Resolved, That the Committee on the General Theological Seminary be empowered and instructed to confer with the Joint Committee on the General Theological Seminary appointed by the General Convention of 1907, as to the steps which can be taken by this Diocese to facilitate the work of the Joint Committee.

We would state in reference to the legal questions involved in this matter, that the Secretary of the Committee on the General Theological Seminary, of the Diocese of New York, reports to us that the best legal advice agrees that the several dioceses possess no inalienable vested rights to elect Trustees to the General Theological Seminary, and that joint action by the General Convention and the Board of Trustees of the Seminary may legally reorganize the Board, without reference to these dioceses; yet it would avoid much needless discussion at the next General Convention if the dioceses interested voluntarily surrender their right to appoint Trustees under the Constitution.

Your Committee has consulted with the Bishop of the Diocese and report that he, too, is heartily in favor of this change and of these resolutions, and we therefore offer them, believing that their passage will facilitate the bringing about of a much-needed reform.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

These resolutions were carried.

The Rev. James Clarence Jones, Ph.D., offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That Canon 2, Section II, be amended by inserting the following words between paragraphs (5) and (6), and numbering the other paragraphs accordingly:

"Hereafter, no layman, who has not previously served as a member of this Convention, shall be eligible for election to membership in this body unless he shall have been confirmed in accordance with the last rubric at the end of the Confirmation Office in the Book of Common Prayer."

Referred to Committee on Canons.

The Rev. James Clarence Jones, Ph.D., offered the following pending resolution:

Resolved, That hereafter delegates elected by this body to the General Convention shall be permitted, if in their judgment it seems necessary, to draw on the Treasurer of the Diocese for an amount sufficient to cover mileage and for board, not to exceed two dollars per day during attendance at the session of the Convention.

Upon motion this was referred to Committee on Canons.

The Rev. Kirkland Huske reported for the Committee to consider the Proposed Alterations in the Constitution of the Church and presented the following report and memorial:

*The First Day.Report*OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE CONVENTION TO CONSIDER PROPOSED ALTERATION IN THE CONSTITUTION OF THE CHURCH.

Your Committee, who were appointed to consider the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the Church, respectfully report that they had before them the following resolutions, transmitted to this Convention by the Secretary of the House of Deputies in accordance with the requirements of Article XI of the Constitution.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved, That the following changes be made in the Constitution, and that the proposed alterations be made known to the several dioceses, in order that the same may be adopted at the next General Convention, in accordance with Article XI of the Constitution, as follows:

Prefix to the Constitution the following:

PREAMBLE.

I. This American Church first planted in Virginia, in the year of our Lord 1607, by representatives of the ancient Church of England; acknowledging the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the Word of God, the record of God's Revelation of Himself in his Son, and to contain all things necessary to salvation; holding the Catholic Creeds, to wit, the Apostles' Creed and the Nicene Creed, to be a sufficient statement of the Christian faith; maintaining the Orders of the Sacred Ministry in such form as from the Apostles' time they have been continued; reverently conserving the Sacraments ordained by Christ Himself; and accounting to be members of the flock of Christ, all who have been duly baptized in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, has set forth and established, for the furtherance of the work to which it has been called of God, the following Constitution:

CONSTITUTION.

II. Strike out Section 3 of Article I, and insert in place of it the following:

SECTION 3. Upon the expiration of the term of office of the Presiding Bishop, the General Convention shall elect the Presiding Bishop of the Church. The House of Bishops shall choose one of the Bishops having jurisdiction within the United States to be such Presiding top, by the vote of a majority of all the Bishops entitled to vote in House of Bishops, such choice to be subject to confirmation by the use of Deputies by vote of a majority of the Clerical and Lay Deputies of all the Dioceses entitled to representation in the House of Deputies, acting by orders.

The Presiding Bishop shall discharge such duties as may be prescribed by the Constitution and the Canons of the General Convention.

The Presiding Bishop so elected shall hold office for six years, unless while he shall have reached the seventieth year of his age, when his term of office shall end in any case, or shall have resigned his Episcopal jurisdiction, or, with the consent of the General Convention, his office as Presiding Bishop, or, unless, for infirmity or other sufficient cause, may have been relieved of such office by the General Convention by concurrent vote, first of a majority of all the Bishops entitled to vote in the House of Bishops, and then of a majority of the Clerical and Lay Deputies of all the Dioceses entitled to representation in the House of Deputies, voting by orders.

The salary of the Presiding Bishop as such shall be fixed and paid by the General Convention, as may be provided by Canon of such Convention.

When, for any reason, a vacancy in the office shall occur, or if, by reason of infirmity, the Presiding Bishop shall become disabled, the House of Bishops shall elect one of its number to act as Presiding Bishop until the next meeting of the General Convention.

III. Insert in Article II as Section 4 the following; and renumber the present Section 4:

It shall be lawful for a Diocese, with the consent of the Bishop of such Diocese, to elect one or more Suffragan Bishops, without right of succession, and with seat and without vote in the House of Bishops. A Suffragan Bishop shall be consecrated and hold office under such conditions and limitations other than those provided in this Article as may be provided by Canons of the General Convention. He shall be eligible as Bishop or Bishop Coadjutor of a Diocese, or as a Suffragan in another Diocese, or he may be elected by the House of Bishops as a Missionary Bishop.

IV. Add to the second paragraph of Article IX of the Constitution the following sentence, namely:

The General Convention may also provide by Canon for the trial of a Presbyter or Deacon in the Diocese or Missionary District in which an offense is alleged to have been committed by him.

The First Day.

V. Add to Article X at the end thereof the following proviso:

And provided further, That in editions of the Book of Common Prayer in foreign languages, such verbal alterations as may be necessary to adapt the same to local conditions may be made by the authority of the Bishop of the Diocese or Missionary District in which it is used subject to the approval of the Presiding Bishop.

In regard to three of the proposed changes, viz.:

Article I, Section 3, referring to the Presiding Bishop; Article II, Section 4, referring to the election of Suffragan Bishops, and Article IX, referring to the trial of a Presbyter or Deacon in the Diocese or Missionary District where an offense is alleged to have been committed, your Committee were unanimously in favor of their adoption, and have therefore no action to propose to this Convention.

In regard to the other proposed alterations, viz., the adoption of the Preamble to the Constitution, and the addition to Article X, permitting the Bishop of a Diocese or Missionary District to make verbal alterations in the Book of Common Prayer when translated into foreign languages, your Committee see grave and far-reaching objections. They, accordingly, offer the following proposed Memorial to the General Convention of 1910, and move its adoption by this Convention.

MEMORIAL TO THE GENERAL CONVENTION OF 1910.

The Convention of the Diocese of Long Island sitting in Garden City, May 25 and 26, 1909, and having before it the proposed addition to Article X of the Constitution and the proposed Preamble to the Constitution transmitted to it in accordance with the provision of Article XI, respectfully presents to the General Convention its objections to the adoption of these alterations.

I. The proposal of an addition to Article X providing that a Bishop of a Diocese or Missionary Jurisdiction may make such verbal alterations in editions of the Book of Common Prayer, in foreign languages, as he may approve with the consent of the Presiding Bishop is unwise, because of the clause "verbal alterations," with no provision that such alterations shall not involve change in doctrine. The language of the proposed alteration allows great latitude and it is conceivable that, under certain circumstances, through inadvertence or otherwise, such verbal changes might alter the meaning in several of the most important parts of the liturgy. A matter involving such grave possibilities ought not to be referred to the judgment of two Bishops, but the changes should come only through the Church in Council assembled.

The First Day.

Any Preamble to the Constitution is of doubtful expediency; especially, the Preamble now before the Church is open to serious objection as being defective in statement thereby disturbing the balance of the Church's Doctrine. In reaching this decision the Convention adopts, in acceptance of the august body whose utterances are cited, but in expression of its own deep conviction, the words of the Lambeth Conference of 1897:

Book of Common Prayer, next to the Bible itself, is the authoritative standard of the Doctrine of the Anglican Communion, and the doctrines of the Faith are there clearly set forth in their true proportion. And we hold that it would be most dangerous to vary its teachings, either by narrowing the breadth of its communion, or by disturbing the balance of its doctrine.

In the judgment of this Convention, the existence of the Prayer Book, in acceptance by the Church as an authoritative standard of doctrine, is unnecessary, and therefore inexpedient, the proposed Preamble to the Constitution. The Preamble proposed is specifically objectionable, because, by its defectiveness of statement it contradicts the teaching of the Church set forth in the Book of Common Prayer. Such action, in two standards adopted by the American Church, will not promote peace, within or without, but rather strife.

The Convention of the Diocese of Long Island respectfully requests that the Memorial be heard, that these objections, herein urged, be given due weight, and hereby expresses the hope that the proposed Preliminary alteration to Article X will be either radically amended or rejected.

The First Day.

The Rev. James Clarence Jones, Ph.D., presented the following Minority Report from the Committee on the Proposed Alteration in the Constitution of The Church:

Report

The two undersigned members of the committee appointed to consider the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the Church, respectfully report that they differ from the conclusion of the majority in regard to the proposed Preamble to the Constitution, but that they are in accord with the rest of the committee in all the other items included in the Report.

We therefore beg to recommend that in the Memorial to the General Convention of 1910, the second paragraph, referring to the proposed Preamble to the Constitution, be stricken out.

We believe that said Preamble is most desirable, and that it is definite and effective in statement. We are heartily in accord with the words quoted from the Lambeth Conference of 1897, and do not feel that the proposed Preamble would in any way tamper with the teachings of the Prayer Book, either by narrowing the breadth of its comprehension or by disturbing the balance of its doctrine. We do not see that the existence of the Prayer Book, and its acceptance by the Church as an authoritative standard of doctrine, at all lessens the necessity of a suitable introduction to the Constitution. The proposed Preamble seems to us remarkably clear and forcible, and in accordance with the standards set forth in the Book of Common Prayer; nor does it seem to us in any way to tend to the erection of a dual standard, nor, when it is once adopted, to engender strife. On the contrary, we believe it will tend to make more clear and definite the general outline of the Church's teaching, to the strengthening of the understanding of our own people, and to the edification of the Christian world around us.

REV. JAMES CLARENCE JONES, Ph.D.,

REV. C. CAMPBELL WALKER.

Upon motion, this was included in the order of business for the second day at 12 M.

The Rev. Kirkland Huske made the following report for the Committee on the Proposed Alterations in the Constitution of the Church, on the petition of the Archdeaconry of Suffolk which been referred to it. (See p. 68 of Convention Journal of 8.)

The First Day.

This Committee reports that it deems the petition inexpedient and to be released from further consideration of the subject.

Upon motion this report was adopted.

Dean Moses moved that the Report of the Board of Missions, together with the Reports of the Archdeaconries, be made the order of business for the second day at 11. A. M. Carried.

The Bishop's address to the Convention was then read.

Upon motion of the Rev. Herman Lilienthal, the floor was given to the Rev. H. P. Lyman-Wheaton, D.D., Ph.D., Secretary of the Church Temperance Society, to present to the Convention the work of said Society.

Upon motion of the Rev. Spencer S. Roche, D.D., it was Resolved, That a Committee of Three be appointed by the Chair to take into consideration so much of the Bishop's address as relates to the raising of funds for maintaining aged and infirm clergy and for the relief of the widows and orphans of clergy. This Committee to report to the convention.

The Rev. Dr. Wrigley moved an amendment, "that this committee be increased to five and that it take into consideration the whole question of clerical relief, including all the funds." The amendment being accepted by the Rev. Dr. Roche, the motion amended, was carried.

The Rev. Dr. Wrigley gave notice that on the following day he would offer the following amendment to Canon 10, Section VI, -section I :

"It shall be the duty of every Rector or Minister having charge of a parish or congregation in this Diocese, to cause an annual collection, offering, or contribution to be made in aid of the Fund for Diocesan missions, and in case of a vacant parish, the duties shall devolve on the Rectors and Vestrymen."

VI, be amended by substituting for the words the Ecclesiastical Authority, the words "the Secretary of the Convention," so that it will read: "The Secretary of the Convention shall record or cause to be recorded in a book to be called 'Election of Rectors' all notices of the election of a Rector required by Sec. III of Canon 14 of the Canons, and of the action taken thereon."

Referred to the Committee on Canons.

The Chair announced that nominations were in order for one clerical and one lay member of the "Standing Committee," the terms of the Rev. Dr. St. Clair Hester and Mr. Henry E. Pierrepont expiring in 1909.

The following nominations were made:

Rev. Charles L. Newbold, Rev. St. Clair Hester, D.D., Rev. Kirkland Huske, Mr. Henry E. Pierrepont.

The First Day.

The Rev. Spencer S. Roche, D.D., presented the report of Committee on the Clergy Relief Fund and the Five Million Dollar Fund, and offered the appended resolution:

Report

THE DIOCESAN COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL CLERGY RELIEF FUND AND THE RAISING OF A $5,000,000 PENSION FUND FOR THE CLERGY.

The Committee appointed by the Bishop of the Diocese to represent Long Island the interests of the General Clergy Relief Fund, and also aid in the gathering of $5,000,000, would report that it organized by having Spencer S. Roche as Chairman and Charles L. Newbold as Secretary.

A series of meetings have been held during the year, the Rev. J. J. McKim, D.D., the General Secretary and financial representative of the $5,000,000 Fund, occasionally conferring with us.

It may be well to remind the Convention that Canon 53 provides for appointment, at each General Convention, of seven persons to serve as Trustees of the General Clergy Relief Fund, the widows and children deceased clergy sharing in the benefits of the fund. These Trustees are empowered to enter into relations with all kindred funds and societies in the Church, and, so far as may be practicable, to secure their co-operation to the end that there may be a complete record of all clergy relief in the Church, and that such relief may be distributed wisely, equitably and efficiently.

It may be known to most of the members of our Convention that the Houses of the General Convention of 1907 passed the following resolution:

That a Special Commission of ten Bishops, fifteen Presbyters and twenty laymen be appointed to take in hand the raising of a sum of not less than five million dollars for the General Clergy Relief Fund, for the systematic pensioning, by right of service, of the Clergy of this Church, the age of sixty-four (as provided in Canon 53), and prior thereto if incapacitated for service by accident or disease incurred in the discharge of duty.

It is pleasing to note an innovation in connection with this project. A single member of the Joint Commission of the two Houses to raise $5,000,000 has pledged $5,000 per year for the next three years, to secure the services of a special representative to present the matter to the attention of laymen, with the hope of raising the entire amount by assembling of the Cincinnati Convention.

The First Day.

It has fallen to your Committee to take such steps as might be deemed expedient in order to make this beneficent project known in the Diocese of Long Island, and also to draw forth contributions to the fund. Your Committee has sent printed matter commending the work to all our clergy. Visits have been made by the General Secretary to some parishes, and Dr. Wilkins reports collections and pledges for the $5,000,000 Fund as follows:

Christ Church, Clinton Street, Brooklyn.....	$930 00
St. Peter's Church, Brooklyn	100 00
St. Ann's Church, Brooklyn
St. Mark's Church, Adelphi Street, Brooklyn (a year for ten years)	100 00
Rev. Walter de Forest Johnson, Rector Christ Church.....	50 00
W. B. Weeks, Chaplain City Hospital, Blackwell's Island, pledge	20 00
Rev. John Henri Sattig, St. Philip's, Brooklyn, pledge.....	25 00
Rev. Henry Blacklock, St. Peter's Church, Brooklyn.....	10 00
Rev. C. F. J. Wrigley, Grace Church, Brooklyn, cash and pledge	50 00
Rev. F. A. Wright, Rector Church of the Holy Apostles, Brooklyn	10 00

A centralized pension system was one of the early institutions under the Federal Government. The National Government assumed the payment of pensions granted by the States to those who had served in the Revolution. Only by doing the work on a national scale can equitable distribution be secured. Congress takes the view that accident of residence must not be allowed to interfere with fair payment to all veterans. He who gives his strength to his country, belonging to a new and poor State, is entitled to as much compensation as the man who comes from an old and wealthy State. Nor can it be considered fair that when a veteran removes from one State to another he should therefore forfeit his pension, when the service he rendered the Nation is no less than that of him who lives and dies in the State in which he enlisted.

As the soldier who volunteered in Maine, Ohio or California went to the front to preserve, not a State but the Union, so pension compensation should come, not from Maine or Ohio or California, but from the federation that he risked death to serve.

This reasoning applies perfectly to the Diocese. As a clergyman who is ordained in New York or Arizona ministers at the altar of God in any place to which any of the Bishops in the United States, Cuba, Porto Rico, Mexico, Brazil or the Philippines may send him, so the mount insuring him against want and dependence in his sickness or old age should come, not from Mexico nor the Philippines, which may be able to take care of him, but from the whole Church to which he gave himself, and which owes him honorable maintenance no matter how remote from the center the place of his services may have been, or how often frequently his place of labor may have been changed.

The General Clergy Relief Fund is neither an insurance company nor a charity. It has no dues nor premiums; it is not an organization in which membership depends on initiation fees and regular payments therefor in order to participate in its benefits. The right to be taken care of rests in the clergyman's orders and worthy service. The motive from which the Church should act is that of obligation. She should rejoice to show an affectionate and substantial recognition of the value to herself and to the world, of the labors of the ministers of Jesus Christ.

The administration should be nationally comprehensive. Clergymen are ordained with the tacit understanding that their work sooner or later may fall in any part of the national field; clergymen, in contemplating a call to a distant work, should be freed from the fear that, leaving a diocese where they can no longer be useful and going to one where there is every probability that they can do good work, they will be forfeiting their aim on the fund of the diocese in which they have already spent many years of Christly labor.

It is the highest recommendation of the enterprise that in the interest of pensions appeals to the Church, that it "applies no tests, attaches no conditions, requires no payments or membership dues, admits of no forfeiture, but offers its benefits to all clergymen in the communion of the Church."

Let us no longer watch the meager contributions and be compelled to ask, "Is this all that can be spared for broken, exhausted laborers and suffering widows and orphans by a church whose magnificent temples are the ornaments of our great cities and in whose worshipping assemblies may be found so much of the wealth and enterprise of this prosperous nation?"

We would offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island names as twenty-first Sunday after Trinity, October 31, 1909, being the eve of All Saints' Day, as the occasion for the presentation in all churches and missions, by sermon or address, and by the circulation of printed reports and appeals, of the interests of the General Clergy Relief Fund and the raising of $5,000,000.

THE SECOND DAY.

The Convention was called to order at 10.30 A. M., the Right Reverend, the Bishop, in the Chair.

The minutes of the first day were read and approved.

The Rev. Spencer S. Roche, D.D., offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island names the twenty-first Sunday after Trinity, October 31, 1909, being the eve of All Saints' Day, as the occasion for the presentation in all churches and sessions, by sermon or address, and by the circulation of printed reports and appeals, of the interests of the General Clergy Relief Fund, and the raising of $5,000,000.

Carried.

The Chair announced that elections to fill vacancies in the Standing Committee and the Missionary Committee were in order.

The Rev. Walter De F. Johnson and the Rev. T. G. Jackson, D.D., asked that their names be withdrawn from the ballot for the Missionary Committee.

The Convention then proceeded to ballot for members of the Standing Committee.

The Chair announced the appointment of the Rev. John Williams to the vacancy in the Ecclesiastical Court.

The Chair announced the nomination of the following trustees.

Of the Episcopal Fund.

Alexander E. Orr,

Mr. William H. Wallace,

Frederick T. Aldridge,

Mr. A. Augustus Low,

Mr. James A. Cowing, Treasurer.

Of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergy.

Rev. Frederick Burgess, D.D.,

Hon Townsend Scudder,

Reese F. Alsop, D.D.,

Mr. Henry E. Pierrepont,

Mr. Alexander E. Orr, Treasurer.

Of the General Theological Seminary.

Of the Pension and Retirement Fund for the Clergy.

Of the Fund for the Families of Deceased Clergymen.

The Rev. William Holden, Archdeacon of Suffolk, presented the report of that Archdeaconry.

ARCHDEACONRY OF SUFFOLK COUNTY.

As an indication of the interest of the summer people I am able to report a balance due upon mortgage of $1,200, while they have raised $4,640.53 paid to July 10th upon the church for building and furnishing.

The Second Day.

Wellport.—Christ Church. Rev. Irving McElroy, priest in charge, reports 10 baptisms, 7 confirmed, and an increase in attendance at Sunday school and Church services; also material improvement of the church, and Rectory Fund of $1,200 in bank.

Brookhaven.—St. John's. Rev. I. McElroy, priest in charge, reports continuance of services each Sunday and other occasional days, the number of members being but fourteen at present.

Brentwood, Central Islip, Ronkonkoma and East Hauppauge.—In charge of Rev. R. M. Edwards, reports 11 baptisms, 1 marriage, 15 confirmed. To the above duties as Chaplain of State Asylum at Central Islip he reports 22 burials. With the assistance of Mr. Whittaker, of Wellport, as lay reader, this large field was ministered to regularly during the winter.

In January the missionary horse ended a long and useful life, and the assistance of the Woman's Auxiliary and several friends was secured to replace the loss, so that now the following services are carried on: St. Boniface's, East Hauppauge, 9 A. M.; Ronkonkoma, 11 A. M.; St. Joseph's Hospital, Central Islip, 2 P. M.; Brentwood, 4.30 P. M.; Central Islip, 7.45 P. M.

It is a pleasure to report the general activity shown in these scattered fields, but particularly the Woman's Auxiliary at Brentwood.

Bridgehampton.—St. Ann's Mission. Rev. S. C. Fish, priest in charge, reports work reports a property valuation of $7,800, though in existence but a few years this summer. A mortgage of $6,000 stands against the property. There are 28 families, 68 members and 30 communicants; a Sunday school of 12. An income for current expenses of $1,239.38, a property of $1,323.62, a general fund of $113.82, are signs of its strong interest. There is a move on foot to build a new church, as the "upper room" in the parish house is inadequate. The opportunity for Christian hospitality is to the test, as there is hardly enough room for those that attend. By the will of the late John Cook, $800 was given St. Ann's Mission. This sum has been put aside toward the Building Fund which has recently started. The sale of the present building, used for services during the summer, should bring another $800, and the church desired would be $4,000. Any contribution may be sent to Mr. Fish, at Bridgehampton.

In connection with Bridgehampton, Mr. Fish started work at Southold July last, in the mission to be known as St. John's, and as a result is able to report 51 families, 83 members, 34 communicants—actively organized Sunday School with 25 members—16 baptisms. Services are now held in Memorial Hall, the rent of same, $7 per week, being net by the congregation, which averages about 100, and promises increase. There were the villages of Vansant and Water Mill, in addition to the above mentioned, necessary for Mr. Fish to have a small car to cover the territory and visit. I should be glad to number with any one interested.

St. John's Mission.—Rev. C. K. Penney, priest in charge, reports a greater interest being shown in the church of late; all expenses met and a Sunday School and choir revived.

St. Andrew's.—Rev. C. K. Penney, priest in charge. There have been 4 baptisms, 12 confirmations, and, with the priest in residence, more opportunities for church services, which were appreciated by the people, as shown by their attendance.

St. Andrew's.—St. John's Mission. Rev. J. Morris Cochrane, priest in charge. During the past year the mission has been strengthened in its spiritual life as evidenced by the increased attendance at all services, especially at the early Communion. Six adults were baptized, besides infants, 12 confirmations. All the property has been improved. In connection with this portion of the island opportunity for new works seems to offer at Mt. Sinai, Shoreham, Miller's Place, Rocky Point and Wading River. A priest in charge of this district would shortly be self-sustaining.

St. Andrew's.—St. Andrew's Church. Rev. D. Marvin, rector. During the past year this historic church has been materially beautified by the presentation of a handsome altar and credos, and a hymn tablet of black walnut, with a complete set of white silk hangings for the altar, lectern and prayer desk. Our Sunday School is growing, as the younger children become old enough to attend; but we regret more and more the tendency of our older boys to graduate before they have learned even a fair portion of "what a Christian ought to know and believe to his soul's health."

I have visited and preached at Bridgehampton, Southampton, Centre Moriches, Yaphank, Quogue, presented the Archdeaconry needs to the Woman's Auxiliary in Brooklyn at their annual meetings, also at the meetings in several churches.

I take pleasure in thanking the Woman's Auxiliary for their contributions to our work, but especially in clearing up the property at Centre Moriches, where we had an indebtedness upon the lot adjacent to the church; also for their aid in helping to purchase the horse for Mr. Edwards. Likewise would I express appreciation of the good work done by the Junior Auxiliary in providing Christmas boxes for several Sunday Schools.

WILLIAM HOLDEN,

Archdeacon of Suffolk County, St. James, L. I.

The Second Day.

The Rev. George C. Groves, Jr., presented the report of the Northern and Southern Archdeaconries of Brooklyn.

Report

NORTHERN AND SOUTHERN ARCHDEACONRIES OF BROOKLYN.

At the annual meeting of the Archdeaconries of Brooklyn, held in April, 1908, it was decided to discontinue the office of Archdeacon of Brooklyn and to elect a General Missionary to take supervision of the missionary work in the borough.

At that time I was elected General Missionary and took up my duties May 1st.

In making this first annual report as General Missionary I would begin by thanking the clergy and the laity for the cordial interest they have shown in the work and for the hearty co-operation accorded me.

During the past Fall, winter and spring I have gone to the various churches of the city making addresses, soliciting help and endeavoring to arouse interest. The result has been more than I dared to hope. Wherever I have gone I have met with the heartiest kind of a reception, and hundreds of our church men and women have given me the sincerest assurance of their desire to further my efforts.

A glance at the Treasurer's report will show that it has not been all dark, for in almost every parish the offerings have been larger than heretofore, and in some cases quadruple.

My aim during the year has been: (1) To carry on the work as existing, without attempting much in the way of extension; (2) to disseminate definite information; and (3) to enlist co-operation. Perhaps it is because I have attempted so little that the results have been so satisfactory. I can honestly say that I have had little or nothing to discourage me and everything to encourage.

One of the best things that has ever occurred in the history of our work in Brooklyn was the consolidation of all our missionary funds in the hands of one Treasurer. This decision was reached at the time of my election, and Mr. Percy Litchfield undertook this task and has carried it to a most successful completion. Having made this splendid contribution to the work he has felt compelled to resign his office, and Mr. Ed. R. Greene, whose revered father was Treasurer of our missionary funds for over twenty years, has been elected to his place. While what might be called the business side of missionary work is outside my province, may I venture to suggest that this plan of consolidation receive a wider application in our Diocesan Mission affairs.

The Second Day.

During the past year no less than three parishes, heretofore aided by missionary funds, have assumed the entire responsibility for their own maintenance. On January 1st the Church of the Nativity, Vanderveer Park, which had been receiving $400 a year, voluntarily relinquished that appropriation. At the last annual meeting in April, St. Jude's Church, which had been receiving $300 a year to sustain its Mission at Martense, did the same, and St. Timothy's Church, which at first reluctantly, now, I think, cheerfully, accedes to the suggestion of the Archdeaconry that it enroll itself in the number of self-supporting parishes. At the present time three organized parishes—St. John's, Fort Hamilton; St. Matthias', Sheepshead Bay, and St. Alban's, Canarsie—are receiving aid to the extent of $895 a year. This is a decrease of $155 as compared with last year. St. John's and St. Alban's are making progress. St. Matthias' is at a standstill owing, the Rector thinks, to the economic conditions brought about by the anti-race track legislation of last year. St. Philip's, our colored work on Dean Street; St. Gabriel's, on Hawthorne Street; Holy Cross, on St. Nicholas Avenue, each in charge of a clergyman, reports good progress. St. Barnabas, our colored work in East New York, and Annunciation, our Italian work in Sixty-sixth Street, each in charge of a clergyman, but with a store as a place of worship, is doing far more than we have a right to expect, especially St. Barnabas, where a handful of colored people pay regularly $60 a month toward the support of their clergyman and the services of the church.

I must here make permanent record of the services of the Rev. George F. Miller, Rector of St. Augustine's Church, Brooklyn, who organized this work and turned it over to the Archdeaconry a year ago.

Of the four missions in charge of lay readers St. Lydia's, with its church building, is the most promising and should have the services of a clergyman at once. Holy Innocents, near King's Highway, needs a building; the present accommodation in a dwelling house is insufficient and endangers the future of the work. When a band of people of moderate means will accumulate, as they have, $1,000 toward a building fund, we should at once give them substantial assurance of our interest and concern for their welfare.

The Mission of the Redemption, on Flatbush Avenue and I Street, does not show any great signs of growth, but deserves the little aid we give it. St. Michael's Church, North Fifth Street, with a property valued at not less than $20,000, ministers to a congregation of seldom more than twenty-five people. The influx of foreigners into this neighborhood has driven out those who might be expected to attend here. Three courses of action are open before us, first, to establish an Italian work, as the donors of the property originally intended; second, to establish what is popularly known as a Social Settlement plus the definite religious teaching our Church has to give; third, to abandon the site altogether and leave the Fourteenth Ward unchurched, so far as we are concerned, the same as the Thirteenth, Eighteenth, Twenty-first and Twenty-seventh Wards.

At the request of the Rector and Vestry the Archdeaconry has voted a donation of $200 toward the Mission connected with the Church of the Ascension, Greenpoint. This mission is in the best residential section of the Seventeenth Ward, a growing section. The parish of the Ascension is totally unable to meet the situation unless it receives very substantial aid from the outside. This the Archdeaconry is not able to give. I bespeak for this work the support of Brooklyn churchmen. It is hardly to our credit to have the congregation of this mission meeting, at an unreasonable hour, in the basement of what some of my brethren would call "a sectarian church."

Looking at the work as a whole, I can say that the future looms bright with hope. We have a magnificent opportunity before us, a challenge to our faith and energy; what more should we ask?

In closing, let me quote from a report made to this Convention by Archdeacon Hester a few years ago: "Emphasis cannot be too strongly put upon the fact that the problem of the Northern Archdeaconry of Brooklyn is the problem of the city. Among the elements that enter into it are congested population, sanitation, nutrition, mixture of nationalities, races and languages. Thousands who are not only unchurched but out of touch with any religious influence, many of whom have practically reverted to heathenism. There are great colonies of aliens within our territory that are not being reached by any religious agency, and this cannot but result in a lowering of the moral tone and a loss of respect for law and order. We must Christianize and uplift these people or be corrupted and contaminated by them."

No foreign field presents so promising an opportunity or more appealing need for the Gospel of Jesus Christ than the unassimilated, estranged man masses of the Northern Archdeaconry of Brooklyn.

GEORGE C. GROVES, JR.,

General Missionary.

The Second Day.

The Very Henry Messer Archdeacon, presented the report of the Archdeaconry of Queens and Nassau.

ReportOF THE ARCHDEACONRY OF QUEENS AND NASSAU.

The Archdeaconry of Queens and Nassau has completed its first full year under the new conditions, that its Archdeacon shall be no longer a member of the General staff, with his entire time to give to the missionary work, but a Rector of a busy parish, who must needs give what time through Lent and infrequent Sunday's from his own parish he can take away to the needs and necessities of the Missions stations and not to other parishes or church funds.

But it is hard at first to become accustomed to new methods, and some parishes have hardly yet realized that it is for their own rectors to present the urgent needs for missionary help, and to arrange for special offerings for this purpose in addition to the stated offering upon the vest of the Bishop.

And for the better understanding of our great opportunity for missionary work and better knowledge of our increasing responsibilities with the great influx of new people into this Archdeaconry, may I hope that the coming year will show an increasing attendance of the rectors and ministers of the parishes and missions, with more representative laymen as delegates, to the stated meeting of the Archdeaconry. That requirement by Canon law has, I think, been somewhat neglected these past two years. I know that often to sudden sick call, death and funeral some men at every meeting must be called away and kept from coming to the Archdeaconry. But the attendance of the clerical members at the meetings of the last two years has been barely fifty per cent., and of the laymen twenty-one parishes have had no lay representation for two years. May I urge a more careful selection of these delegates from the several parishes, on the part of the rectors and clergy generally, that the men chosen shall be those who will give some earnest heed to this duty and who can more often be present and share in the wise oversight and forward movement of the missionary work of the Diocese. It is the lack of knowledge in the missionary work about us, the little opportunity of the congregations for giving, that makes our work so small, our giving so inadequate to the great demands. I know that many more would be glad to give did they have a better understanding of what we were trying to do and the number of missions in our care. "How shall they believe in Him of whom they have not heard, and how shall they hear without a preacher?"

The Second Day.

For the fifteen missions of the Archdeaconry there has been received from the fifty-five parishes and missions of the Archdeaconry in the last year but a very little over two thousand five hundred dollars. Of this number fourteen parishes and missions gave nothing to the cause, and but eight have given over one hundred dollars. The children of the Sunday Schools in the four weeks of Advent and one or two schools in Lent, have given the splendid sum of one thousand and ninety-six dollars. Shall we be content to say another year that the parishes and congregations have given but a little more than double the amount of the children of the Sunday School for the cause of missions?

I urge the rectors of the parishes to ask of individuals in their congregation to give some stated sum yearly to the cause of Diocesan Missions, and cards for these pledges are ready at hand. We should not depend upon chance attendance at service on a day of the missionary collection only to fulfill our obligation and apportionment for mission work.

The work of the Women's Auxiliary to the Archdeaconry, through the Parish Missionary Committee, has added not over eight hundred and fifty dollars for the furtherance of the mission work, but their influence and interest has greatly extended a better knowledge of what we are doing and what we should do; and they have especially cared for the work in jails and prison and the special work of the colored people.

The work of the several missions through the year has gone, on the whole, happily and well.

The mission of Grace Church, North Corona, have built a parish house on the land given them through the Bishop, the corner-stone being laid in the latter part of November, and the first service held in the building upon Christmas day. The men of this congregation put in, by their own work in the evening, all the piping for gas, and the steam heating, painting and flagging for sidewalks, and many improvements and furnishings for the new building. Besides the maintenance and expenses of the mission they have made a first payment on their indebtedness for the building of two hundred dollars. Increased congregations, a large Sunday School, new interest and enthusiasm have more than justified the wisdom of the establishment of this mission.

At Rosedale, the mission under the Rev. Mr. Creveling, of the Archdeaconry Mission of Lynbrook, have had to leave their quarters in the real estate rooms near the depot, and must again for the summer go under canvas. There is no possible place for rental where they can hold service. Land has been bought, at a cost of seven hundred dollars, which they have themselves raised these past two years, and ground has been broken for the erection of at least the basement of the new church, to be covered and used for some time to come. Much of the work will be done by the people themselves; but help is greatly needed now to make this start possible and to build this first part without leet.

The church at Ravenswood and the mission at Steinway, with the care of the prisoners at Long Island City jail, has been given to the charge of one priest, the Rev. Mr. Covell. Since his work in the Fall the congregations in both St. Thomas' and Steinway have been doubled, an increase of communicants of nearly one hundred, back debts of over seven hundred dollars paid, 30 baptisms, and 74 confirmed.

The smaller missions in the country districts like Seaford, Hicksville, and St. Paul's, Roosevelt, have ministered quietly and well through a hard winter of curtailed resources, and show growth and steadiness. Their work must, of necessity, be slow, but the increased Sunday Schools and growing attendance at services prove the wisdom of their establishment. At Lynbrook, at Arverne, at Brooklyn Manor and Morris Park, many people are coming, church people from other parishes glad to find their church so well started, and helping to build and establish from these missions a permanent parish for the Diocese.

With the total receipts for all missionary purposes of not quite forty-five hundred dollars, it has been a very difficult problem to meet all our obligations of salaries and interest of the past year, and we have been unable to start any new work or further missions of the Archdeaconry.

I must express my obligations to all the members of the Executive Committee for their faithful attendance at all the meetings of the Board, for their helpfulness in advice and judgment, and for the amount of time and trouble that the Treasurer has given to save the Archdeacon so much of the burden of the financial responsibility and the prompt payment of the salaries of the missionaries.

Especially I thank the priests and men in charge of the missions for their faithful work under many difficulties at so much personal sacrifice, that our work and service in the Lord may bring forth fruit, some thirty, some sixty, and some an hundredfold.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY MESIER,
Archdeacon.

Since the fifth report, the following properties have been received:

Diocese of Long Island.

The Second Day.

DEED No. 32.—Dated December 31, 1904, from Henry B. Bryan and wife to Diocesan Missions of Long Island, for plot of ground on Fulton Avenue, near Railroad Avenue, Brooklyn.

DEED No. 33.—Dated June 20, 1908, from Cora S. Hallock and others to Diocesan Missions of Long Island, for plot of ground in Bridgehampton, L. I., on Main Street, and a policy of title insurance on said property from Lawyers' Title Insurance & Trust Company.

DEED No. 34.—Dated December 15, 1906, from Sidney T. Wright, wife and others to the Diocesan Missions of Long Island, for four lots Nos. 58, 59, 60 and 61, Farmingdale, L. I.

SECOND BOND AND MORTGAGE, No. 35.—From Michele Ajello to Diocesan Missions of Long Island, for $1,000 on property, Van Brunt and President Streets, Brooklyn, bearing 6 per cent. interest and due in 1911.

DEED No. 36.—Dated July 13, 1908, from Edith Cooper Bryce to Diocesan Missions of Long Island, for lots Nos. 32, 33, 34 and 35 in Block 64, Village of Corona, L. I.

DEED No. 37.—Dated May 12, 1908, from George W. McNeill to Diocesan Missions of Long Island, for lot in Flatbush, Hawthorne and Winthrop Avenues, Brooklyn.

DEED No. 38.—Dated December 26, 1908, from Rosedale Terrace Company to Diocesan Missions of Long Island, for lots Nos. 948, 949, 950 and 951 in Rosedale, Queens County, L. I.

No. 39.—$1,000 First Mortgage, 6 per cent. Gold Bond of the Manhattan Beach Securities Company, due March 20, 1912.

BOND AND MORTGAGE No. 40.—For $100, held by Edgar Daniels on property held for St. John's Church, Centre Moriches. Same was paid March 20, 1909, and was never recorded.

I want particularly to call your attention to the Permanent Sunday School Fund.

It is designed, primarily, a permanent and great memorial to the Sunday School children of the Diocese of Long Island. I do not think any other Diocese is engaged in building up such a fund. They spend all the pennies they can get from the children. This fund will loan you its principal but expects it paid back with interest.

Probably you do not know how useful it would be to the Bishop if he could borrow a few hundred or thousand dollars, if necessary, to preserve the credit of the Diocese. If Church property is to be sold to taxes and there are no funds to pay them, how useful it would be to have a fund that we could borrow the money at 6 per cent. Unpaid taxes carry 12 per cent. penalty.

The Second Day.

Again, new missions are starting and they need some money to complete their work; again, a mortgage is threatened to be foreclosed unless the interest is paid; again, a mission has borrowed on the strength of the Bishop's endorsement on the note. There should be a fund that the Bishop can call upon for quick and ready help.

It is hard to make you understand your duty, but this Fund raised $54 from five Sunday Schools last year. If the one hundred and thirty Sunday Schools had contributed, the sum of $1,500 would have been raised.

Is the Treasurer asking too much of the Rectors and Missionaries and the persons interested in Sunday School work to give their careful attention to building up this Fund?

There is also another reason: The Diocesan Corporation has the property of a great many missions standing in its name, and some of these are covered with large mortgages. With dissensions or a poor missionary they are liable to be neglected and the honor of the Corporation is at once assailed, and the body so far has only a Reserve Fund of $1,000 to draw upon. Again, the Archdeaconries of Queens and Nassau and the Archdeaconry of Suffolk find that they have to borrow funds in order to make prompt payments to their missionary workers. The Archdeaconry of Suffolk now needs $200 and will need $200 more on August 1, 1909; in the Fall we begin to receive our collections.

Let every Rector who loves his Sunday School see to it that they contribute to this Fund, and next year, I believe, instead of having five Rectors on the honor roll, I will have the pleasure of reporting to this Convention every Rector in the Diocese, and that the Fund has grown, with your love for the children, to $2,000.

Report

OF MR. ROBERT HARROLD, IN CHARGE OF THE DIOCESAN HOUSE, 170 REMSEN STREET.

Brooklyn, May 10, 1909.

The report for the Diocesan House for the past year shows an increase in the number of visitors and meetings over the previous year, also in the number of churches supplied with services, which is as follows: Visitors, 3,051; meetings of various bodies and committees, 182; supplies for church services, 230. Noon-day prayers have been said daily, except Sunday, by the Bishop 8 times, the Rev. George C. Groves, Jr., General Missionary of the Archdeaconry of Brooklyn, 85; Mr. Harrold, lay reader the other days by visiting clergy, as follows: Dean Moses, Archdeacon Hudson, Canon Sweet, the Rev. Drs. Jones, Keech, Mansfield, Page, Rogers and the Rev. Messrs. Appleton, Bentley, Binder, Boyd, Brown, Brown, Corvill, Fielding, Fleming, Hyde, Little, McClain, Miller, Neumann, Payne, Ruggies, Sharp, Smith, Swan and Trathen. I have also supplied clergy for two funeral calls. Besides the above the House has been a general information bureau in regard to the Archdeacons, the various churches, church services, and other matters pertaining to the activities of the church in this and adjoining dioceses. In order to expedite the work of the House during the past year I have been appointed notary public for the State of New York, which we find a great convenience to the Bishop and Standing Committee, as all papers can now be acknowledged at once without having to look up a notary out of the house. In addition to my other duties I have sent out a large number of notices of meetings, circulars, reports, etc., of the various matters pertaining to the Diocese.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT HARROLD.

It being the hour of noon, the Bishop of the Diocese offered the usual prayer for the Missions.

The Secretary read the report of the tellers of election for the "Standing Committee."

The Chair declared that Mr. Henry E. Pierrepont had been duly elected as lay member, but that there was no election of a clerical member, and ordered another ballot to be taken for clerical member.

Mr. J. W. Eaton, Treasurer of Diocesan Missions, offered the following resolutions:

Resolved. That $1,000 be appropriated to meet the expenses of the Diocesan House and that it be paid from the Diocesan Fund. Carried.

Resolved. That $6,500 be raised in the four Archdeacons of the Diocese for the needs of Diocesan Missions during the ensuing year. Carried.

The Secretary read the report of the tellers of election for the Missionary Committee.

The Chair declared that the following had been duly elected:

Rev. John R. Moses,
Rev. Dr. Lindsay Parker,
Mr. E. R. Greene,
Mr. Daniel Whitford,

Dr. H. D. Schenck,
Mr. Percy Litchfield,
Mr. P. R. Jennings,
Mr. J. W. Eaton.

The Second Day.

The Rev. Kirkland Huske moved the adoption of the memorial presented by "The Committee of the Convention on Proposed Alteration to the Constitution of the Church."

The Rev. James Clarence Jones, Ph.D., offered the following substitute:

Resolved, That in the Memorial to the General Convention of 1910, adopted by your Committee on the Proposed Changes in the Constitution, the second paragraph and all other references to the Preamble, be stricken out, and that the entire subject of a Preamble to the Constitution be referred back to the Committee with instructions to report back to the next meeting of this body.

The Secretary at this point presented the report of the results of election of the Standing Committee, and the Chair presented the Rev. St. Clair Hester, D.D., duly elected as clerical member for four years.

While the discussion on Dr. Jones' resolution was in progress the hour for adjournment arrived and the Convention adjourned at 1 P. M. for luncheon to reassemble at 2.15 P. M. At 2.30 the Chair called the Convention to order.

Mr. Henry E. Pierrepont presented the Report of the American Church Building Fund.

Report

COMMITTEE ON AMERICAN CHURCH BUILDING FUND COMMISSION.

The permanent fund of the Commission now amounts to $487,441, during the past twelve months has loaned in ten dioceses and three missionary districts $37,300 to aid in building fourteen churches and rectories. It has, during the same time, made gifts in twenty-one dioceses and eight missionary districts to forty-six churches, amounting to $12,800. As naturally the calls for help increase, and the fund is meeting a want and giving a help to the growth of the church.

FROM LONG ISLAND

There has been received, since last report, $36,005.77 from fourteen parishes, including Colonel Martin's legacy to St. Luke's. As Long Island was called upon for $47,500 as its proportion of the $1,000,000 fund, it will be seen that the Diocese, with its total contribution to date of $89,610.09, has fully and liberally met the call. Your Committee, therefore, did not feel it necessary to prepare the long red and black list of all parishes and missions as formerly submitted, but annexes instead simply a detailed statement of last year's gifts.

Respectfully submitted,

H. E. PIERREPONT.

The Second Day.

The Rev. Dr. Roche moved that 1,000 copies of the sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. Swentzel at the opening service of the Convention be printed for distribution. Carried.

The Rev. Winfield S. Baer presented the Report of the Sunday School Commission.

Report

OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL COMMISSION.

The Sunday School Commission submit the following report:

A meeting of clergy and superintendents was held at the Diocesan House in October. The attendance was very small, although ample notice of the meeting was given. The Commission believe that conferences of superintendents in charge of our schools should be of mutual benefit, and we regret that so little interest has been shown in the attempts made in this direction.

An institute for teachers was held at St. John's Church, Brooklyn, in January. The attendance was good, the addresses and discussions were interesting and helpful, and all who participated in this meeting undoubtedly felt that it was of much value to them in their work.

In previous years an institute has been held outside of Brooklyn, during the Easter season, but the small interest manifested in the last spring, two years ago, has discouraged us from these attempts.

The Commission desire to urge upon the schools the importance of increasing the Advent offerings for Diocesan Missions and the Lenten offerings for general missions.

The Commission realize fully the great value of teacher training and the work done in this direction.

The plan of local training classes for teachers has often been discussed at our meetings and institutes, but no general interest sufficient to warrant such an undertaking has yet been manifested in this Diocese. The Commission are also prevented by lack of funds from engaging in definite forms of work which might otherwise be attempted.

The Commission feel that the serious attention of churchmen should be given to the decline in Sunday School membership during the past ten years. The figures as taken from the Convention Journal are as follows:

The Second Day.

Brooklyn—1897, Teachers	1,564
1908, Teachers	1,353
A loss of	119
Brooklyn—1897, Scholars	14,425
1908, Scholars	12,198
A loss of	2,227
In the whole Diocese:
1897, Teachers	2,204
1908, Teachers	2,085
A loss of	119
1897, Scholars	20,103
1908, Scholars	19,320
A loss of	783
Against these figures we place the figures as to communicants:
Brooklyn—1897	23,764
1908	25,902
A gain of	2,138
Whole Diocese:
1897	29,918
A gain of	6,224

We will not attempt to assign causes for these discouraging figures. But at all events, we can fairly urge upon all churchmen, the laity as well as the clergy, the necessity for a renewed and earnest study of the problem of improving our schools and of arousing a greater interest in this very important work.

We believe that our schools suffer greatly from lack of men who will take up the work of teachers.

While realizing fully the valuable work done by our devoted women, especially with the younger scholars, yet any Sunday School, in order to be strong, vigorous and alive to the needs of the time must have the practical, efficient work of active professional and business men. Our men are doing valuable work in the Men's Clubs, the vestries and other is. They are needed also in far greater numbers to teach and help their presence and influence the boys and young men in our Sunday schools.

The Commission would be glad to see a renewed interest in this at work in our Convention discussions and among our parishes generally, believing that such an interest, when once aroused, would show results in repairing our losses both as to teachers and scholars.

The Rev. Dr. Alsop moved that a committee of seven be appointed, of whom four shall be laymen, to be an auxiliary to this Diocese to the Board of Missions. Carried.

The Rev. Dr. Alsop presented the following report for Committee on Canons.

The Committee on Canons, to whom was referred the proposal of the Rev. Dr. Wrigley to amend Canon 10, Section I, Sub-Section I, reports that we have had the same under consideration and recommend its adoption.

Upon motion the following amendment to Canon 10, Section VI, Sub-Section I, was carried.

"It shall be the duty of every Rector or Minister having charge of a parish or congregation in this Diocese, to cause an annual collection, offering, or contribution to be made in aid of the Fund for Diocesan Missions, and in case of a vacant parish the duties shall devolve on the warden and vestrymen."

The Chair announced the appointment of the following Committee of Seven to be an auxiliary in this Diocese to the Board of Missions.

Mr. Winfield S. Baer,	Mr. Richard Weed,
Mr. T. G. Jackson, D.D.,	Dr. Henry R. Price,
Mr. W. De F. Johnson,	Mr. J. Sherlock Davis,
Mr. P. G. B. Gilkes.

The Second Day.

The Rev. Dr. Alsop made the following report for the Committee on Canons:

The Committee on Canons, to whom was referred the proposition of Colonel Cogswell that Canon 1, Section VI, be amended by substituting the words "the ecclesiastical authority" the words "the Secretary of the Convention," so that it will read "The Secretary of the Convention shall record, or cause to be recorded, in a book to be called 'The Election of Rectors,' all notices of the election of rectors required by Section II of Canon 14 of the Canons and of the action taken thereon, respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration and move the adoption of the proposed changes." This was carried.

The Rev. Dr. Alsop made the following report:

The Committee on Canons, to which was referred the resolution of Rev. J. Clarence Jones, Ph.D., proposing to amend Canon 2, Section 1, by inserting the following words between paragraphs (5) and (6), and numbering the other paragraphs accordingly:

"Hereafter, no layman who has not previously served as a member of this Convention shall be eligible for election to membership in the body, unless he shall have been confirmed in accordance with the last Rubric at the end of the Confirmation Office in the Book of Common Prayer," have had the same under consideration and report that, in their judgment, the purpose of the mover would be better effected by amending Canon 2, Sub-section 4, so that it will read, "No lay delegate shall be entitled to a seat in the Convention unless he shall have been confirmed and is a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church, or has been connected with the Cathedral Church or congregation appointing him at least twelve months prior to such appointment."

Inasmuch as the question is one of the qualifications of its own members, the Committee consider that it is a matter to be decided by itself. They therefore make no recommendation pro or con, but suggest that the House have an opportunity now to vote upon the resolution of the mover.

Dr. Alsop moved that the matter of the amendment be laid on the table for further thought and consideration. Carried.

The Second Day.

The discussion of the Memorial presented by the Committee on the Proposed Alteration in the Constitution was then resumed. The following taking part:

Rev. J. Clarence Jones, Ph.D.,
Rev. Dr. Alsop,
Rev. Dr. Bacchus,
Col. Cogswell,

Col. A. B. Gardner,
Mr. Silas McBee,
Rev. Dr. Swentzel,
Rev. Dr. C. F. J. Wrigley.

The Secretary re-read the substitute motion before the House as follows:

Resolved, That in the Memorial to the General Convention of 1910, offered by your Committee on the Proposed Changes in the Constitution, the second paragraph and all other references to the Preamble, be stricken out, and that the entire subject of the Preamble to the Constitution be referred back to the Committee with instructions to report back to the next meeting of this body. Carried.

The Rev. Dr. Jones offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on the Proposed Changes in the Constitution be requested to invite the members of this Convention to one or more of its meetings with the purpose of encouraging and inviting a full discussion of a Preamble to the Constitution of the Church. Carried.

The Rev. Dr. Jackson presented the Report of the Standing Committee.

There were present at this conference the Bishop of the Diocese, the Clergy, and committee of three from the Church of the Nativity. After explanation and discussion, the advice and counsel of the Standing Committee to the Bishop was embodied in the action taken, "That the consent of the Standing Committee be given to the corporation of the Church of the Nativity, Vanderveer Park, to mortgage its Ocean Avenue property for the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000); to the sale of its present Kenilworth Place property, and the transfer of the present mortgage of six thousand dollars ($6,000) on its Ocean Avenue plot to the Kenilworth Place property."

The Bishop of the Diocese also asked the advice and counsel of the Standing Committee on a petition signed by two hundred persons, living in South Midwood and Fiske Terrace, asking permission to establish Church services in some location convenient for them.

The Rev. Arthur Thomas Stray, Deacon, having presented the proper papers and asking to be recommended to the Bishop for advancement to the Priesthood, was unanimously so recommended and his papers signed.

Mr. Daniel Wilmot Gateson, having presented the required canonical papers, was recommended to the Bishop for ordination to the Diaconate.

T. G. JACKSON, Secretary.

The Rev. St. Clair Hester presented the report of the Clergymen's Pension and Retiring Fund as follows:

The Trustees of the Clergymen's Pension and Retiring Fund submit herewith report of a year of substantial progress. The donations and offerings received from individuals and churches during the twelve months past amount to $1,000, making the total to the credit of this fund at the present time $2,300. When the fact is taken into consideration that the fund was started only two years ago, that it has to compete with several older and stronger funds for which offerings are made mandatory by Canon, that no time or method is prescribed whereby additions may be made to it, its growth must be regarded as gratifying evidence of the interest taken in it by friends and sympathizers whose number is constantly enlarging.

The Second Day.

Not one cent has been charged against it for ordinary or necessary expenses, such as postage, printing, etc., since its origin. The entire work of correspondence, collection, deposit, has fallen upon Mr. Frederick T. Sherman, the Treasurer. A fortunate circumstance it is that one so capable and untiring in its interest should discharge this valuable service as a labor of love.

It is a notable fact that more than twice as much was contributed by individuals than by the twenty-six churches which sent in offerings during the year. This would seem to indicate where our main support is to come from in future. The idea of pensioning our faithful soldiers and servants who for two score years or more have done the work of the Church and borne the burden of many souls, certainly appeals to an increasing number of people. We have reason to believe that another source of income will be bequests remembering this fund by larger and larger sums as its purpose is better known and understood in the years to come. We appeal for a more earnest co-operation on the part of clergy. So far it has been the case that those who are to be benefited by this endeavor have been least in evidence in bringing it to the attention of those who are able to contribute and can be interested. When so much is being said about other funds of a similar nature, it seems well to us to emphasize the fact that the beneficiaries of this fund are clergy of the Diocese of Long Island, that this is an effort to care for our own without any regard to pension measures of the general church in the nation at large. While we are friends of these measures and wish them all success, we do not propose to relax our efforts or surrender our funds held sacredly in trust for our brethren in this Diocese. Even if a pensioner received the help of both the national and Diocesan funds, his income, we believe, in no case would be in excess of his needs or beyond his deserving.

The Second Day.

he Rev. Dr. Lacey presented the Report of the Committee to Investigate the Care of Delinquent Girls.

Report

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE CARE OF DELINQUENT GIRLS.

This Committee was appointed under a resolution offered last year to the Social Service Committee, to which the Bishop had referred a report from H. Clay Preston, Secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Delinquency to Children.

The work of your Committee is specifically laid down by the resolution on page 76 of the Convention Journal: "To investigate the lack of institutions for the intelligent treatment of delinquent girls under sixteen years of age and to report to the next Convention."

The Committee was further empowered to take any necessary action in dealing with special cases referred to the Diocesan authorities during the year. In regard to this it can be reported that no cases have been brought to the attention of this Committee, and diligent investigation by letter and personal interview reveals few instances of this kind among our members. Fifty letters of inquiry, sent to clergy by the chairman, brought forth only five cases.

While existing institutions are adequate to deal with such instances as may arise in our own communion, yet it seems in accord with our recognition of the Church's responsibility for social service that we take account of the numerous cases of this kind in connection with those which might loosely be described as "Protestant families."

Our Committee held frequent meetings during the year and made a careful study of the situation.

There is no institution on Long Island for Protestant girls of this class. The field could be covered by the Brooklyn Training School and Home for Young Girls if means were available to erect a separate building for this specific work. The home is undenominational and cares for Protestant girls from twelve to eighteen years old whose condition is due to a bad home environment. It does not receive unchaste girls, because its moral condition does not admit of provision for proper segregation of inmates of this class. With proper equipment and support we believe it could fully meet the need.

The Second Day.

At the present time the Episcopal House of Mercy, at Inwood, receives the majority of cases requiring institutional care. The number of Protestant girls committed there from Long Island in 1907 was twenty-eight.

The best thought on the subject of reformatory treatment of delinquents agrees that homes should be provided for different stages of delinquency, and the feeling of many who are brought into intimate contact with the situation finds voice in the words of an eminent physician in a letter to a member of this Committee:

"There is a great and crying need for a Home with its Christian influence to throw its arms of protection around wandering homeless girls just entering their womanhood, and if our Church can and will enter this field of practical Christianity the blessing of God will surely follow upon the effort."

While it would seem to be a sound policy to strengthen and extend some existing institution rather than to multiply new institutions whose support may become a heavy tax on the resources of our Diocese, yet if this Convention should decide to inaugurate work along these lines, Long Island affords many ideal locations for such a Home.

The approximate cost of an institution for twenty-five inmates, located in the suburbs toward Jamaica or in Queens, where an old-fashioned house with a few acres of ground could be found, would be from ten to twenty thousand dollars, according to an estimate by Mr. D. C. Potter, of the Department of Finance, city of New York.

The rector of Grace Church, Jamaica, has made the suggestion that we might seek the gift of such a place as the first endowment—a place no longer needed by some family which has become almost extinct.

Provision for the maintenance of the institution would have to be made by the Diocese. The city pays $150 per year for each girl committed. This would give an income of $3,700 for current expenses, but this amount would not be adequate for carrying on the work.

There is every reason to believe that such an institution conducted on the broad lines of Christlike service would appeal to the sympathy and support of Christian people of every name, and both in its equipment and maintenance the Church could reasonably count on the contributions of the community at large.

T. J. LACEY,
D. M. GENNS,
C. H. FULLER,
F. H. MILLER, M.D.,
Committee.

The Second Day.

The Rev. H. D. Waller presented the Report of the Committee on the Church Charity Foundation and other Benevolent Institutions.

Report

OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE CHURCH CHARITY FOUNDATION AND OTHER BENEVOLENT INSTITUTIONS.

Your Committee feels confident that the institutions known collectively the Church Charity Foundation were never in a better condition than they are to-day, under their present very efficient management. The buildings are in good repair, and the institutions are all working smoothly and effectively.

The Foundation closed its fiscal year with a balance of $3,000 in its treasury. This was later spent in much-needed repairs to the buildings. At the present management has the confidence of the people of the Diocese is shown by the fact that since our last report more than $63,000 have been added to the Endowment Fund. But we would not give the impression that the Foundation is not in need of money. It needs every dollar that the parishes can possibly raise.

The Home for the Aged, intended to accommodate fifty inmates, now fifty-four, and there is a waiting list of twenty, all representing worthy and urgent cases. The population of the Diocese has increased many fold since this house was built. It is now too small to meet the increased demands. The Home for the Aged should be enlarged.

The same is true of the Orphan House. With accommodation for one hundred children, it is at present taking care of one hundred and five.

The Home for the Blind is always full. A larger building would mean a nearer approach to the fulfillment of our duty to this dependent class in our great Diocese.

The Hospital, with its endowments, is practically self-sustaining. But the noise from the elevated road, which will increase rather than diminish in the future, is fast rendering the present location of the Hospital undesirable, if not impossible. This noise is at present depriving Hospital of many private patients who would otherwise be sent to St. John's. We fear that the Hospital will eventually be compelled to seek another location.

One of the most pressing needs of the Foundation is a suitable Home for Nurses. The cottages at present used for this purpose are not large enough and are in no way suitable. A fitting Home will cost about $40,000. Toward this sum $3,000 have already been raised.

The Second Day.

The House of St. Giles, a home and a hospital for crippled children, has made the most of its enforced removal from Brooklyn to Garden City. The Garden City house was originally intended for a summer home. But the introduction of hot-water heating and electric lighting has made the house comfortable even in winter. A new dormitory for boys has also been built. The managers, however, still have hopes of returning to Brooklyn, where they feel the House will be better able to fulfil its mission. No class of dependent people present a more pathetic appeal to one's sympathy than do the patient, cheerful, little crippled children in the House of St. Giles.

The Sheltering Arms Nursery continues its fostering care of many motherless children. The nursery is always full, always doing its beautiful work quietly, unobtrusively.

St. Phoebe's Mission has a staff of seven workers—one deaconess, five associates, and one kindergarten teacher. These have the assistance of several voluntary workers. They visit the Jail and the Alms House, provide a trained nurse for the assistance of the poor in their homes, send supplies and delicacies to the hospitals, conduct kindergarten classes, industrial classes, mothers' meetings, and provide a home for convalescent women and children. To this latter department of its work the Mission would call especial attention. The house has accommodations for eight patients, who are cared for and supplied with all that convalescents can possibly need.

All the charitable work that we have thus briefly surveyed will continue, because it is God's work; but it seems a pity that any parish or any individual should be deprived of a share in that work or a share in the reward that is promised by Him who said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

The Rev. Dr. Alsop presented the following report from the Committee on Canons:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CANONS.

The Committee recommends as a substitute for the resolution offered by the Rev. Dr. Jones, the adoption by the Convention of the following amendment to Canon 9:

"SECTION 3. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer of the Diocese to pay to the deputies to the General Convention an amount sufficient to cover their transportation and their expenses, not to exceed three dollars per day." Carried.

The Second Day.

The Chair appointed the following Committee of Five on Clergy Relief Funds:

Committee of Five on Clergy Relief Funds.

v. Spencer S. Roche, D.D.,	Hon. Townsend Scudder,
v. Dr. C. F. J. Wrigley,	Mr. F. T. Sherman,
Mr. Frederick Parker.

The Rev. W. S. Chase presented the Report of the Social Service Committee, and offered the appended resolutions:

Report

THE SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE OF THE DIOCESE OF LONG ISLAND.

From May, 1908, to May, 1909.

It would be inexpedient to take the time of the Convention to relate in detail the efforts that have been made by your Committee to fulfill the duty assigned to it. Its plan has been to seek for the needs of this community and to fit itself to recommend to this Convention such action as may tend to supply those needs.

The members of the Committee are more than ever convinced that the awakened social conscience of the community has a right to look to the Church and to churchmen for enlightened leadership along every line of social service. They believe that any definite conclusion concerning the social needs of Long Island deliberately arrived at by this Convention will have a decided effect, not only upon our own church members but upon the general public.

Since the last report of your Committee two of the matters which were recommended have become laws on the statute book of the State—the Agnew-Hart law, forbidding race-track gambling, and the Agnew-Wurphy bill, making it a misdemeanor to exhibit posters or plays which tend to corrupt the morals of youth. This Convention requested Governor Hughes, two years ago, before he had announced any intention of trying to prevent race-track gambling, to use his influence to secure the suppression of that great evil. Your Committee believe that this exercise of moral and spiritual leadership on the part of this Convention will approve itself to the whole membership of the Church.

The Second Day.

Eight meetings have been held during this year.

The Rev. James F. Aitkins and Mr. William A. Beckwith were appointed as new members of the Committee.

The letter from the Brooklyn Central Labor Union, which was referred to your Committee by this Convention to be answered in accordance with the spirit of the report of the Commission of the General Convention on Labor and Capital, was answered in person by one of the members of this Committee.

At the October meeting, the Corresponding Secretary of the Brooklyn Central Labor Union presented the cause of organized labor before the Committee and freely answered questions. The occasion was very stimulating and helpful to members of the Committee, and it is our wish that such conferences were more general and public. Every great movement needs understanding and appreciation on the part of the general public. Who ought to be so quick to give it a hearing as the Church? At the close of the meeting the Chairman arranged for a conference with the Committee from this Convention appointed last May on the Care of Delinquent Girls.

In November, four members of the Committee attended a Sunday afternoon meeting of the Central Labor Union of Brooklyn, held in the Labor Union Building, on Willoughby Avenue near Central Avenue. They were received with the utmost cordiality and invited to come again as often as possible.

The Section on Vice reported on temperance and substitutes for the saloon, on gambling and on sexual evils.

At the February meeting, the Committee was informed of the death of its esteemed fellow-member, Major William A. Beckwith. The Secretary was instructed to write a letter of condolence to the bereaved family.

Mr. Bradstreet, a settlement worker of wide experience, connected with a number of important social organizations in Brooklyn and Manhattan, addressed the Committee on the need for a closer union of the various social forces interested in constructive work dealing with the relations of the people to the plays, moving picture shows, playgrounds and parks. One of the Committee members was appointed to attend as a delegate a meeting of the Ethical Social League, held at the Hotel Astor on February 23d.

At the request of the Committee the Chairman of the Industrial Section presented a statement of the Gompers' contempt case, reading extracts from the judge's decision, from the reply of the labor leader, and from editorials in the newspapers. No action was taken at that time.

The Second Day.

In March, a communication was received from the grocery clerks and salesmen of Brooklyn, asking for the help of our church people in urging for them the use of Sunday as a day of rest. Arrangements were made to send a revised copy of the appeal to the clergy of the Diocese, asking them, if possible, to read it to their congregation. The circular was duly mailed and was read in many of our churches.

The Rev. Dr. Wrigley, Chairman of the Section on the Family, presented a report upon Marriage and Divorce which, though it led to no definite resolutions, was most illuminating and helpful.

The Chairman of the Section on the State, gave information concerning the Sunday afternoon organ recitals, at the new Academy of Music. As a result, a committee of two was appointed to wait upon one or more members of the Board of Directors of the Academy and request that these recitals be made free, in order to avoid commercializing Sunday. An interview with one of the directors was secured which will, we believe and hope, have a helpful influence in the future.

The Chairman of the Section on State made the following report concerning the enforcement of the laws forbidding the commercializing Sunday:

We are glad to be able to report that considerable progress has been made during the past year toward a better enforcement of the Sunday laws.

After the adoption of the Doull ordinance, on December 19, 1907, permitting educational lectures and concerts on Sunday (an ordinance whose utility has not yet been tested), vaudeville and moving picture shows were allowed to proceed in violation of that ordinance, which clearly forbids any dramatic performance or exercise and any moving picture show on Sunday.

So flagrant did these violations of law become that in December, 1908, Mayor McClellan himself visited a large number of moving picture shows and vaudeville on Sunday and convinced himself that gross violations of law were being permitted. He issued a call for a hearing at the aldermanic chamber on December 23, 1908, on the matter of moving picture shows, and on the next day issued an order revoking all moving picture shows operating under a common show license, because of danger of fire, saying he would at once reissue licenses to all such shows that would comply with the law.

He also ordered that legal proceedings be taken for the revocation of licenses of four theaters which had given vaudeville performances on Sunday. Since that time the character of the various shows have very much improved, and one of the most prominent vaudeville theaters has ended its Sunday performances.

The Second Day.

On January 6, 1909, a Supreme Court Judge granted an injunction to restrain the Mayor's order revoking the common show licenses of moving picture shows, claiming that there was not sufficient reason for this use of the Mayor's discretionary power.

The Mayor appealed to the higher courts. Since that time he has refused to renew any expired licenses or to grant any new licenses except upon the condition that no performance shall be given on Sunday. As a result of this about forty moving picture shows are now closed on Sunday.

The moving picture concerns have tried in every possible way to compel the Mayor to permit Sunday moving picture shows. Judge Thomas, in one case, refused to grant a mandamus to compel the Mayor to grant a seven-day license. There have been a number of injunctions granted restraining the Mayor from closing on Sunday those firms to whom he has granted six-day licenses; but Judge O'Gorman refused to grant such a license. Judges Stapleton, Marean, and the Appellate Division refused to grant a mandamus to compel him to grant a common show license to a place against which the neighboring churches protested.

Because the Sunday shows have been generally defeated in the courts, the various amusement businesses secured the introduction of about thirty bills at Albany, seeking to commercialize Sunday. But the public protests have been so vehement and overwhelming that all such bills have been killed either in the committee or on the floor of the Legislature, even defeating by a decisive vote a bill to create a Commission to revise the Sunday laws. The State Grocers' Association and four thousand barbers of New York City appealed to the Legislature in vain for a law closing them on Sunday.

Your Committee has persistently attempted to arrive at intelligent conclusions regarding the various social problems it has had under discussion. There are a number of resolutions which could profitably be offered for adoption by this Convention, but your Committee confines its recommendations to the following:

Resolved, That the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island favors the adoption of a law providing local option in the matter of the sale of intoxicating beverages in districts of cities of the first class, that being New York, Buffalo and Rochester.

Resolved, That the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island favors the adoption of a law which will permit saloon keepers who are now in business to have a tax certificate so long as they obey the law, but that no new saloons shall be licensed until the number of saloons in any assembly district of the city of New York has been reduced to one to every one thousand of the population.

The Second Day.

Resolved, That it is expedient that the clergy should, in plain and unmistakable words, preach from their pulpits the Gospel, teaching that men are under the same moral obligation to be chaste as women.

Resolved, That all churchmen should assist in the suppression of gambling.

First—By urging officials to do their duty and enforce the laws to stop the open forms of gambling.

Second—By using their personal influence to discourage all forms of gambling, including raffling, chancing, or the giving of any article of value upon the decision of a chance.

Your Committee is convinced that any expression from this Convention on these questions would have a decided effect upon public opinion.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed)

Report

OF COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIAN EDUCATION.

The Committee on Christian Education would report, after careful inquiry, that the present condition, respectively, of the schools of this Diocese—St. Paul's, St. Mary's, and St. Catherine's Hall—is that of encouraging progress.

St. Catherine's Hall, located at 286 Washington Avenue, Brooklyn, offers distinct advantages for those who prefer sending their children to a city rather than to a rural school. Notwithstanding depression in business the enrollment this year has numbered thirteen pupils. A high standard of work has been maintained, and the discipline is excellent.

Continuing its wonted custom the school gave, last Thanksgiving, a dinner to about forty persons, and it provided a Christmas tree for St.

The Second Day.

Pieche's Mission. In April the alumni gave other events for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund.

The school recently received from the Deaconesses Society an appropriation of $250.00 to be used for its expenses.

St. Mary's School, Garden City, has numbered this year one hundred and twenty-four pupils. Of these fifty-seven were boarders and sixty-seven were day pupils. The average attendance has been fifty-two boarders and sixty day pupils.

Two girls have been baptized, and ten were confirmed on Easter Day. Thirty-four are communicants of our own Church, and six of other religious bodies.

There are ten graduates, four of whom are prepared for college.

The sum total of offerings for Diocesan, Domestic and Foreign Missions is $290.

The Cathedral School of St. Paul is rising again with dignity to new life and usefulness, under the direction of its headmaster, Walter R. Marsh. There have been seven pupils more than there were last year. Ten were confirmed on Easter Day. The graduating class this year will number thirteen, and there will be one post-graduate. Of these graduates, one purposes going to Harvard, two to Yale, three to Princeton, one to Williams, one to Amherst, one to Cornell, one to Columbia, and two will enter business; two are undecided.

St. Paul's Club is an active body and has continued its mission work every night at Franklin Square, with occasional services at the mission at Mineola, at the county jail, and at Nassau Hospital.

Two hours a week are given to instruction in sacred studies. The Advent and Easter offerings equalled those of last year.

Earnest interest is taken in athletic sports.

The common room has been made yet more attractive and comfortable by the construction of a fireplace large enough to take in whole sticks of cordwood, and portraits of two of the former headmasters have been added to the school collection.

The outlook for next year is bright.

Respectfully submitted,

SPENCER S. ROCHE,

The Rev. Frederick A. Wright presented the Report of the Fund for Families of Deceased Clergymen of the Diocese of Long Island.

Report

OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE FUND FOR THE FAMILIES OF DECEASED CLERGYMEN OF THE DIOCESE OF LONG ISLAND.

The Trustees of the Fund for the Families of Deceased Clergymen of the Diocese of Long Island beg leave to report that during the current year expenses have increased $206.10. This brings us face to face with a deficit. Our payments have exceeded our income, and we have been obliged to begin the depletion of our surplus, which is already alarmingly scanty. The situation is all the more serious because the Trustees may at any time be suddenly called on for considerable sums in aid of families with claims on us so valid that it would not be proper to refuse them. Moreover, the aid of clergymen's families is a heavier burden to assume than even the help of the infirm clergy. There may be several beneficiaries in one family, and they may need help for a long period of years. Yet this is a burden from which we certainly ought not to shrink.

It is earnestly recommended that those who are able to do so should endow this fund. Besides meeting regular expenses we should gradually provide an endowment. But now we are not even meeting regular expenses. Half of the congregations of the Diocese disregarded the Canon which directs us to make annual contribution to the fund, but this is not the principal reason that this deficit exists. The chief cause is that those who are most able to give, instead of helping here send their money elsewhere. Five of our strongest and richest parishes gave only $239.75 to this fund and gave more than $23,000 outside the Diocese. The Trustees desire to lay emphasis upon this fact, because they believe that charity begins at home, and because they do not think that if the state of the case can be brought to the attention of the various congregations they will feel that it is right, after giving such splendidly liberal donations to strangers, to leave the families of their own clergy to suffer and die from poverty and hardships and lack of the bare necessities of life.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Trustees of the Fund for the Families of Deceased Clergymen of the Diocese of Long Island.

FREDERICK A. WRIGHT, Secretary.

Mr. E. D. Litchfield presented the Report of the Committee on Better Salaries for the Clergy.

Report

COMMITTEE ON BETTER SALARIES FOR THE CLERGY.

The Committee appointed to take into consideration the subject of adequate clerical salaries in the Diocese of Long Island, begs to report follows:

In order to obtain certain data for recommendations to this Convention, the Committee has addressed a communication to each of the parishes of the Diocese, asking certain questions relative to salaries and conditions in the parish or mission in which they are located. Sixty-five replies have been received, and the recommendations of the Committee are of necessity based upon them. It may fairly be said that with the clergy who have not replied, salary conditions are haphazard and therefore do not specially concern your Committee. Living conditions vary considerably in different parts of the Diocese and an adequate salary in one location is quite an inadequate one in another. Your Committee has felt that in every parish the rector's salary plus the rental value to him of the rectory, if one is provided, should be not less than the income of the average of his congregation. This average amounts to can, of course, never be accurately determined and only closely approximated by the vestry of the individual parishes.

Your Committee finds that there are several parishes and missions where the salaries paid to the priest in charge are inadequate where it does not seem possible, at the present time, that these salaries may be increased without the assistance of the Diocese.

The Committee recommends that the Convention adopt the following resolutions:

Resolved, First. That a canonical annual collection be taken in each parish as a supplementary fund for inadequate salaries.

Second. That the rector or minister in charge of each church of the Diocese shall notify, as soon as possible after this Convention, the Chairman of the Committee on "Better Salaries for the Clergy" the date on which such a collection will be taken.

Third. That all monies collected for this purpose shall be paid to the Treasurer of the Diocese and be held as a special fund, from which payment shall be made to the rector or minister in charge of such parishes.

Diocese of Long Island.

The Second Day.

It is recommended that in such proportion as the Committee on "Better Salaries for the Clergy," in consultation with the Bishop, shall determine.

Resolved That the Committee on "Better Salaries for the Clergy" be continued.

And it was so respectively submitted.

ELBERT D. LITCHFIELD, Chairman.

The Rev. Mr. Jones offered the following resolution:

Resolved That this Convention request the Social Service Committee to co-operate with the Mayor of New York in every wise effort to prevent the encroachment of business upon the sanctity of the Lord's day.

Upon motion this was referred to Social Service Committee.

Mr. E. D. Litchfield moved the resolutions appended to the Report of the Committee on Better Salaries for the Clergy.

Upon motion this was referred back to the Committee.

The Rev. Dr. Jones presented the following resolution:

Whereas It is commonly reported that public health, education, order and morals might be greatly increased and strengthened if definite proof of need is presented in time, and

Whereas City officials will welcome suggestions as to the manner in which the money they request shall be apportioned in its expenditure, so that it shall serve the largest good, provided only that such suggestions are definite, clearly stated, unrhretorical, and based upon not only a clear vision of the desirable but also a distinct knowledge of the facts as they exist now, therefore, be it

Resolved Under Canon 14, that it is the sense of the clergy of the Diocese of Long Island in Convention assembled, that the matter of publicly directing attention to the waste of city money and to the city's needs not now met, be referred to the Social Service Committee of the Diocese, who shall immediately devise a plan (subject to the Bishop's approval) and execute the same, whereby the clergy shall be informed of the acute need which the cities have for their influence and assistance in shaping the budgets: and be it further

Resolved That the clergy of the Boroughs of Brooklyn and of Queens be and hereby are especially requested to co-operate with the Social Service Committee with particular reference to New York city's budget for 1910.

The Second Day.

Referred to Social Service Committee.

The Minutes of the Second Day were read and approved.

On motion the Convention adjourned sine die.

APPENDIX A

THE BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS TO THE CONVENTION

Brethren of the Clergy and Laity:

We are once more assembled in this Cathedral in Convention deliberate and legislate for the welfare of the Diocese. This convention has been marked by the consecration of the memorial which we have placed on these walls in memory of the first Bishop of the Diocese. The beautiful statue is the gift of one of his daughters and the setting has been done through the generosity of many friends throughout the Diocese. As the years go by the Bishop whom we thus commemorate will be understood better than, perhaps, he was in his lifetime. Again and again, as I have had to look back upon his decisions, or take up certain lines of work where his tired hands had laid them down, we have appreciated the wisdom of his conduct and the singleness of his motives. The man who desires the office of a Bishop desires a good work, but no man yet ever took that task without exposing himself to severe criticism from those who have little knowledge of the difficulties and trials of the office; and it must always be true that time alone can prove whether his work has been wisely planned and administered. That test, I believe, Bishop Littlejohn's work will stand, and those who enter with sympathy into the record of his later years will appreciate the greatness of one who, with failing health and amid bitter disappointment, gave to the Church the best service of his own strong intellect, unimpaired unto the end. It cannot fail to be a satisfaction to all that at last a fitting memorial has been erected in this Cathedral which was, in a sense, his workmanship.

The year passed has been marked by encouraging signs of progress. Two large parish churches in Brooklyn have been freed from debt and consecrated to the glory of God—the Church of St. Matthew and the Church of the Incarnation. There have been five ordained—two to the priesthood and three to the office of deacons. I have made 105 visitations and confirmed 2,400 persons—one visitation being taken for me by the kindness of the Bishop of Porto Rico—a far larger number than has been found in any one year in the history of the Diocese. That the Diocese is growing and must grow goes without saying. Since I came to Brooklyn, more than eleven years ago, two bridges over the East River have been completed and opened. Another bridge is now building, and a tunnel, which has been a boon to important sections, has been in use for many months. These changes in the method of travel have resulted in bringing many new residents to Long Island, and during the next ten and twenty years the population here, so far as human foresight can determine, is bound to increase with almost alarming rapidity.

Already this Diocese of Long Island ranks fifth, if not fourth, in size, among the Dioceses of the United States, and the thoughtful among us may well ask how we are to keep pace with the new growth. There are some who have thought that this could only be done by subdivision. Divide the Diocese, they say, and you have solved the problem. Let me say, quite frankly, that I think Diocesan divisions have, in most cases, been carried quite far enough. Division invariably brings with it financial weakness and strain. Parishes must be taxed heavily for the new Episcopate and the new obligations. Work, which in a large Diocese can be planned on a large scale, must now be contracted, and the enthusiasm and pride which belong to all great undertakings will be absent, to a certain extent, if the endeavor is made on a reduced scale. The Diocese of Long Island seems to be peculiarly well built for unity. Compact, in a certain sense homogeneous, surrounded, of course, by water, with its boundaries determined by nature, it has the glorious opportunity of rising to the great task which God plainly places before it of spreading the influence of the Church into every borough and town and village within its borders. Subdivision into smaller Dioceses will not accomplish this so well, in my opinion, as will the united effort of the entire body of churchmen throughout the Island. The Cathedral must be the center, and as time goes on, I think we shall appreciate the good judgment of the Diocesan Convention which, in 1885, acting by the advice of a strong committee of its ablest men, accepted Mrs. Stewart's gift and here, in this central spot, placed its Bishop's Church. For many years, nevertheless, the Cathedral system was unpopular; but I believe the time is fast approaching when its work will be better appreciated and its financial resources will be increased so that it can cope with its difficulties. The publishing of its yearly accounts, which was instituted in 1902, was, I believe, a step in the right direction, and while it is not always possible to obtain a full and fair hearing in the public press, yet I believe that official reports to this Convention are eminently wise.

The Diocesan House in Brooklyn, instituted in 1903, is another means to unity, furnishing as it does a suitable place for meetings and a general office of the whole Diocese. The increased demands made upon the Bishop's time by the enlarging work must be met and can be met by providing more liberally for his assistance in the missionary and secretarial departments, and not laying upon him business details which he must do or else see his work hindered and his administration compromised. I can not speak too warmly of the assistance which I have received from the Archdeacons and the various officers of the Diocese and the Cathedral, and of the general consideration given to me by clergy and laity, and I believe that with generous assistance and judgment it would be quite possible for one Bishop to preside over a Diocese three and four times as large, and that real gain would come to the Church by the strength which would thus be imparted to the missionary and charitable work.

CLERGY RELIEF FUNDS.

Some attention might reasonably be asked from this Convention in regard to the various schemes for affording assistance to the clergy and their families. This Diocese has several such funds. The first is what is known as the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, whose trustees were incorporated in 1870 to receive the very small share, $15,000, allotted to Long Island as the Division of the Diocese. The use of this fund is limited by its charter to the relief of the Aged and Infirm Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Long Island "appropriated according to the directions given from time to time by the Convention." This fund, according to the last report, amounts to $129,060.87, the increase having come from the liberal annual offerings of the Diocese.

In 1900, however, the need of a fund for the assistance of widows and orphans of clergymen was felt to be pressing, and provision was made for the incorporation of Trustees to be known as the Trustees of the Fund for the Families of Deceased Clergymen, and this incorporation took place in 1907. The offering, which had hitherto been obligatory for the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, was now devoted by canon to the Family Fund. As we shall see by the Trustees' report, the amount received during the year has not been sufficient to meet the demands, and we must ask for more money to give to those who have foremost claims on the sympathy and aid of the Church.

Still another fund has been started in this Diocese for the assistance of the clergy. This is known as the Clergymen's Retiring and Pension Fund. The object of this is to provide an income for any clergyman after he reaches a certain age and to make this provision without reference to the clergyman's circumstances.

Two general societies deserve mention. The first is the Clergymen's Retiring Fund. This protects in every way the man's self respect and independence. It is not of the nature of a charity. It fosters the saving habit which should belong to the clergy as well as to the laity, and encourages the members to pay each year into the society from his savings and then receive after he is sixty, a stipend in proportion to the amount which he has invested. This is a noble idea, and I would that our clergy would look more carefully into it to see if it does not provide one means at any rate of escaping extreme want in their old age.

And the other general society is the General Clergy Relief Fund. This society has done splendid work in the past, belongs to the whole Church, and has in some cases been made the Trustee of Diocesan Funds. It has now been directed by the General Convention to raise a fund of $5,000,000 for the purpose of pensioning the clergy after they attain a certain age. A committee of this Diocese has charge of our own efforts to meet the wishes of the General Convention, and a woman's organization, known as the Church League of the Baptized, has very ably assisted in obtaining contributions. Whatever view we may take of old age pensions as a rule and of the danger lest, adopted by the state, they should stamp out thrift in the middle-aged and charity in the young, yet we must see that the clergyman is peculiarly situated. Ordained after a long and sometimes expensive education, he finds himself launched in a professional life where he has no chance to amass money, and where he must spend most of his income upon his living and not make money his chief end. Thrift, as I say, ought to apply to the clergy as well as to the laity, and we might well wish that the Church would begin at the other end and make the minimum salaries of the clergy such that they could do their own saving. But as it is, this attempt is a worthy one. Frederick the Great's soldiers, I have been told, when discharged received instead of a pension, a license to beg. We do not want to reward in this way the soldiers of the Church.

In view of the multiplicity of funds, it might, perhaps, be well to appoint a committee for the consideration of these various schemes of clergy relief, in the hope that some suggestion might be made looking to simplification and unity. For the erroneous impression ought not to go out that an unreasonable amount of solicitation and capital is being devoted to the department of clerical support.

DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Let me say one word on the subject of General Missions. The Board of Missions faces a most critical situation. Unless some relief is found, the Board, at the end of its fiscal year, September 1st, must report a most discouraging and heavy indebtedness. This, however, will not by any means happen if every Diocese meets its apportionment. Let me strongly urge upon us all the duty of renewed efforts, that we may, each in his own field, do our part to sustain the emissaries of the Church who are spreading throughout the world the tidings of Christ.

I trust that this Convention may decide to appoint a commission to act in this Diocese in behalf of the Board of Missions and from year to year to do work in disseminating information and in stimulating missionary enthusiasm. The matter will be brought to your attention, I hope, to-morrow.

PARISH HOUSES.

The growth of Parish Houses is one of the phenomena of our times. In former days what our fathers and grandfathers built was a church. To do this they bought pews, or ground rents, as perhaps we might call them, and the churches were for the most part built without debt, and each pew-holder could, if he left the parish, sell his pew in the same way in which he sold his house. They also generally built a Sunday School and then construction was over. They kept Sunday and went to church morning and evening and knew their prayer books and loved the liturgy. Their churches were, as a general rule, consecrated, and kept only for divine service.

But now, in starting a mission or parish, we are told that the first thing to do is to build a Parish House. "We must have a place to have entertainments in," the Bishop is told by the eager committee. "We want to keep our young people off the streets and our boys and young men out of the saloons, we want a hall for our annual fair and not have to hire one each year." I am very familiar with the arguments, and they are very good ones. The Church is a society and we are bound to do something for the social betterment and enlightenment of our people. And when properly used the Parish House should increase the attendance at the church, if the parish or mission is fortunate enough to have a church. But there are dangers, especially in the missions, and I want to lay down certain rules which should, in my opinion, guide the clergy in their administration.

The first and supreme object of the Parish House should be the housing of the Sunday School. The importance of this branch of church work can not be exaggerated. In a State like ours, where the public school system has been placed on a non-religious basis, it becomes the chief duty of the Church to give to its youth careful training in Christian morality. It may be that, before many years have elapsed, the State may gladly offer to the churches substantial support in utilizing their parish houses for the maintenance of parochial schools; but, until that time comes, it behooves us to use our best endeavors to see that no pains are spared to make our Sunday Schools fully up-to-date in their appliances and methods and to get the teachers to understand the great advance which has been made in the knowledge of the workings of the child's mind. In the larger parishes this can be done to a certain extent; in the smaller ones it must be our aim to make the best of our opportunities.

But the Parish House is needed, also, for all the charitable, missionary and social activities of the parish. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the Men's Clubs, the Woman's Auxiliary, the Girls' Friendly Society, must all use it, and the test, whether these organizations are working with real efficiency, can be made at the Sunday services.

When we come to the question of entertainments, no one rule can be laid down and made applicable to all parishes. It is almost humiliating to see how much of the Church's revenues is derived from this source. Fairs, dances, theatrical shows, suppers and cake sales are announced from many chancels on Sunday morning with little suspicion on the part of priest or people that such announcements are incongruous with the solemn beauty of our liturgy.

But we may lay down one principle as universally applicable. Nothing must be done in the Parish House to endanger the morals of the young or the weak. Whatever way the parish may take to raise money it must be an honest way. Nothing which even remotely borders on the realm of gambling or of betting must be tolerated. Not too strongly, not too frequently, can the parish priest warn the young against the moral ruin which comes to the man who seeks to gain money by illegitimate means; and it will be a sad commentary in the Church's methods if the young man who finds himself broken and disgraced on the race track or stock exchange can say that he got his first lessons on gambling in his boyhood at the Church's fair. This Church of ours has taken high ground in this respect, and we do not wish to see big ecclesiastical buildings erected by the price of blood.

In every way the Parish House must be guarded. If parties for young people are held it becomes the men and women of the parish to surround them with even more of the safeguards than they would have in their own homes. The Parish House should be closed at 10.30 or 11 o'clock at night, and the clergyman of the mission or the Rector of the Parish should hold the reins of discipline strongly in his hand, that the Church of Jesus Christ may not be evil spoken of and a stumbling block be placed in the path of the young.

THE RELATION OF CLERGY AND LAITY.

Much of the confusion of modern times seems to come from a failure to recognize the different functions of clergy and laity. There are some who try in every way to minimize these differences. There are certain clergymen who prefer to discard all clerical dress and appear in public as laymen. They wear cassocks and surplices and stoles and chasubles in the services, but outside of the Church they move around with no sign that they are officers in the army of God. And there are laymen who lov-

usurp the preacher's office, and aspire sometimes to some of the duties of the priesthood. I am not exaggerating. I am not in any way a grudging witness to the good and invaluable done by laymen who have given of their time and ability to the Church's service. There are some scholars among the laymen in the field of theology at whose feet we clergy would find it as a privilege to sit. The good which has come from preaching, when properly safeguarded by canon law, cannot be overstated. These are not the men who make the mis-

But there are lay readers, I find, who, when they get carefully worded license, seem to think that they have been licensed, whereas they have only been permitted to read certain parts of the service under the direction and supervision of some man, and much confusion and oftentimes trouble could be avoided if there were quicker and more cordial recognition of the layman's responsibility and office.

Let the shoemaker stick to his last. The clergyman has been trained, educated and ordained for his own work. We do not want to see him turn lawyer or captain or politician or anything else. Nothing does the clergy more harm than this trying to break out of bounds and to do work to which they were not trained. The clergyman who rushes around, speechifying at election time, generally hurts his influence and loses his cause. The men of the political world are, in their generation, wiser than the clergy. They will outbid them and outdo them and outwit them at every turn, and it is frequently the case that after the sermon the clerical orator finds that he has only helped the cause of corruption or intemperance. He has been used with a strategy which would have astonished a Machiavelli.

But do not misunderstand me. I would not say to the clergy that they are not to speak or pronounce themselves on the great questions of the day. By all means let them be frank and bold when they understand their subject, but let them not enter the field of practical politics. Leave that for the laity, who have been trained to it. It is, or it should be, as it was with St. Paul in the shipwreck. He did not take the place of the captain of the vessel, or the centurion, or usurp their rights, but he inspired all by his words and showed them how by the help of God, they could be saved. So the clergy can study the temperance question, the Sunday question, the social and economical questions, they can well master, if they have the time, the problems of the city budget for the coming year so that they may find out where retrenchment should be made and where more money ought to be spent to ward off disease and save the young citizens from temptation. Then let them show what the will of God is and how by doing it the State or the city can escape shipwreck. And when the priest speaks against the immoral play or the degrading and filthy or blasphemous opera, against Sunday openings of saloons, or indecent posters, or any of the crying evils of our time, he is entitled to a respectful hearing and he will gain it.

But when he appears on the political platform to elect certain men or parties or to favor certain measures, I believe that he is departing from his office and that the result will, in the long run, be harmful. For such work he has not been trained, and his function is only to urge the laymen within his own cure to stand for truth and righteousness and charity amidst a perverse and gainsaying world.

CANON 19 AND THE PROPOSED PREAMBLE.

It seems right that I should say a few words as to my attitude upon Canon 19. Since the last Convention much agitation has been made both in favor and against the amendment which was passed to this canon at the last General Convention. It is plain that the canon is susceptible of several interpretations and that much unrest and fear have been created in the hearts of earnest churchmen lest the Church should depart from its own historic faith as to its orders. I have never had that fear; but it has seemed to me that, until another General Convention should meet and make the canon clearer by amendment, it is the part of wisdom for the Bishop to make sparing use of the latitude which the canon seems to give, and to grant permission to Christian men outside of our own communion to speak in our churches only if some very special occasion or need should arise. It may be that another General Convention may take away from the Bishop the responsibility which it now plainly throws upon him, but so long as the law remains as it is, I am sure of the cordial loyalty of the clergy and, I trust, the cheerful acquiescence of the congregations in the policy which I feel called upon to follow.

But the questions connected with the proposed preamble to the Constitution, go far deeper than any canon. This is a radical attempt to alter the whole attitude of the Church towards its prayer book teaching. On the Constitution, which as it now stands is a legislative document, it is proposed to graft a doctrinal statement of tremendous moment. The proposed preamble is founded on the famous quadrilateral of the Lambeth Conference of 1888. That proposal was that on the basis of four things: the Holy Scriptures as the word of God, the two sacraments as necessary to salvation, the Apostles and the Nicene Creeds as a sufficient expression of faith, and the Historic Episcopate, the various bodies of Christians should meet and deliberate in behalf of Christian unity. No Christian body, so far as I know, ever took advantage of it and offered to deliberate. And now it is proposed for this Church of ours to declare solemnly in its Constitution that it renounces its catechism, its teaching about marriage and infant baptism and the Holy Communion, as no longer essential to a sufficient statement of the Christian faith. Had my distinguished predecessor, the first Bishop of Long Island, who is said to have been the framer of the Quadrilateral, foreseen such a result as this, I believe he would have drawn back from his undertaking. Nor could he have thought that the Historic Episcopate would have been stated in words which leave as an open question, whether or not, as the prayer book expresses it in its preface to the ordinal, there have been from the Apostles' time, these three orders of ministers in Christ's Church—Bishops, Priests and Deacons. It is one of the wise provisions of the Church that changes in the Constitution can only be made after three years, and your committee appointed to consider this subject will, to-morrow, bring in a report which, if accepted, will result in this Convention issuing to the General Convention, a memorial strongly petitioning for delay.

I am not unmindful of the strong yearning for unity which is sweeping over the Christian world. Most strongly do I sympathize with it. But we must not forget that such unity, if it is to last, must have a doctrinal and not merely an emotional basis. Dr. Newman Smyth, in his book on "Passing Protestantism and Coming Catholicism" says, "The Episcopal Church, by virtue of its tradition and position, has, as no other, I am venturing to say, the opportunity and the call to become the mediating Church among all the churches." Yes, that is a noble tribute to this Church, and it is noble because it is true. The Episcopal Church is strong just because of its tradition, which is founded upon the Bible, the word of God. At every ordination the candidate asserts his faith that the Holy Scriptures contain all things necessary to salvation. The Episcopal Church has never elaborated doctrines, which can not be proved from the Bible, and its strength to-day lies in the simplicity and appealing power of its traditions preserved for it in the Book of Common Prayer. When we are asked to-day to adopt in our Constitution a declaration inconsistent with this faith, we must demur. Unity will come only through truth. If the doctrines of the Prayer Book, not named in the Proposed Preamble, are true, then we must teach them as essential to the sufficient statement of our faith.

In love and humility, with a frank confession where we have failed in truth, with an earnest and cordial co-operation with all Christians, we must, as a Church, continue to teach the truth in our tradition and hold open our door that we may welcome all within our home. But when the man, weary with the world and its dissensions and its sins, comes home to rest, he must not find its chambers bare or some of its most precious treasures banished from within its walls.

Amid the darkening shadows which gather around the Church's path, we know not what may come, but we must pray that this Church will continue to hold fast to the Apostles' doctrine and fellowship and that God will hasten the time, when we shall all come into the unity of faith, and the knowledge of the Son of God.

Obituaries

The following Bishops have, during the Convention year just closing, passed into the other Life:

The Rt. Rev. Henry C. Potter, D.D., LL.D., who was consecrated in 1883, and to whose rare qualities of courage and discernment and of grace, springing from a kindly heart, I would gladly bear witness to-day; the Rt. Rev. Edward Jennings Knight, D.D., who served only a few months as Bishop of the Missionary District of Western Colorado, and has left behind the memory of a brave soldier of Jesus Christ; the Rt. Rev. George D. Gillespie, D.D., Bishop of Western Michigan, consecrated in 1875 and, during all these years, exerting a strong influence for truth and righteousness in the important field of which he had been made Overseer.

Two of the Clergy have fallen from the ranks by death:

The Rev. George Downing Sparks was, for many years, the Rector of Christ Church, West Islip. He was a priest of high ideals and attainments; not gifted with a strong constitution, nevertheless he never faltered in his duty, or permitted physical weariness to check his zeal. His training was that of a scholar. His mind was stored with the rich treasures of Biblical learning, which he knew how to impart so as to charm the attention and arouse the conscience. Four years ago, he preached in the Cathedral the annual Diocesan Convention sermon, and all who heard it must remember the strong note of warning on the dangers which beset the Church. His last months were spent in a patient struggle after renewed health, and when he died it was as a faithful servant entering into the joy of his Lord.

The Rev. William Hyde was priested by Bishop Alonzo Potter in 1868. He was Assistant Minister in Christ Church, Brooklyn, and afterwards Chaplain at the Church Charity Foundation. During the last years of his life he lived in retirement, doing occasional duty for others. His life was hid in Christ with God.

Of the laity it is right that I should mention Mr. W. H. Beckwith, of Trinity Parish, Greenport, who served faithfully on the Social Service Committee, and Mrs. Josephine G. Lord, who was the efficient Chairman of the Auxiliary of the Queens and Nassau Archdeaconry.

Nor can I leave unmentioned the death of George C. Thomas, the Treasurer of the Board of Missions, a man whose wisdom and generosity, whose strong faith and deep-seated charity, made him truly great.

We beseech Thee, O God, that we, with all those who are departed in the true faith of Thy Holy Name, may have our perfect consummation and bliss, both in body and soul, in Thy eternal and everlasting glory.

During the year there was a change in the rectorship. The present rector began his work in mid-winter. There has been an entire reorganization of the work of the parish. Hitherto special offerings for missions and diocesan purposes have been made mostly during the winter; hereafter, they will be made during the summer when the congregations are very much larger. In consequence there is only a partial report on diocesan and general expenditures. This change will not mean a decrease, but a material increase in the giving of this parish, and within the next two or three months the apparent deficiencies will be more than made up.

The notice of the annual election shall also specify the name and term of office of each churchwarden and vestryman whose term of office shall then expire, or whose office shall then be vacant for any cause, and the office for which each such officer is to be then elected. The notice of a special meeting shall specify the matter or question to be brought before such meeting, and no matter or question not specified in such notice shall be acted on at such meeting.

The presiding officer of such annual or special meeting shall be the rector of the parish, if there be one, or if there be none, or he be absent, one of the churchwardens elected for the purpose by a majority of the duly qualified voters present, or if no churchwarden be present, a vestryman elected in like manner. Such presiding officer shall be the judge of the qualifications of the voters; shall receive the votes cast; and shall declare the result of the votes cast. The presiding officer of such annual or special meeting shall enter the proceedings of the meeting in the book of the minutes of the vestry, sign his name thereto, and offer the same to as many qualified voters present as he shall think fit, to be also signed by them.

Only men of full age belonging to the parish, who have been regular attendants at its worship and contributors to its support for at least twelve months prior to such election or special meeting, or since the establishment of such parish, shall be qualified voters at any such election or special meeting. The action of an annual or special meeting upon any matter or question shall be decided by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. The polls of an election shall continue open for one hour, and longer in the discretion of the presiding officer, or, if required, by a vote of a majority of the qualified voters present and voting.

The churchwardens and vestrymen shall be elected by ballot from persons qualified to vote at such election, and no person shall be eligible for election as churchwarden, unless he be also a communicant in the Protestant Episcopal Church, nor be eligible for election as vestryman, unless he shall have been baptized.

At each annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish hereafter incorporated, one churchwarden shall be elected to hold office for two years; and one-third of the total number of the vestrymen of the parish shall be elected to hold office for three years. At each annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church heretofore incorporated, two churchwardens and the total number of its vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for one year thereafter, unless the terms of office of but one churchwarden or of but one-third of its vestrymen shall then expire, in which case one churchwarden shall be elected to hold office for two years, and one-third of the total number of its vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for three years. Each church-warden and vestryman shall hold office after the expiration of his term until his successor shall be chosen (Laws 1906, ch. 525).

§ 34. CHANGING THE NUMBER OF VESTRYMEN OF PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL PARISHES HEREAFTER INCORPORATED.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish hereafter incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the number of vestrymen of such parish be changed to either three, six, nine, twelve, fifteen, eighteen, twenty-one or twenty-four vestrymen, notice of such recommendation shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, or in the notice of a special meeting to be held not less than six months before the time fixed for holding the next annual election thereafter, and be submitted to such annual or special meeting. If such recommendation be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof, and at least two qualified voters present thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry, the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election, or with the notice of such special meeting as the case may be, that the meeting had ratified the same; and the number of vestrymen so decided on. Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded, and such change in the number of vestrymen shall take effect at the time of the next annual election thereafter.

If the number of vestrymen be thereby increased, then, in addition to the number of vestrymen to be elected at such annual election, one-third of such increased number of vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for one year thereafter; one-third of such increased number shall be elected to hold office for two years thereafter, and one-third of such increased number shall be elected to hold office for three years thereafter.

If the number of vestrymen by such change be reduced, such reduction shall not affect the term of office of any vestryman duly elected, and at such next annual election, and at each annual election thereafter, one-third of such reduced number of vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for three years (Laws 1906, ch. 525).

§ 35. CHANGING DATE OF ANNUAL ELECTION. NUMBER AND TERMS OF OFFICE OF VESTRYMEN AND TERMS OF OFFICE OF CHURCHWARDENS IN PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCHES HERETOFORE INCORPORATED.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish, heretofore incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the date of the annual election be changed to a secular day in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, or that the number of vestrymen be changed to three, six, nine, twelve, fifteen, eighteen, twenty-one or twenty-four, and that the terms of office of the churchwardens be changed so that one warden shall be elected annually, notice of such recommendation or recommendations shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, or in the notice of a special meeting to be held not less than six months before the time fixed for holding the next annual election thereafter, and be submitted to such annual or special meeting. If such recommendation or recommendations be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof and at least two qualified voters present thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry; the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of the annual election, or with the notice of the special meeting as the case may be; that such meeting had ratified the same; the date determined upon for the annual election of the parish; the number of vestrymen so decided on; and the fact that the meeting determined to thereafter elect churchwardens, so that the term of one warden shall expire annually.

Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded. If the meeting determine to change the date of the annual election, the next annual election shall be held on the day in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, determined on at such meeting, and the terms of the vestrymen and churchwardens which, pursuant to law, would expire at the next annual election shall expire, and their successors shall be elected on such day.

If the meeting determine to change the number of vestrymen and manner of electing wardens and vestrymen, there shall be elected at the first annual election thereafter, one-third of the number of vestrymen so determined on, to hold office for three years; one-third thereof to hold office for two years; and one-third thereof to hold office for one year; and one churchwarden to hold office for one year, and one to hold for two years; and thereafter at the annual election there shall be elected one-third of the number of vestrymen determined on at such meeting and one churchwarden. Any Protestant Episcopal parish, heretofore incorporated, which has changed the number of its vestrymen and the manner of electing wardens and vestrymen pursuant to the provisions of this section, may make further change in the number of its vestrymen in the manner provided in section thirty-four of the act (Laws 1906, ch. 525).

§ 36. CHANGING THE QUALIFICATIONS OF VOTERS AND THE QUALIFICATIONS OF WARDENS AND VESTRYMEN.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish, heretofore incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the qualifications of voters and the qualifications of wardens and vestrymen be changed to conform in both cases to the requirement of section thirty-three of this statute, notice of such recommendation or recommendations shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation or recommendations be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof and at least two qualified voters present thereat shall exeute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry, the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election, and that the meeting had ratified the same.

Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded (Laws 1898, ch. 358).

The evidence of their appointment shall be a certificate signed by the Dean, or the Precentor if the Dean is absent, and by the recording officer.

Of Parish Boundaries.

SECTION I.—The parish boundaries, as defined by the laws of the State of New York, of the four parishes of St. George's, Flushing; Grace, Jamaica; St. James', Newtown; and St. George's, Hempstead, are limited and established by the terms of their several charters.

SEC. II.—All other parish boundaries in this Diocese are and shall be the limits as now fixed by law, of any village, town, township, incorporated borough, city, ward of a city, or the limits of some division thereof, which may have been recognized or which shall hereafter be recognized by the Bishop, acting with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee.

And in case of their being no Bishop, in the Ecclesiastical Authority; Provided, that in all cases where the Standing Committee shall act alone, there may be an appeal made to the next Diocesan Convention.

SEC. IV.—Nothing contained in this Canon shall affect any legal rights of property of any parish.

CANON 4.

Of the Convention.

SECTION I.—Of the Call of the Convention.

[1.] At least three weeks before a Convention is held the Secretary shall mail a written or printed notice of the time and place thereof directed to each Minister, who by the "Record or List of Ministers in the Diocese" is entitled to a seat therein, to the Chapter of the Cathedral and to the Vestry or Trustees of each Church or Congregation entitled to appoint Lay Delegates thereto named in the "List of Churches or Congregations in Union with the Church in this Diocese."

Whenever a Special Convention is to be held, such notice shall specify the purpose for which it is called, and no business other than that so specified shall be transacted.

[2.] At least five days before the time specified in the call for a Convention, the Cathedral and any Church or Congregation appointing Lay Delegates to the Convention shall file the certificate of appointment as provided in Canon 2, with the Secretary, who shall prepare a list of such Delegates and place it before the Convention on the first day of its meeting. Irregular or defective certificates, and certificates and documents relating to contested seats shall be reported by the Secretary to the Convention when organized for its action.

SEC. II.—Of a Quorum.

[1.] The presence of at least fifteen Clergymen entitled to vote in the Convention, and of Delegates from at least fifteen Churches or Congregations, shall be necessary for the transaction of business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day.

SEC. III.—Of Organizing the Convention.

[1.] The Bishop, or in his absence, the Bishop Coadjutor, shall call those presenting themselves to order. If neither the Bishop nor the Bishop Coadjutor are present the Presbyter present who has been longest canonically resident in the Diocese shall take the chair and preside until a President shall be elected.

[2.] The Secretary shall call over the names of the Ministers entitled to seats from the Record or List of Ministers in the Diocese, and of the Lay Delegates so entitled from the list provided for in [2] of Section I. of this Canon.

[3.] A canonical quorum of fifteen Clergymen and Delegates from fifteen Churches or Congregations being present, the Bishop, or in his absence, the Bishop Coadjutor, if present, shall declare the Convention duly organized. If neither the Bishop nor the Bishop Coadjutor are present, the temporary President shall direct that the members proceed to vote for a President, as provided for in Article V. of the Constitution, which election shall be by ballot. The President elected shall declare the Convention organized for business.

[4.] The Convention shall then take action upon the irregular or defective certificates of appointment of Lay Delegates, and certificates and documents relating to contested seats reported by the Secretary.

[5.] The Convention shall then proceed to the election, by ballot, of a Secretary. He may nominate an Assistant Secretary for choice by the Convention.

[6.] The rules of order in force at the preceding Convention, so far as they are applicable to the preliminary proceedings for the organization of the Convention, shall be deemed in force for that purpose; and the said rules of order shall regulate the proceedings, after the organization, until altered by the Convention.

SEC. IV.—The Secretary.

[1.] In addition to the offices and duties elsewhere declared, the Secretary shall transmit annually to each of the Bishops of this Church, and to the Secretary of every Diocesan Convention, a copy of the Journal of the Convention, and shall request the Secretaries of the Diocesan Convention to send copies of their respective Journals in exchange.

[2.] He shall also transmit to the Secretary of the House of Deputies the documents and certified copy of the testimonials mentioned in [ii] of Section I. of Canon 46 of The Canons, and also forward a duplicate copy of such testimonials to the Standing Committee of the Diocese, in which the General Convention is next to meet. He shall also transmit to such Secretary the documents and lists mentioned in Section II. of Canon 47 of The Canons.

[3.] Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of Secretary of the Convention, or he shall be unable to act, the duties shall devolve upon the Assistant Secretary, if there be one; if not, upon the Secretary of the Standing Committee.

SEC. V.—The Treasurer.

[1.] At every stated Convention there shall be chosen by ballot a Treasurer, who shall remain in office until the next stated Convention, and until a successor is appointed. It shall be his duty to receive all moneys collected under the authority of the Convention, and to disburse them by the same authority; and where no disbursement has been ordered by the Convention, under the direction of the Standing Committee.

[2.] His accounts shall be rendered annually to the Convention, and shall be examined by a Committee appointed by it.

[3.] In case of a vacancy in the office of Treasurer, it shall be supplied by the Standing Committee; and the person appointed by such Committee shall continue to act until an appointment is made by the Convention.

SEC. VI.—Of Elections.

Elections by ballot, when required by the Canons, may be dispensed with by a unanimous vote of the Convention; and when the election is by ballot, a majority of the votes in each order, upon concurrent ballot, shall be necessary to a valid election.

SEC. VII.—Of the Admission of a Church into Union, and of Maintaining such Union.

[1.] To entitle a Church to admission into union with the Church in this Diocese, the Vestry or Trustees respectively shall submit to the Convention or to a Committee appointed by it, the Certificate or Act of Incorporation or a copy thereof, certified by the officer whose duty it is, or may be, to record or file certificates of incorporation of Religious Societies.

[2.] There shall also be submitted a certificate of the Ecclesiastical Authority, that the incorporation of such Church was approved before such act of incorporation, and that such Church is duly and satisfactorily established.

[3.] Satisfactory testimony, by certificate of the Rector or Churchwarden, or the principal officer of a Board of Trustees, or otherwise, shall also be given, that not less than twenty-five persons of legal age, members of such Church, have habitually, for at least six months preceding such application, attended divine service in such Church or Congregation.

[4.] The application for admission shall be in writing and shall be accompanied with a copy of a resolution adopted by the Vestry, Congregation or Trustees respectively, that such Church agrees to abide by and conform to the Constitution, Canons, Rules and Orders in force within this Diocese. Such copy shall be certified by the Secretary or Clerk, and be authenticated by the seal of the Corporation. This application, with the documents required as above, shall be sent to the Secretary of the Convention, that they may be communicated to the Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches at least thirty days before the meeting of the Convention.

[5.] The Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches shall make their report on the application to the Convention with their recommendations thereon immediately after the Secretary has been elected. The report shall be acted upon before the adjournment of the Convention. If the Convention by a majority vote shall grant the application, the Church or Congregation shall be declared by the President to have been duly received into union with the Church in this Diocese.

[6.] Whenever any Church in union shall neglect, for three years in succession, to make a parochial report (no missionary report being made on its behalf), or shall not, during the same period, have employed a clergyman as its Parish Minister, nor requested of the Ecclesiastical Authority the services of a Missionary, such Church shall be regarded as having forfeited its connection with the Convention, and shall no longer have a right to send Delegates to the same. The Bishop shall report such Church to the Convention in his annual address, stating whether, in his judgment, after legal advice of the Lay Assessor of the Ecclesiastical Court and the Church Advocate, such Church has or has not for any cause become extinct in fact.

[7.] Such Church, however, upon proof satisfactory to the Ecclesiastical Authority that it has continued its corporate existence, may be readmitted upon an application to the Convention, accompanied with a report of its conditions, and on such terms as shall appear just; such readmission to take place from and after the rising of the Convention consenting to it.

[8.] Whenever any Church shall be thus reported as extinct by the death or removal of its members, or by ceasing to act in its corporate capacity and to keep up the services of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Convention shall declare the same to be extinct, and may instruct the trustees of the Estate belonging to the Diocese of Long Island, to apply to the proper authorities for an order and decree of the dissolution of the same.

CANON 5.

Of the Standing Committee.

Whereas, by Article IV. of the Constitution, it is required that there shall be a Standing Committee, to be appointed by the Convention in each Diocese, whose rights and duties, except as provided in The Constitution and The Canons may be prescribed by the Canons of the respective Diocese; therefore it is, in addition to The Constitution and The Canons, declared and prescribed as follows:

[1.] There shall be a Standing Committee to consist of four of the Clergy and four of the Laity elected by the Convention and divided into two classes, so that one of the Clergy and one of the Laity shall go out of office annually, and the two vacancies thus made shall be filled by an election by ballot and by the concurrent vote of the members of each order at every stated meeting of the Convention, of one of each order to serve for four years.

[2.] Vacancies in said Committee, occurring by death or otherwise, shall be supplied by the concurrent vote of the Clerical and Lay members of the Committee until the meeting of the next Convention, when they shall be filled by an election by ballot.

In all other cases they shall act as one body, without distinction of orders, except when otherwise directed by the Canons of the General Convention.

SEC. II.—The Bishop of the Diocese and the Standing Committee are the Trustees of the Estate belonging to the Diocese of Long Island; and they and their successors in office are hereby elected and constituted by the said title, Trustees, under the Act, Chapter 110 of the Laws of the State of New York, passed April 11, 1876, which is hereby adopted, with all powers conferred by said Act.

Until otherwise ordered, the said Trustees are restrained from the exercise of such powers, properties and trusts as are committed to the officers and committees of this Convention, already appointed and existing.

SEC. III.—In case of a vacancy in the Episcopate, or of the inability or disability of the Bishop, the powers and duties to be performed by him, in matters of discipline, shall be performed by the Standing Committee, except in those cases where such powers and duties are or may be specially delegated to or enjoined upon the Clerical members of such Committee, in which case they shall be exercised by such Clerical members alone; provided, that no sentence shall be pronounced on a Clergyman but by a Bishop.

CANON 6.

Of Deputies to the General Convention.

SECTION I.—The Convention shall, at each regular annual meeting next preceding a stated meeting of the General Convention, elect, by the concurrent ballot of the Clerical and Lay members, four Clergymen and four Laymen as deputies to the General Convention from this Diocese. It shall, also, in like manner, elect four Clergymen and four Laymen as provisional deputies, to act in the cases hereafter mentioned. Such deputies and provisional deputies shall hold their respective stations until successors are appointed, and shall be deputies or provisional deputies for any General Convention which may be held during their continuance in office.

SEC. II.—Upon any vacancy occurring, by resignation, removal from the Diocese, death, or otherwise, among the deputies, or provisional deputies, between the stated times of election, the vacancy shall be supplied by any Convention during which or prior to which such vacancy shall occur.

SEC. III.—It shall be the duty of the deputies-elect to signify to the Bishop, at least ten days before the meeting of the General Convention, their acceptance of the appointment, and their intention to discharge its duties, in default of which, the Bishop shall designate, from the list of provisional deputies, so many as may be necessary to insure, as far as practicable, a full representation of the Diocese. The Bishop shall, in like manner, designate from the same list of provisional deputies, one or more, is the case may be, to supply any deficiency in the representation of the Diocese, which may in any way occur. The person or persons so designated, being furnished with a certificate of appointment, shall have all the power and authority of deputies duly elected by the Convention.

CANON 7.

Of the Registrar and Historiographer.

SECTION I.—The journals, files, papers, reports and other documents, which, under the Canons or otherwise, shall become the property of this Convention, shall be committed to the keeping of a Presbyter to be elected by it, and who shall be known as the Registrar and Historiographer of the Diocese of Long Island.

SEC. II.—It shall be his duty to procure all such journals, files, papers, reports, copies of charters and acts of incorporation of Churches and other documents, which may be of value in the history of this Diocese, to arrange, label, file, index and otherwise put in order, and provide for the safe keeping of the same, and all such others as may hereafter come into his possession, in some safe and accessible place of deposit, and to hold the same, under such regulations and restrictions as this Convention may from time to time provide.

SEC. III.—It shall be his duty, also, to secure a proper and sufficient Book of Record, and enter therein a record of the consecration of all the Bishops of this Diocese, designating accurately the time and place of the same, with the names of the consecrating Bishops, and of others present and assisting; to record a list of all the Presbyters and Deacons, and the dates of their connection with this Diocese, and copies, of the charters and acts of incorporation of Churches in the same, with such additional facts as may be worthy of safe keeping in the archives of this Diocese.

CANON 8.

Of the Episcopal Fund.

SECTION I.—[1.] The Fund for the support of the Episcopate in this Diocese now provided, together with what may hereafter be contributed or acquired, and any accumulation from the investment thereof, shall be intrusted to the Trustees of the Fund for the support of the Episcopate.

[2.] Such Trustees shall be five in number, and shall be appointed by and hold their offices during the pleasure of the Convention, which shall fill up such vacancies. Vacancies, however, occurring during a recess of the Convention, may be filled by the remaining Trustees, to be reported to and approved by the Convention.

SEC. II.—[1.] It shall be the duty of every Rector or Minister having charge of a Parish or Congregation in this Diocese, to cause an annual collection or contribution to be made in aid of the Fund for the support of the Episcopate, and in case of a vacant Parish, the duty shall devolve upon the Wardens and Vestrymen.

[2.] The amount received shall be paid to the Treasurer of the said Trustees, and shall be reported by them to the next Convention, at a stated meeting, and shall be entered on its Journal.

[3.] The moneys thus raised shall be kept by the Trustees in a regular course of accumulation without diminution, until by such accumulation it shall amount to at least one hundred thousand dollars, or until the Convention shall otherwise direct.

[4.] The interest or income of the Fund shall be subject to the order of the Convention.

SEC. III.—[1.] All moneys belonging to such Fund shall be loaned by the said Trustees upon security of real estate, or invested in stock of the United States, or of the State of New York, or of the City of New York, or any Railroad Bonds, approved by the unanimous vote of the Trustees. All securities, when practicable, shall be taken in the corporate name. The Trustees may, from time to time, change such investments.

[2.] A statement exhibiting the condition of the said Fund and securities, together with all receipts and disbursements, shall be reported to the Convention at every stated meeting thereof, signed by the Trustees, or a majority of them.

CANON 9.

Of the Diocesan Fund.

SECTION I.—Whereas, it is indispensable to provide a fund for defraying the necessary expenses of the Convention, it is therefore required of every Congregation in this Diocese to pay to the Treasurer of the Convention, on or before the day of its annual meeting, a contribution of not less than 1 per cent. on the amount of salary of its Clergyman, which fund shall be appropriated in part by a Committee of the Convention to said expenses.

SEC. II.—And whereas, by Section V. of Canon 46, of The Canons, it is made the duty of the several Diocesan Conventions to forward to the Treasurer of the General Convention, at each meeting of the same, three dollars for each Minister within the Diocese, for the purpose of paying the contingent expenses of the said Convention; therefore it shall be the duty of the Committee upon the Diocesan Fund to retain annually, out of the moneys received by them, one dollar for each Clergyman in this Diocese. The amount thus retained shall be paid by the Treasurer of the Convention to the Treasurer of the General Convention, at each meeting of the same.

SEC. III.—It shall be the duty of the Treasurer of the Diocese to pay to the deputies to the General Convention an amount sufficient to cover their transportation and their expenses not to exceed three dollars per day.

CANON 10.

Of the Missionary Operations of the Diocese.

SECTION I.—The corporation organized by Special Act of the Legislature in 1902 under the name of "The Diocesan Missions of Long Island" is hereby recognized as a Diocesan institution, for which provision is recommended to be made. It shall present at each annual Convention a report of its financial condition, showing its receipts and expenditures of money for the preceding year, and all property received or accepted by it in trust, or otherwise, and giving an account of all work done by it.

SEC. II.—The Diocese shall be divided into four districts to be called "Archdeaconries," as follows, viz.:

[1.] The Northern Archdeaconry of the Borough of Brooklyn, including all that part of Kings County lying north of a line running from the river up the middle of Montague Street, to Fulton, to Flatbush Avenue, to Atlantic Avenue, to Franklin Avenue, south to Flatbush Avenue, to Jamaica Bay.

[2.] The Southern Archdeaconry of the Borough of Brooklyn, including all that part of the city and suburbs lying south of said line.

[3.] The Archdeaconry of Queens and Nassau, comprising Queens County and Nassau County.

[4.] The Archdeaconry of Suffolk, comprising Suffolk County.

SEC. III.—Each Archdeaconry shall be composed of the Clergy resident within its limits, together with three Laymen from each Parish, appointed annually by the Rector, or Minister-in-charge, or in his absence by the Vestry, to serve until the sitting of the next Convention, and one Lay Delegate from each Chapel or Mission Station not represented in the Convention and having fifteen or more regular communicants, to be appointed by the Minister of said Chapel from among its Laity.

For the purposes of this Canon, Clergymen shall be considered to be resident in that Archdeaconry where their work is located. But this Canon shall not be construed so as to exclude from membership Clergymen resident within the limits of the Archdeaconry and canonically resident in the Diocese, who are officers of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and those engaged as professors or instructors of youth in any College, Academy or General Seminary of learning duly incorporated.

At its first regular meeting, and every fourth year thereafter, each Archdeaconry, as constituted above, shall nominate to the Bishop for his approval or rejection a Clergyman to fill the office of Archdeacon, whose duty shall be, in the absence of the Bishop, to preside at all meetings and to perform the other functions of the office as hereinafter provided. His term of office shall be for four years from the time of his appointment, and until his successor shall be nominated and approved. In case the office should become vacant by death or resignation, a special meeting of the Archdeaconry shall be convened by the Bishop, and the said Archdeaconry shall proceed at once to the filling of the office in the manner provided above.

SEC. IV.—The Convention shall annually elect one Layman from each of said Archdeaconries, as a Trustee of "The Diocesan Missions of Long Island," and shall further elect, as Trustees of that corporation, two Clergymen and two Laymen at large. The persons so elected as Trustees of the Diocesan Missions of Long Island shall, together with the Trustees of the corporation, who hold office ex officio, constitute the Missionary Committee of the Diocese, of which Committee the Bishop shall, ex officio, be the head.

SEC. V.—The Missionary Committee thus constituted and created shall have the management of missionary operations of the Diocese and the control of the funds raised for Missionaries.

It shall have for its officers the corresponding officers of "The Diocesan Missions of Long Island."

It shall receive annually from the several Archdeaconries full reports of their work, and with the aid of said reports it shall make a full annual report to the Diocesan Convention, giving an account of all the work done by it and moneys raised and expended by it within the limits of the Diocese. It shall meet as soon as convenient after the adjournment of the Diocesan Convention, at which meeting, after completing its organization, it shall designate the amounts derived from each Archdeaconry, and allot the amount to be expended in each Archdeaconry, and shall at once notify the secretaries of the several Archdeaconries of its action; such designation and allotment to be based in a general way upon the reports of the previous year. Its fiscal year shall end at the meeting of the Missionary Committee next preceding the Diocesan Convention, said meeting to be not less than five days before such Convention.

SEC. VI.—It shall be the duty of the Archdeacon to take the oversight of the missionary work in the Archdeaconry—with the exception of Cathedral and Parochial Chapels. He shall confer with the Bishop as to plans and details, and with the Clergy within the limits of whose parishes missionary work may be proposed or is being conducted. He shall survey the ground, and propose, as occasion offers, plans of operations, and in case such plans be adopted by the Archdeaconry, awaken, as far as opportunity can be found, an interest therein on the part of the congregations. Each Archdeaconry shall annually present a report of the condition and progress of the missionary work within its limits to the Missionary Committee of the Diocese, in time for said Committee to make its report to the Convention. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer of each Archdeaconry to receive contributions from the parishes and to forward the same to the Treasury of the Missionary Committee of the Diocese.

and to keep and account for the money of the Archdeaconry, paying out any such sums as he shall be authorized to pay by a regular meeting.

[1.] It shall be the duty of every rector or minister having charge of a parish or congregation in this diocese, to cause an annual collection, offering, or contribution to be made in aid of the fund for Diocesan Missions, and in case of a parish without a clergyman the duty shall devolve on the wardens and vestrymen.

SEC. VII.—Each Archdeaconry shall, in open meeting, under the advice of the Bishop, and with the consent of the Clergy within the limit of whose parishes missionary work may be proposed, conduct the missionary work within its own limits; shall have control and distribution of the money allotted to it by the Missionary Committee, in aid of mission stations and feeble parishes; shall apportion for collection among its parishes and missions the sums from time to time so allotted; and may, at its discretion, with the approval of the Bishop, undertake special missionary work within its limits, and raise funds for such purposes; provided it shall first have met the assessments made upon it by the Missionary Committee.

SEC. VIII.—Each Archdeaconry shall hold, at least twice annually, stated meetings for the transaction of its business, and no apportionments or appropriations shall be made except at those meetings. The time and place of such meetings shall be fixed by the vote or by-laws of each Archdeaconry.

It shall be the duty of each Clergyman, unless prevented by grave and reasonable causes, to attend the regular meetings of the Archdeaconry, and to report all missionary work done in his cure. It shall be competent for each Archdeaconry to arrange, by by-laws or otherwise, such a programme for devotional, business and social exercises as shall in their judgment tend to the profit and pleasure of the meetings.

SEC. IX.—No Missionary Station shall be established or Missionary appointed except with the concurrence of the Bishop. The Bishop, together with the Archdeacon, shall have the power to remove any Missionary; six months' notice having been given to the Missionary. No appropriation shall be made by the Missionary Committee or by any Archdeaconry in aid of any organized parish, except on application of the wardens and vestrymen of said parish, with the written consent and approval of the Minister, if there be one.

SEC. X.—[1.] The Northern Archdeaconry of the Borough of Brooklyn and the Southern Archdeaconry of the Borough of Brooklyn, shall nominate annually to the Bishop of the Diocese for his approval or rejection, a clergyman to fill the office of General Missionary of Brooklyn, who, upon appointment by the Bishop, shall take oversight of the missionary work in the said Archdeaconries, with the exception of the Cathedral and Parochial Chapels, and generally perform in said Archdeaconries the duties assigned by Section VI. of this Canon to an Archdeacon.

[2.] His term of office shall be one year from the time of his appointment.

[3.] During the incumbency of such General Missionary, the two Archdeaconries shall meet together, and the work therein and the funds therefor may be consolidated and administered as though the two Archdeaconries constituted a single Archdeaconry. At such meetings the Bishop of the Diocese shall, if he be present, preside, and in his absence the Archdeacon of the Archdeaconry within the limit of which the meeting is held shall preside.

[4.] The two Archdeaconries may adopt by-laws for their governance in matters of joint interest.

SECTION I.—[1.] Two lay trustees shall be appointed annually by the Convention, who, with the Bishop and one Clergymen, to be chosen by the Convention, and the Treasurer of the Convention, shall constitute a Board, to be called The Trustees of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen, whose duty it shall be to receive applications for relief and to apply the interest of said Fund according to such rules and principles as the said Trustees shall adopt, to be submitted to the Convention for its revision and approval.

[2.] Vacancies occurring in the number of the Trustees, during the recess of the Convention, may be supplied by the remaining Trustees.

[3.] All contributions or donations for this object shall be transmitted to the Treasurer of the Convention, and funds not needed for current use shall be invested and held in trust by such Trustees.

SEC. II.—[1.] Two clerical and three lay trustees shall be annually appointed by the Convention, who, with the Bishop, shall constitute a board to be called the Trustees of the Fund for the Families of Deceased Clergymen, whose duty it shall be to receive applications for relief and to apply said Fund according to such rules and principles as the said Trustees shall adopt, to be submitted to the Convention for its revision and approval.

[2.] It is hereby declared to be the duty of every Congregation in this Diocese to make an annual collection, to be paid to the Trustees of said Fund, who shall hold and apply the same to the relief of the families of deceased clergymen of this Diocese. It is recommended that such collection be made on the annual Thanksgiving Day or the Sunday next before, or next following.

[3.] Vacancies occurring in the number of the Trustees during the recess of the Convention may be filled by the remaining Trustees.

[4.] All contributions or donations for this object shall be transmitted to the Treasurer of the Fund, and funds not needed for current use shall be invested and held in trust by the Trustees.

CANON 12.

Of the Clergymen's Pension and Retirement Fund.

SECTION I.—Two clerical and three lay trustees shall be annually appointed by the Convention, who shall constitute a board to be known as the Trustees of the Clergymen's Pension and Retirement Fund, whose duty it shall be to receive and hold in trust all money, contributed or donated for this Fund, and to administer the same in accordance with the provisions of this Canon.

SEC. II.—Vacancies in the board, occurring during the recess of the Convention, may be filled by the remaining members of the board.

SEC. III.—All contributions or donations for this object shall be transmitted to the Treasurer of the Fund, and funds not needed for current use shall be invested and held in trust by such Trustees.

SEC. V.—All clergymen of the Diocese in good standing who have reached the age of at least 65 years, and have, as clergyman, given the fifteen preceding years to continuous service of the Church in this Diocese, in parochial or missionary work, and during the same period have been canonically resident in this Diocese, on retiring from regular work, shall receive in quarterly payments equal shares of the available money of this Fund. But in no case shall the quarterly payment to any one clergyman exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars.

CANON 13.

SECTION I.—The Church Charity Foundation of Long Island is hereby recognized as a Diocesan institution, for which provision is recommended to be made, so that each Congregation in the Diocese may make an annual contribution thereto.

SEC. II.—There shall be a Standing Committee appointed annually by the Bishop, whose duty it shall be to prepare and present to the Convention a digest of all reports relating to the Foundation and other benevolent institutions of the Church.

CANON 14.

There shall be a standing committee to be known as The Social Service Committee, consisting of the Bishop as its ex officio head, and one clergyman and one layman from each Archdeaconry, and six clergymen and six laymen at large. Its duty shall be to carry into effect, as far as may be, any measure, or measures, recommended by the Diocesan Convention for the betterment of social conditions in the Diocese.

OF DISCIPLINE.

CANON 15.

Of the Ecclesiastical Court.

SECTION I.—There shall be an Ecclesiastical Court for the Diocese of Long Island, to try any Clergyman thereof upon charges. It shall consist of seven Presbyters, members of the Convention, and a Layman learned in the law, a communicant of the Church, of good reputation for gravity and soundness in the faith, to act as adviser to the Court, without a voice. No member of the Standing Committee shall be a member of this Court. They shall be appointed biennially by the Bishop, by and with advice and consent of the Diocesan Convention and shall continue in office two years, and until their successors are chosen, unless sooner removed by vote of the Convention.

SEC. II.—When vacancies occur, they shall be filled in the same manner for the residue of the term; but if the Convention be not then in session, the Bishop, with the consent of the remaining members of the Court, shall fill such vacancy by an appointment, which shall continue until the next meeting of the Convention.

SEC. III.—At any trial the Lay Assessor and five clerical members of the Court must be present; and if a less number be present, they shall adjourn from day to day till a quorum be present.

In case the Lay Assessor is absent, or unable to participate in a trial, or disqualified by reason of interest or otherwise, or if for any reason a quorum of the Court cannot be obtained, a special appointment or appointments sufficient to constitute a full Court, shall, at the request of the members of the Court who are present and qualified, be made for the occasion, as is hereinbefore provided, for filling vacancies. The accused may then reject two of these if he desires. Should a Lay Assessor be thus appointed and rejected, another shall be appointed as before, and the Court thus constituted shall proceed with the trial.

SEC. IV.—Upon the question of guilt or innocence of the accused, or upon the final decision of the cause, the Clerical members of the Court only shall vote.

They shall anticipate the opening of the sitting of the Court, in any case, by the reception of the Holy Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and remember ever that the power committed to them is to be exercised without pride, prejudice or passion.

SEC. V.—The Court shall transact its business in accordance with the Canons of the Church and such rules as it may make for its own guidance.

SEC. VI.—There shall be an officer of the Court, to be called the Church Advocate, who shall be a Layman learned in the law. It shall be his duty to prepare the charges and conduct the trial on behalf of the Church. He shall be the legal adviser of the Ecclesiastical Authority, and give his opinion when called upon on legal questions. The accused may have counsel to aid in his defence. The Church Advocate and counsel for the accused shall be communicants of the Church, of good reputation for gravity and soundness in the faith.

SEC. VII.—The Court shall choose a Clerk, to hold office during its pleasure. He shall keep a record of its proceedings, of convictions and sentences, and preserve the testimony taken on trials.

CANON 16.

Of Confession before Trial.

SECTION I.—Whenever a Clergyman is accused of offences, either by public rumor or reliable information, charges shall be prepared without regard to form, but containing the substance of the offence alleged, with reasonable certainty as to the time, place and circumstances, and delivered to the accused.

SEC. II.—Whenever a Clergyman thus accused, or against whom charges are preferred, as hereinafter provided, shall, before the first session of the Court summoned to try the cause, voluntarily confess himself to the Bishop to be guilty of the offence alleged, the Bishop shall, in the presence of the Standing Committee, pronounce such sentence as he may judge proper, and cause the same, with the accusation reduced to form and the confession annexed, to be recorded by the Clerk of the Court.

CANON 17.

Of Charges and Presentments.

SECTION I.—Charges against a Clergyman for any triable offence shall be made in writing, addressed to the Standing Committee, and be delivered to its President. They must be signed by a majority of the members of the Vestry of the Parish or Church of which the accused is Rector or Minister, or by seven male communicants of this Church, who are not of such Parish or Church, and two of whom shall be Presbyters.

SEC. II.—When the accused is not connected with any Church or Parish, the charges may be signed by any three Presbyters and three Lay Communicants of the Diocese, or by seven Lay Communicants.

SEC. III.—If the offence consists in teaching or preaching publicly and advisedly heresy or heretical doctrine, or doctrines contrary to those of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, a presentment, with specifications of the nature, time and place of such offence, shall be made, signed by three Presbyters of the Church canonically resident within the Diocese, and delivered to the President of the Standing Committee.

SEC. IV.—Whenever the Bishop shall, either from his own observation, or from any information which he shall deem worthy of notice, have reason to believe that there are grounds for an investigation into the conduct of any Clergyman of this Diocese, according to Section I. of Canon 23 of The Canons, he shall, at his discretion, convene the Standing Committee, and lay before them the information in his possession.

SEC. V.—Whenever the Standing Committee, or a majority of them, shall, from any information so laid before them by the Bishop, or from any other information which they, or a majority of them, may think worthy of notice, or from charges made to them as hereinbefore specified, be of opinion that it is proper that a judicial investigation of the conduct of any Clergyman of this Diocese should take place, they, with the consent of the Bishop shall cause a general statement of the facts of the case to be made and delivered to the Church Advocate.

CANON 18.

Of Limitation.

SECTION I.—No presentment shall be sustained in any case unless the offence be alleged and proved to have been committed within three years next before the day on which the charges are delivered to the Church Advocate, as hereinafter mentioned.

CANON 19.

Of the Preliminary Proceedings.

SECTION I.—Whenever it is determined to bring to trial any Clergyman of this Diocese, the Standing Committee shall notify the Church Advocate, and direct him to proceed with the same.

SEC. II.—He shall thereupon prepare charges and specifications, containing the substance of the offence alleged, with reasonable certainty as to time, place and circumstances. But no variance between an allegation and proof shall be regarded if the accused has not been misled or prejudiced thereby. The style of the charge or charges shall be:

"Articles or charges against.....exhibited on behalf of the Church to the Bishop of the Diocese of Long Island, by.....acting as Church Advocate, in consequence of a presentment made to the said Bishop by the Standing Committee of the said Diocese."

He shall immediately deliver two copies of the charges and specifications signed by him to the Bishop, who shall cause one of them, with a notice of the time and place of trial (which he shall prescribe) to be served on the accused personally, or left at his place of abode, at least thirty days before the time appointed for trial.

SEC. III.—The Bishop shall also issue a precept, directed to all the members of the Ecclesiastical Court, requiring them to proceed to the trial of the accused, at the prescribed time and place, which precept, together with the other copy of the charges signed by the Church Advocate, shall be transmitted to the President of the Court, whose duty it shall be, on receipt of the same, to cause all the members of the Court to be summoned to meet at the prescribed time and place.

SEC. IV.—If the accused shall neglect to attend at the time and place appointed for the meeting of the Court, which is convened to try him, after due notice given to him, the President of the Court shall report the fact to the Bishop, who shall thereupon suspend such Clergyman from the exercise of the ministry for contumacy, until he shall appear and demand a trial. If he shall not apply for a trial within three months, the Bishop shall pronounce such sentence as would be proper upon a conviction for the offense alleged.

SEC. V.—Any resort to a civil court, on the part of the accused, for the purpose of impeding, delaying, or averting the trial, shall be treated as contumacy, and the Bishop shall thereupon suspend such Clergyman from the exercise of the ministry for contumacy, until he appear and demand a trial.

CANON 20.

Of Trial.

SECTION I.—The accused, on appearance, shall be called upon to say whether he is guilty or not guilty of the offense charged in the presentment. He may thereupon except, in writing, to the sufficiency of the presentment, or any part thereof, or to all or any of the specifications therein, and such exceptions shall be heard and disposed of by the Court.

SEC. II.—If no exceptions are taken, or they are overruled, or only so far allowed as to leave substantial ground for trial, the same shall proceed. If the accused refuse or neglect to plead to the presentment, the Court shall enter the plea of not guilty for him, and proceed with the trial. The accused may attend, produce his testimony, and make his defence as advised.

SEC. III.—All testimony shall be given on oath or affirmation. The manner of conducting the trial, and the rules of evidence, unless otherwise provided by the Canons of the Church, shall be the same as in the Law Courts of the State of New York, so far as applicable. The Court may adjourn from time to time, not exceeding one week at one adjournment, for the purpose of procuring testimony or furthering the ends of justice.

SEC. IV.—Proceedings in a trial shall be private, unless the accused, ten days before the trial, shall demand in writing that the same be public.

SEC. V.—In case there is reason to suppose that the attendance of a necessary witness cannot be had on trial, either party may, at any time after the presentment is served, on five days' notice to the other, apply to the Lay Assessor to appoint a Commissioner to take the deposition of such witness. The party so applying shall accompany his application with the interrogatories proposed to be propounded to the witness. The Lay Assessor shall then appoint a Commissioner, and fix a time and place to settle the interrogatories before him, at which time and place the other party shall, if he desires, present cross-interrogatories; and further interrogatories may be added with the approbation of the Lay Assessor, and a reasonable time allowed for that purpose, if the Lay Assessor shall deem it necessary or proper. The Lay Assessor shall then transmit the deposition with the interrogatories annexed, to the Commissioner, who shall take the testimony under oath or affirmation, as provided by the laws of the State where taken, and certify the same and transmit it, properly sealed and secured, to the President of the Court. The deposition so taken shall be read upon the trial, subject to all exceptions that would avail if such witnesses were examined.

SEC. VI.—All notices and papers to be served on the accused, after the presentment, may be served on his counsel, and all papers to be served on the prosecutors shall be served on the Church Advocate. Such service may be made by leaving the same with such advocate or counsel personally, or at his place of residence or business, or such service may be made by mail, by depositing the notice or paper, properly folded and enveloped, in the Post Office, directed to the said counsel or advocate, at his place of residence or business, and prepaying the postage. But in case of service by mail, three days' additional time shall be allowed for transmission and receipt.

SEC. VII.—If the person to be served with any presentment, notice or paper has departed from the United States, it shall be sufficient service thereof to leave a copy at his last place of abode within the United States, sixty days before the day on which his appearance or other act required by such notice or paper is to be performed. If his last place of abode cannot be ascertained, a publication of a copy in a public newspaper, printed at the seat of government of the State or Territory in which he last resided, shall be sufficient.

SEC. VIII.—The Court, having fully heard the allegations and proofs of the parties, and deliberately considered the same after the parties have withdrawn, the Lay Assessor shall deliver an opinion in writing of the law and facts of the case, in matters not strictly theological. The Clerical members of the Court shall then declare respectively whether, in their opinion, the accused is guilty or not guilty of each particular charge and specification contained in the presentment, in the order in which they are set forth; and the accused shall be considered as not guilty of every charge and specification of which he shall not be pronounced guilty by a unanimous vote of the Clerical members of the Court.

SEC. IX.—On the final question whether the accused is guilty or not guilty, no member of the Court shall be permitted to vote, or be considered present, who shall not have been present at the delivery of all the testimony. Unless the accused be found guilty he shall be deemed acquitted.

SEC. X.—Whenever a trial shall fail by the negligence of any Clerical member or members, the President of the Court shall report the names and the facts of such negligence to the next ensuing Convention of the Diocese.

SEC. XI.—The decision of the Court as to each and all the charges and specifications shall be reduced to writing and signed by the Court. Such decision or decisions shall be regarded as the judgment of the Court. In case of a judgment of guilty on any charge, the Court shall state also the sentence which, in its opinion, ought to be pronounced.

CANON 21.

Of Ecclesiastical Sentences.

SECTION I.—All proceedings within this Diocese, the result of which may involve a subjection to Canonical sentence, must be ultimately revised and determined, and all sentences pronounced by the Bishop. In case of a vacancy in the Episcopate, the Standing Committee shall call in the Bishop of some other Diocese, who shall be requested, and is hereby authorized, to act therein, and proceed in the same manner as the Bishop of this Diocese would be authorized to do.

SEC. II.—The Bishop, having received the judgment of the Court, it shall be his duty to inform the accused of the sentence thereof and call upon him to show reason, if any, why the judgment should not be sustained. He may receive from him any statement in mitigation of sentence.

SEC. III.—The Bishop having reviewed and adjudged upon the case, shall proceed to pronounce such sentence as may be proper, not exceeding in severity that recommended by the Court. Such sentence shall be pronounced in the presence of any three Presbyters of the Diocese, after notice to the party of the time and place appointed therefor, and publicly in a Church, or privately, as the Bishop shall determine.

SEC. IV.—A copy of a sentence of suspension shall be sent to the accused, and another to the Vestry or Vestries of the Church or Churches with which he may be canonically connected and such other publicity may be given to it as the Bishop may think expedient.

SEC. V.—The Ecclesiastical Authority, after the final decision, shall transmit all the papers, with such decision, to the Clerk of the Court, whose duty it shall be to record an abstract of the proceedings, including the final judgment and sentence in full, in a book kept for that purpose.

CANON 22.

Of Differences between Ministers and Congregations.

SECTION I.—[1.] In cases of controversy between any Rector or Assistant Minister of any Church or Parish, and the Vestry, Trustees, or Congregation thereof, which cannot be settled by the parties themselves, and is such as to injure the peace and prosperity of the Parish or the Church, the said parties, or either of them, may make a written application to the Ecclesiastical Authority for decision thereupon.

[2.] The parties may agree upon a written statement of facts, and submit the same. If not agreed upon, the application must contain a statement setting forth in substance the ground or grounds on which the interference is sought. A copy of such papers shall be served upon the other party with ten days' notice of the intention to present them. An answer in writing shall be made and delivered.

[3.] When a statement is agreed upon, or no answer is made, or the case shall clearly appear to require no further inquiry as to facts, the Ecclesiastical Authority shall pass upon the same, and if a dissolution of the pastoral relation be deemed necessary, may recommend to such Pastor or Minister to relinquish his titles, on such conditions as shall appear reasonable.

[4.] Whenever further inquiry shall be deemed expedient, or if, when an answer is filed, either party shall demand it, the Ecclesiastical Authority, being a Bishop, shall transmit the papers to the Standing Committee, for action upon the same.

SEC. II.—[1.] The Standing Committee in such case, as well as when the application is to said Committee as the Ecclesiastical Authority, shall thereupon designate three of its members, one of whom shall be a Layman, to inquire into the facts and take evidence thereon. Ten days' notice of the time and place where such inquiry is to be held shall be given to each party. The testimony so taken shall be reported to the Standing Committee, who, after considering the same, shall recommend to the Bishop such action as they deem proper to be taken in the premises.

[2.] The Bishop, if he approves the recommendation of the Standing Committee, shall declare a final judgment in accordance therewith, giving ten days' notice to each party of the time and place of announcing the same.

SEC. III.—[1.] If the final judgment in any case be a recommendation that the pastoral relations be dissolved, and that titles be relinquished by the Minister, and he shall refuse to comply with the same within thirty days after the decision shall be made known to him, the Bishop may proceed to declare the canonical dissolution of all connection between the parties.

[2.] And if the Vestry or Congregation refuse or neglect to comply on their part with such decision or judgment, the Church shall be prohibited from a representation in the Diocesan Convention until they submit thereto.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

CANON 23.

Of Parish Registers and Parochial Reports.

SECTION I.—[1.] According to Section III of Canon 15 of The Canons, each Clergyman of this Church shall keep a Register of baptisms, confirmations, communicants, marriages and funerals within his cure, agreeably to such rules as may be provided by the Constitution of the Diocese where his cure lies.

[2.] The Register so to be kept by him shall specify the name, place and time of the birth of the child baptized, with the names of the parents and sponsors; the name of the adult baptized, and the names of the witnesses; the names of the parties married; the names of the persons buried, and also the time when each rite was performed.

[3.] These entries shall be made by the Minister in a book to be provided for that purpose, belonging to the Vestry of each Church, which book shall be the Parish Register, and shall be preserved by the Vestry as a part of the records of the Church.

[4.] This list of communicants shall embrace all within the Minister's cure, as nearly as can be ascertained; and he shall also keep a list of all the families and adult persons within his cure, as far as practicable; and also an accurate list of the persons confirmed, from time to time, by the Bishop.

SEC. II.—Every Minister of this Church shall present, or cause to be delivered, on or before the first day of every Annual Convention, to the Bishop of the Diocese, or, if there be no Bishop, to the President of the Convention, a statement of the number of baptisms, confirmations, marriages and funerals, the number of communicants, the contributions for Diocesan, Missionary and other Church objects, in his Parish, and any other matters that may throw light on the state of the same; and in reporting the number of communicants he shall distinguish the additions, removals and deaths since the last report.

CANON 24.

Of Vacant Parishes.

Whenever a Parish becomes vacant it shall be the duty of the Vestry to give immediate notice thereof to the Ecclesiastical Authority.

CANON 25.

Of Repealed Canons.

Whenever there shall be a repealing clause in any Canon, and such Canon shall be repealed, such repeal shall not be a re-enactment of the Canon or Canons repealed by the said repealing clause.

CANON 26.

Of the Repeal, Amendment and Enactment of New Canons.

SECTION I.—In all cases of future enactment, the same, if by way of amendment of an existing provision, shall be in the following form: "Canon —, (or Section —, of Canon —, or Clause —, of Section —, of Canon —,) of Article —, is hereby amended so as to read as follows." And if the enactment is of an additional Clause, Section, or Canon, it shall be designated as the next Canon, or next Section, or next Clause of a Canon or Section, in the order of numbering of the Article to which the subject properly belongs. If a Canon, or Section, or Clause be stricken out, the existing numbering shall be retained until a new edition of the Canons be directed.

SEC. II.—The Secretary, with any one of the Committee on Canons, selected by such Committee, shall at the close of each session of the Convention, certify the changes made in the Canons, and the Secretary shall print the same in the Journal.

CANON 27.

Of Amendments of the Canons.

The Canons may be altered, or new Canons may be added at the Annual Convention, after one day's notice, by the vote of two-thirds of the members present.

The undersigned, in accordance with Section II of Canon 26, hereby certify that the foregoing Constitution and Canons are a true copy of the same, as originally adopted by the Convention, with the subsequent additions and amendments.

REESE F. ALSOP,

Chairman of the Committee on Canons.

ROBERT ROGERS,

IX. The mode of conducting the stated Elections by ballot shall be as follows:

Immediately after nominations are closed on the first day, the Secretary shall prepare all ballots for the several offices and committees to be filled, containing the names of all persons nominated therefor, in alphabetical order, and stating the number of names to be voted for such office or committee, which ballots shall be on the Secretary's desk, for distribution at the opening of the Convention on the second day.

Voters shall prepare their ballots by striking out the names of those for whom they do not vote, leaving uncanceled not more than the number to be elected by the ballot voted.

Nothing herein shall prevent the voting of any ballot that may be presented.

No ballot shall be counted by the Inspectors which contains more names uncanceled than the number required to fill the office or committee for which the ballot is cast.

X. No Motion shall be considered as before the Convention unless seconded, and, when required, reduced to writing.

XI. When a question is before the Convention, no Motion, except as hereinafter provided, shall be received, but to lay it on the table, to postpone it indefinitely, to postpone it to a certain time, to commit it or to amend it; which motions shall have precedence in the order named. But a motion to strike out the word "Resolved" shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be equivalent to a rejection of the Resolution.

XII. All Amendments shall be considered in the order in which they are received. When a proposed amendment is under consideration, a motion to amend the same may be made; no after amendment to such Amendment shall be in order.

XIII. A Motion to lay on the table shall be decided without debate.

XIV. A Motion to adjourn shall always be in order, when no member is speaking, and shall be decided without debate. A motion to fix the hour or day to which the Convention shall adjourn takes precedence of a Motion to adjourn, and shall be decided without debate.

XV. The mover may withdraw a motion or Resolution at any time before decision or Amendment, in which case it shall not be entered upon the Minutes.

XVI. If a Question under debate contain several distinct propositions, the same shall be divided, at the request of any member, and a vote taken separately.

XVIII. Every member present shall vote whenever a Question is put, unless excused by the Convention on account of his being personally interested in the result, or for other cause.

XIX. The Votes shall be taken by Ayes and Noes, and by Orders, whenever called for by five members.

Rules of Order.

xlvii

XXI. A Question being decided, shall not be reconsidered during the same session, without the consent of two-thirds of the members present, or without the Motion for that purpose being made by one of the majority on the first decision. No Question shall be reconsidered more than once.

XXII. All Special Committees shall be appointed by the President, unless otherwise ordered.

XXIII. The Reports of all Committees shall be in writing, and shall be received, of course, without motion for acceptance. They shall be entered on the Minutes, unless otherwise ordered. If recommending or requiring any action or expression of opinion by the Convention, they shall be accompanied by a Resolution or Resolutions for its consideration.

XXIV. When a member is called to order by the President or another member, he shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain. All Questions of order shall be determined in the first instance by the President; but any member may appeal from any decision of the Chair; and on such appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the Convention.

XXV. All Questions relating to priority of business shall be decided without debate.

XXVI. The prescribed Order of Business shall not be departed from, nor shall any Rule of Order be suspended, unless by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

XXVII. The majority of a Quorum shall always be required to elect any officer.
